DEATH FROM LOCKJAW.—George W McVittie, 18 years of age, died at Hamilton, Ont, last week from lockjaw. A nail ran into his foot.

A BIG POTATO.—Last week a potato grown on the farm of Mr Geo S Wilson, of Cambridge, was placed on our own table. It was dug on July 1st, and weighed 9 ounces.—Gagetown Gazette.

ST ANNE DE BEAUPRE.—It is said that 2,000 people visited the Shrine of St Anne de Beaupre, Quebec, on Sunday of last week. There were 900 visitors on the Monday following.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT.—Before J. T. Mellish, Esq., J. P., four assault cases were disposed of last week. Two persons were fined, and in two cases the complaints were dismissed. All the parties live in the Royalty.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—A strange story comes from Middleton, N Y. John Kane, a farmer, in a conversation with a friend about the causes of death, said: "I hope when my time comes I'll go suddenly, and I'd prefer to be struck by lightning." While at work in a field a day or two later Kane was struck by lightning and killed.

ON THE 28TH.—All pleasure-seekers should remember the date of the League of the Cross picnic at Midgell. It will be held on the beautiful grounds of Mr Battersby, known as Battersby's Park. Fishing, bathing and beautiful scenery are all to be obtained there. The usual games and amusements will be on the grounds. Don't forget to attend.

AN OLD COIN.—Mr. Christopher P. Gallagher, a Bangor, Me., grocer, recently discovered in his collection of old coins what appears to be an American silver dollar of the coinage of 1804, said to be worth about $1,100. Where, or when he got it, Mr. Gallagher does not know, but he's glad to have the old dollar, and is now negotiating for its sale to a New York collector.

A VERY NICE QUESTION.—Colonel Bullen, sessions judge of Bassein, has puzzled the jail authorities. In a recent case in which a woman was stabbed in an abduction case the sessions judge sentenced the criminal to undergo four years' rigorous imprisonment for abduction and to be hanged on the capital charge. The criminal has appealed and among the grounds of appeal raised it is seriously pointed out that the learned sessions judge omitted to specify which punishment should be carried out first, the hanging or the imprisonment.—Advocate of Inda, Bombay.

AN OLD NEWSPAPER.—The Fourth of July number of the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post has been received. With the new volume the paper begins its one hundred and seventy-first year, making it the oldest weekly publication in the United States it having originally been founded by Benjamin Franklin in 1728. The contents of the number before us include a sketch of the first Fourth of July, showing Independence Hall as it was in the days of '76, and an article descriptive of a fourth of July at the North Pole. There are also several interesting stories and other readable matter. The Post is published weekly at 425 Arch Street, Philadelphia. The subscription price is $2.50 per annum or 5 cents per copy.

We beg to advise the public generally that we have disposed of our entire stock in trade to parties whose advertisement will appear in due course.

We take this opportunity of sincerely thanking our many customers and patrons for the liberal patronage we have received from them during the past twenty-three years.

PEPPER IN OLDEN TIMES.

Dr. Adolph Miller, of Philadelphia, president of the Pennsylvania Mycological Club, in a dissertation on the pepper plant, says that during the middle ages, in Europe, pepper was the most esteemed and important of all the spices. Greece, Venice and other commercial cities of central Europe were indebted to their traffic in pepper for a large part of their wealth. Its importance as a means of promoting commercial activity and civilization during the middle ages can hardly be overrated. Tribute was levied in pepper, and donations were made in this spice which was frequently also used as a medium in place of money. When the imperial city of Rome was besieged by Alaric, the king of the Goths, in 495, A.D., the ransom demanded included 5,000 pounds of gold, 30,000 pounds of silver and 3,000 pounds of pepper; illustrating the importance of this spice at that time.

NO GROG IN THEIR NAVY.

The practice of serving out a ration of grog daily to United States man-of-war's men was discontinued many years ago. It was found to be a bad scheme. While most of the men were able to use the rum in moderation, it was found that there were many of the bluejackets in whom the service of ration of liquor only served to stimulate an appetite for more, and who, after imbibing the ship's grog, would "hit the beach," embark upon sizeable spree and get into scrapes both ashore and aboard ship when they returned to duty more or less shaky. When these facts were satisfactorily proved, the serving out of grog to United States man-of-war's men was discontinued. Sailors in all of the others of the world's great navies still receive their daily grog.

The fact probably does not prove anything, but the writer, who has seen man-of-war's men of all nations on tumultuous shore liberty in quite a few ports of the world, has yet to see a French, Italian or Spanish bluejacket thrash a British man-of-war's man in a fair stand up fight, such as heavy weather men of the navy are bound to mix up in when engaged in hitting the beach. The reason why the fact probably proves nothing is that the American man-of-war's man, who gets no grog at all aboard his fighting packet, also invariably contrives to chew up his Latin antagonist in a naval uniform.

The only thing that the average old time American bluejacket likes better in a port on the China station, say, than a fight with a French, Italian or Spanish man-of-war's man, is a fight with three or four of 'em put together. The Latin sailors may scratch him up a bit with their finger nails—their methods of fighting may be judged from this fact—but when the cops, otherwise the gendarmes, appear on the scene—to get mauled around a heap themselves in many cases—they generally have a few laid out south European deep water men to sort out of the dust.—Exchange.
