Governor to the Deputation appointed at the Fort Augustus Meeting, on the 4th inst., and adopt such other measures as circumstances may demand. Senator Haythorne, Messrs. P. Sinclair, Dr. Jenkins, F. Brecken, and the members of both branches of the Legislature are invited to attend.

THE KNIFE AND PISTOL.—The brigantine 'Minnie,' discharging oats at the Market wharf, was the scene of a somewhat stirring episode at the breakefast hour, in which a sheath knife and pistol was threateningly brandished. It appears that the cook (a colored man) got into ill grace among the crew through not having a supply of soft bread for breakfast, and was somewhat warmly spoken to by a yonng able seaman, who used epithets not found in the dictionary. This led to a scrimmage between the two, the cook throwing a stick at the seaman, and taking out a sheath knife in readiness to use in 'defense.' The young sailor wishing to impress the cook with the idea that the crew were 'Christians, and not pigs,' and must be fed accordingly, hit upon a pistol as the most effective instructor, and also in self-defence, threatened to fire at the cook. The latter summoned the former at the Police Court, and witnesses were examined; and it being evident that the parties were equally to b ame, the case was dismissed, the youth with the pistol having to pay costs of summons.—Hx. Reporter.

FRENCH CLAIMS IN NEWFOUNDLAND.—The St. John's correspondent of the Hx. Citizen writes:—

"I observe a paragraph going the rounds of the press, taken from the Cologne 'Gazette, to the effect that the French were to renounce all their claims in connection with Newfoundland on condition of receiving from Britain, in exchange, certain possessions on the coast of Africa. The news I fear is too good to be true. Our government has not been advised of any such arrangement, and surely they would be the first to hear it were it a reality. The Hon. C. F. Bennet has recently returned from England, where he has spent the last six months, and his report is of a cheering character. He is strongly of opinion that the Imperial Government have taken the matter up in earnest, and with a view of asserting and vindicating the rights of Newfoundland, as opposed to the preposterous claims of the French. Mr. Bennet is perhaps better acquainted with the whole question than any other man, having been for many years engaged in urging our claims in a thoroughly patriotic manner, and having long since mastered the whole facts of the case. He has had much correspondence on the subject during his stay in England, and he is quite sanguine that now, at length, justice will be done us. His opinion is entitled to great weight. Mr. Bennet has remained in vigorous health and will lead the Opposition as usual during the coming session of the Legislature. I believe he is now in his 55th year, and he is a wonderful example of the 'sound mind in the sound body,' at such an advanced age. His mine at Tilt Cove is becoming more valuable every year. The Nickel ore sells in England now at £140 per ton for the first quality, and £80 for the second, and the vein now worked is the largest ever discovered.

ISLANDERS ABROAD.—The success of the Island students abroad may well be said to be remarkable. At the most famous seats of learning in Canada, the United States and Scotland, Island students have greatly distinguished themselves. This honorable distinction they have gained has no doubt been due in urgent measure to their own industry and capacity for learning; but it is also due to a great extent to the excellency of the Prince of Wales' College as a preparatory institution. For preparatory students for a successful career at Universities it is not too much to say that the Prince of Wales' College cannot be surpassed in the Dominion. Indeed we doubt if there is another institution in Canada that can for the last ten or twelve years show so splendid a record in this respect. The above remarks have been suggseted by a paragraph in one of our exchanges in which the great proficiency shown by an Island student at the Christmas Examination of McGill College is recorded. Mr. D. Ross, of Uigg entered the above College as a second years's student at the opening of the present session in September last. This by itself would be no mean distinction since none but students of considerable attainments and promise are ever allowed such a privilege. But Mr. Ross not only gained this privilege but also carried, on entering the College, the very highest prizes open to competition by students of his year. At the Christmas Examination he was first in Latin, Greek and Honors, Mathematics, Moral Philosopy and Logic, and second in French. Mr. Ross was a fellow-student of Mr. Jacob Schurman's at the Prince of Wales' College, having gained one of the Scholarships for Queen's County at the same time that Mr. Schurman gained one for this County. Both of them have made excellent use of their opportunities; but that these opportunities were good their subsequent success leaves no room to doubt.—Sum. Journal.

CORRESPONDENCE.

SENATOR HOWLAN IN REPLY TO THE MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR.

To the Editor of the Montreal Gazette.

SIR,—Owing to the irregularity of our winter mails, your issue of the 30th November did not reach me until a few days since.

I notice therein a letter from the Hon. David Laird, Minister of the Interior, wherein he endeavours to exonerate himself from the charges made against him by Sir John A. McDonald and Dr. Tupper, to the effect that the framing of the clause for this Island in the Election Bill was for the purpose of depriving the Roman Catholics of their votes.

Before proceeding further permit me to say, for the information of your numerous readers, that this Island being almost entirely a leasehold country, a great deal of undue influence was used at elections by landlords and their agents, to counteract which our Franchise was made a manhood sufferage, under certain restrictions; that this suffrage is dear to every Islander, and that no public man can to-day in any part of Prince Edward Island be elected, advocating its repeal; that Mr. Laird himself had not a vote at 21; and that his election with that of his colleagues were run on it; and that when he dared attempt to destroy it, he did that which throughout this Island, thousands will not soon forget.

In Charlottetown, the Capital of this Province, which forms part of Mr. Laird's district, where the laboring classes are nearly all Roman Catholics, he received 462 votes out of 1430 votes polled, and notwithstanding his boasting, he won his election by only about 340, in a vote of 6000 for the whole country.

Now let us see how that City would count under Mr. Laird's new Law. In 1872 an election was run for the Legislative Council between the Hon. L. C. Owen, the present Premier of the Island, and the Hon. T. W. Dodd, who still holds the seat, when, as Mr. Laird will remember, every exertion was used, and every vote was polled, the return stood as follows: Owen 170, Dodd 302, making in all 472 votes under the £100 property qualification, whilst the votes under the Franchise Law, upon which he ran his own election, the vote polled was 1430.

It can be seen from the above statement that Mr Laird and his party would have a large majority in their favor, instead of the large majority against them in Charlottetown as the law now stands.

But now let us look further and see how it would operate throughout this Island generally.

At the last Dominion Election in which there was a contest, the votes polled were as follows:

Queen's County	6182
King's "	3850
Prince "	3800
Making a total of	13,832

Whilst the votes polled for the Legislative Council were as follows:—

Queen's County	1602
King's "	1987
Prince "	1411
Making a total of	5000

In the first place Mr. Laird justifies his alteration of the law by asserting that the two Catholic members of the House of Commons supported it; but you will search in vain in the Parliamentary Reporter for one word in support of this statement—and I cannot help stating here that notwithstanding the importunities of Mr. Laird and his colleague not one of the Island Senators would assist him in this nefarious transaction.

He also gives us as a reason that it would be easier to make voting lists, if the £100 property was used. But the very reverse is the fact; for those voting under the Franchise must produce to the returning officer a certificate duly signed by the overseer of the Road District in which they reside, that they have either performed their statute labor on the public highways, or have paid a commutation in money, whilst in the election of Legislative Councillors the only test is the oath of the owner of the land, the value of which in many instances, such as new farms, it is difficult to ascertain. But what a reason this is to come from one of the great reformers! That because it was easier, he would destroy the cherished privileges of nine thousand his fellow Islanders, rather than appropriate a few hundred dollars for the purpose of providing for the registration of votes.

In Mr. Laird's County the Roman Catholics are of, chiefly, two nationalities—the hardy French Acadien fishermen of Rustico and the faithful Irish people of Charlottetown and surrounding country—who never did support Mr. Laird, and I presume he had strong doubts that they never would.

The foregoing facts are my justification for the opinion I gave to Sir John A. MacDonald and Dr. Tupper, and fully prove their statements on the subject, and I now as then, firmly believe that Mr. Laird concocted the obnoxious clause for the purpose of injuring his political opponents and destroying the Catholic vote, not only of his County but also of the whole Island.

I remain, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HOWLAN.

Alberton, Jan. 7, 1876.

For the Examiner.

PUBLIC MEETING AT STURGEON.

Pursuant to previous notice a meeting was held on the 5th inst., at the Sturgeon Schoolhouse, to consider the local wants of the district, and the proposed South Branch of Railroad.

The meeting was organized by appointing Mr. Adam Wight to the chair, and the undersigned secretary. M. Rowe, Esq., M. P. P., being called upon made a short speech, in which he said he would carry out the wishes of his constituents or else resign his seat, but thought it was not his place at this stage of the meeting to give his private opinion about the South Branch Railroad.

Mr. S. Patterson, teacher, next addressed the meeting in a speech of considerable length, and showed that railways were a means of opening up a country, that where they exist the people are educated, enlightened and intelligent, but where there are none the contrary is the case. He advocated a branch from Murray Harbor to Southport in strong terms. He said companies were the proper parties to build railroads, and thought the local government could grant a subsidy out of interest received from the Dominion Government, but if it caused taxation it would only amount to 12½ cents per head of the population of the island. He proposed another plan, which is to do away with the Legislative Council, and reduce the members of the lower house to fifteen. He said that from Murray Harbor to Cape George was the proper place for the winter steamer to run.

Dr. Robertson followed, he believed the people were taxed and lost their independence to build a bogus railway. Thought if our present railway had been built as it ought to have been, the local government could have given a subsidy. He read a publication from the Argus of Dec. 28th, showing that the sum of $325,000 would need to be spent next year to keep it in working order, and believed it was still under protest, and in the face of such facts we had better pause, before undertaking any more branches. He thought too, that the winter steamer should run from Murray Harbor to Cape George.

D. McDonald, M. L. C., thought a subsidy could not be granted out of interest received from the Dominion Government, as the Local Government have had to finish the present road, and believes they have no way to raise the money but by direct taxation. He thought if Murray Harbor is to be the place for the winter steamer to run the Dominion Government ought to build the road.

Austin McDonald, Esq., said Mr. Peterson had spoken much to the point, and believes if this branch was properly represented to the Dominion Government they would build it. He also approved of the winter steamer running from Murray Harbor to Cape George, and says it can never run in winter from Cape Traverse. He differs from Dr. Robertson about our railroad being a bogus road.

Mr. M. Rowe then showed from the journals of the House that there is not more than $200,000 now from which the local government can draw interest, and that our present railroad was taken under a protest which included the fence, and believes it is still under protest.

The following resolution was then moved by John Collings, Esq., and seconded by Mr John French.

Whereas, petitions have been signed asking the Local Government for a subsidy of $5000, to a company to build a branch railroad from Southport to Murray Harbor.

Therefore Resolved, that this meeting is against any grant that would entail taxation upon the island.

Moved by John Jamieson, seconded by John O'Connor.

Resolved, that unless the Dominion Government, or a company, build and run the branch railroads asked for, this meeting is decidedly against any such branches.

Both resolutions were carried by a large majority. A vote of thanks was then given to our representatives present, and to the chairman of the meeting, the meeting then adjourned.

J. A. BEVIS, Secretary.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. T. Stewart pays about $120,000 in taxes on his real estate in New york city. His wholesale store is assessed at $1,150,000, and taxed $30,200; his retail store, assessed at $850,000, pays $32,000, and he $16,800 tax on his house on 5th avenue, which is assessed at $600,000.

'Forest and Stream' describes a curious race of sheep living on an island in Englishmen's Bay, on the coast of Maine. They are nearly as wild as deer. Their principal winter food is seaweed, chiefly dulce; they also eat the branches of nearly all the trees which grow on the island.

Besides the investigation by the Council of Ministers, there is another Beecher inquiry threatening the peace of newspaper readers. Mr. Beecher having withdrawn his suit against Mr. Moulton for libel, the latter has instituted proceedings against the clergyman for malicious prosecution. General Butler is expected to be Moulton's council. The indictments for perjury against Moulton, which were found on Beecher's oath, and were not tried at his request or the basis of the suit, in which the damages are laid at $50,000. A trial, it is said will be pressed at once, and it is promised that the suit will fully clear up the scandal—a fact about which the public will feel rather sceptical.

It appears from a cablegram in yesterday's issue that there is in the possession of the Prussian Government an infernal machine similar in construction to that of Thomassen. It was offered during the war by a New York man for the destruction of the French fleet, but the authorities did not believe absolutely that all was fair in war, and declined the offer. It is thought however, that the man who offered the machine for sale must have been a confederate of Thomassen. A paragraph in yesterday's cable news also states that the widow Thomasen handed over all the correspondence of her husband. With the clue furnished by the former fact—if fact at all, and the information presumably given in correspondence, there seems a strong probability that the German Government will be able to trace out and punish any confederates in Thomassen's crime. The terrible affair has cast a gloom over the whole civilized world, and there is but one feeling in regard to parties concerned in it—that they should suffer the extreme penalty the terrible nature of the crime entails. The box which Thomassen endeavored to insure purporting to contain $30,000 in gold coin, and which he shipped on board the Celtic, intending to destroy the vessel, was opened a few days ago in New York, and found to contain only a few bags of shot. Thomassen, baulked in his effort to insure, was compelled to go as passenger, and on landing in New York represented the box to contain cartridges to be used by him in a hunting tour. He asked permission to leave the box at the storehouse of the White Star line, and there it has since remained until Thursday last, when it was taken charge of by the New York police officers.

THE DROWNED NUNS.—One of the saddest incidents of the Deutschland disaster, when so many human beings found a watery grave, was the perishing of the five nuns who were passengers on the ill-fated steamer. They belonged to the Franciscan nunnery in Westphalia, and when their deaths became known it was resolved by the authorities of the Roman Catholic Church in London to give the bodies solemn burial. For this purpose two Franciscian Fathers were despatched to Harwich, and the bodies were despatched to London. On reaching Stratford they were delivered over to the care of the nuns at the Convent of Jesus and Mary, who prepared their dead sisters for burial. The nuns were wearing, with a slight variation, the dress common to the order; as there was found on each dress the number assigned to a nun in making her profession of religion, all will in this way be identified. After being made ready the bodies lay in state for two days. The coffins lay side by side upon a raised dais; lighted candles were placed beside the coffins, while vases of flowers and wreathes of immortelles were grouped at the heads and feet. Upon both days large numbers of people visited the place, all of whom appeared to be prompted by feelings of devotion. The deceased appeared to be between the age of 30 and 40, and their faces were an expression of calmness and resignation. Their figures were clasped upon a rosary and crucifix; upon the breast of each lay a cross of white flowers. One was the lady who, by standing on a table in the saloon, when the ship was sinking, was able to thrust her body through the skylight, and kept exclaiming, in a voice heard by those on the rigging above the roar of the storm, 'My God, my God, make haste.' Cardinal Manning delivered a funeral oration over the deceased, after which they were interred in St. Patrick's Catholic Cemetry, Leytonstone.

The Greatest Medical Discovery OF THE AGE!

After lengthened experiments,

Dr. Samuel La'Mert,

of 15 Gower Street, Bedford, Square London, has discovered an infallible remedy in all cases of Nervous and Physical Debility, Spermatorrhœa, and Impotence, the results of Solitary Habits, excess or infection. The treatment is based on experience acquired during more than twenty-five years successful practice, and has rarely been found to fail.
