ACTUAL CEASE-FIRE

Continued from page 1 preliminary discussion of the basic issues. However, a short warning against over-optimism for an early end of the 15-month-old war was issued by Gen. Matthew Ridgway's United Nations advance headquarters.

"It is much too early to predict either the success or the rate of progress to be obtained," said the headquarters communique.

At present there is a wide divergence of views, it stated. There are "numerous basic points" on which agreement must be found before hostilities can end.

Further, the communique warned: "It must be fully realized that mutual acceptance of the agenda is merely the initial step toward the final goal of a military armistice and resultant cease-fire."

In Washington, State Secretary Dean Acheson said that if the armistice talks should collapse "we should be ready for major Communist assault."

In seeking an armistice, the U. N. and Red delegations have agreed to discuss these points:

1. Adopt an agenda — which they did immediately.

2. Fix a military demarcation line and establish a demilitarized zone between the two belligerents. This buffer zone would be a basic condition for ending hostilities.

3. Make firm arrangements for realization of a cease-fire and armistice in Korea, including the composition, authority and function of a supervising organization for carrying out the terms of the cease-fire.

4. Make arrangements relating to the exchange of prisoners of war.

5. Make recommendations to the governments of the countries concerned on both sides. This last item apparently covered future discussion of the Communist demands that all foreign troops be withdrawn from Korea "as a practical condition" for a final peace.

CENTRAL GUARDIAN Gives Up Attempt To Form Gov't

PARIS, July 26 (Reuters)—Georges Bidault of the Mouvement Republicain Populaire today gave up an attempt to form a coalition government—only a few hours after accepting the task from President Vincent Auriol.

Bidault, a former Premier, is the fourth man to report failure in 16 days.

The snag in the way of agreement is the Socialist's refusal to join a coalition unless they are promised a wage scale geared to the cost of living and no state aid for Catholic schools.

Earlier today Rene Mayer, 56-year-old Radical Party leader, reported failure. He was 73 votes short of the majority of 314 needed for acceptance by the National Assembly.

Others who have tried and failed to form the government are Robert Schuman and Maurice Peseche. Candidates for the next year: former-Premiers Paul Reynaud, Rene Pleven and Henri Queuille.

U. S. May Ban Dairy Imports

FREDERICTON, July 26 (CP)—Proposed United States legislation to ban dairy imports if they impaired domestic production would have little effect on the New Brunswick dairy industry under present conditions, a provincial government official said today.

J. F. Sutherland, director of the New Brunswick Dairy Service and secretary of the New Brunswick Dairy Products Commission, said this province was making only small dairy exports to the States.

Cheese factories were being kept busy supplying the requirements of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Nevertheless, the proposed legislation would effect the Canadian dairy industry generally by cutting off both potential and actual markets.

Returns From Camp At Augustine Cove

Fifty campers from various parts of the province wended their way homeward from the Boys' Camp at Augustine Cove, under the direction of the Maritime Religious Education Council. JUDGMENT OF

Continued from page 1 served as senior counsel, assisted by Mr. D. L. Matheson, K. C., for the defence, protested that the one on which the accused was tried was the lesser of two offences in the same category and he opposed the suggestion of a severe penalty. He did not think there should be different sentences for different people convicted under the same charge. He suggested to the Court that the minimum penalty be named.

Judge Trainor said he agreed with the defence on the matter of two offences; if they were divisible he must give consideration to the penalty. However, he said, a fine imposed is a punishment imposed. Fines for a beggar, or a man with little of this world's goods, a sum of $10 or $25, may be very severe punishment, and might even impose hardship on his dependents. But to impose a higher penalty on a man of wealth would cause very little hurt.

The Judge said the punishment must be imposed on the individual. Though he did not suggest the accused was a man of wealth he felt a larger fine was in order. He then named the penalty as a fine of $500, or in default three months in jail.

British Change Several Diplomats

LONDON, July 26 (AP)—The Foreign Office has decided to move at least eight of its senior envoys in a shake-up of the diplomatic service.

Official sources reported today new ambassadors will be sent to Moscow, Tokyo, Brussels, Belgrade, and Athens in the next few months.

The changes reflect no switch in British foreign policy. In general, however, younger and more vigorous men will carry out existing policy in place of envoys who have reached the retiring age.

Imports Greater Than Exports

OTTAWA, July 26 (CP)—Canada didn't balance her foreign trade books again in June.

A preliminary summary of foreign trade figures released tonight by the Bureau of Statistics showed total June exports of $312,500,000 against total June imports of $361,400,000.

This compared with exports worth $282,500,000 and imports of $322,500,000 in June last year.

Canadian exports to the United States rose to $188,400,000 from $177,700,000 in June 1950 but imports from that country jumped to $243,800,000 compared with $183,300,000.

United Kingdom imports of Canadian products dropped to $61,200,000 compared with $52,500,000. At the same time Britain boosted her exports to Canada to $39,900,000 from $37,100,000 in June last year.

Few Members In Ottawa

OTTAWA, July 26 (CP)—Ottawa almost became a capital without a cabinet today.

For a time, Resources Minister Winters was the only one of the 20 cabinet members in town and, in theory if not in practice, was holding down the portfolio of extra of his 10 colleagues in acting capacity, including that of acting Prime Minister.

Then, Justice Minister Garson returned from a trip to the west and Ottawa had a two-man cabinet.

The rest of the cabinet, including Prime Minister St. Laurent, either was out of town on business or on holidays. In some instances, it was a bit of both. Most of them will be back in the capital within the next week or so.

Most of the cabinet absentees, while out of town, were in close touch with their offices by telephone or telegraph.

Girl Guide News Celebrate Feast Of Saint Ann

STE. ANNE DE BEAUPRE, Que. July 26 (CP)—Thousands took part in this shrine town today in day-long ceremonies celebrating the feast of Saint Ann, proclaimed Patron Saint of Quebec 75 years ago.

The hillside village, 25 miles east of Quebec, was the scene of processions and open air prayers. In the white stone Basilica, there were three Archbishops and six Bishops to lead various services.

An estimated 50,000 pilgrims, many from the United States, congregated in the village of 2,000 persons which became a shrine some 300 years ago when Breton mariners, saved from shipwreck, built a log chapel in honor of Saint Ann.

Petain's Prison To Be Destroyed

LA ROCHELLE, France, July 26 (Reuters)—The fortress on the Ile D'Yeu, where the late Philippe Petain spent six years imprisonment, will be destroyed by French army engineers. It was announced today. Everything else connected with his life on the island will be burned.

Authorities have decided on the measure in order to prevent forming a cult of relics left by the leader of Vichy France.

(In Paris tonight Petain sympathizers and former resistance fighters scuffled over the tomb of the unknown warrior under the Arc de Triomphe. Three persons were arrested.)
