TRIPLE'S BELIEVE IT OR NOT

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER

South dealer. East-West vulnerable. NORTH: ♠ 97, ♥ Q8652, ♦ A104, ♣ J52. WEST: ♠ Q10832, ♥ A873, ♦ 10963, ♣ A874. EAST: ♠ K654, ♥ K7, ♦ 952, ♣ A874. SOUTH: ♠ A7, ♥ J10943, ♦ KQJ6, ♣ KQ.

The bidding: South West North East 1♥ Pass 2♥ Pass

Opening lead—three of spades. There are some game contracts where, after you've seen dummy, you start to wonder how your side got so high.

Granting that it's all your partner's fault, which it has to be if you ever expect to attain any real stature in bridge, you're still supposed to try to make the contract even if it looks only vaguely possible.

Suppose, for example, you're South and become declarer in four hearts. You see that your scalp belongs to the Indians—because obviously you have to lose the A-K of trumps, a spade, and a club.

There are two ways to approach situations of this sort. First you look for a legitimate way to make the contract. In doing so you try to imagine some way the opponents' cards can be laid out so that the hand will make on its merits.

Second, if you can't find any possible distribution of the adverse cards that would allow the contract to be made, you try to dig up a scheme whereby you can legitimately do the opponents' out of what is their proper due.

For example, you could go to dummy and lead the queen of hearts hoping the player on your right with K-x will cover with the king and catch his partner's blank ace.

But when you think about it some more you realize that East wasn't born yesterday, so you go back to your first thought to see if there isn't a straight-up-and-down method of making four hearts.

And then it hits you. If the outstanding diamonds happen to be divided 3-3, your opponents might not be able to beat you at all. So you take three rounds of diamonds, everybody following, congratulate yourself, and lead the fourth round.

Regardless of what either defender does, you discard a spade from dummy. You lose this trick, you also lose the ace of clubs, and you later lose just one trump trick.

So you make four hearts all right, and what's more, there is not a thing your right honorable opponents can do about it.

Best Canadian Guernseys Equal To US Farmers Told

Canadian Guernseys have made remarkable progress in the past five years and the best are now on a par with the best in the United States. This was the opinion of Judge Les. V. Wilson, Owatonna, Minn., who judged the Guernsey show at the Royal Winter Fair and previous to that had placed the Guernsey classes at the International Dairy Show in Chicago.

While there were no American entries, there were a number of American bred animals in the show. Canadian bred females took all the championships and Canadian bred males took four of the six championships.

Fraserdale Rex's Henrietta, a big, smooth, milking four-year-old, showing fresh with a beautiful udder was declared the senior and grand champion female.

She was bred and owned by Jack Fraser, Fraserdale Farms, Concord, Ontario. Henrietta achieved distinction in the showing a year ago when she placed second to the three-year-old futurity winner at Chicago and was later named honourable mention All-American and reserve All-Canadian.

Kinghaven Amos' Connie 4th, officially classified Excellent for type and having an official record of 16037M - 809F made as a five-year-old on twice daily milking, won the Aged Cow class and took both the reserve senior and the reserve grand championships for Royal Winter Fair president C. F. W. Burns and his Kingfield Farms herd. "Connie" was Grand Champion at the 1957 Royal and at the 1958 C. N. E. and was named A11 Canadian aged cow in 1957.

The junior female champion—ships went to two exceptionally fine heifers, both of whom were sired by Canadian bred bulls. Marshdene King's Madge won the very strong heifer calf class for Bruce Marshall and son, Marshdene Farms, Innerkip, Ontario, and went on to be junior champion while Tannery Hill Defender's Ann won the senior yearling class for Henry Borden, Tannery Hill Farms, King, Ontario and took the reserve ribbon.

The grand champion bull was McDonald Farms' Royal Winston, the top aged bull exhibited by Fraserdale. The reserve grand went to the top two-year-old Tannery Hill D. R. Viking, shown jointly by R. J. Inksetter, Copetown and Henry Borden, King, Kingfield Farms, Paris.

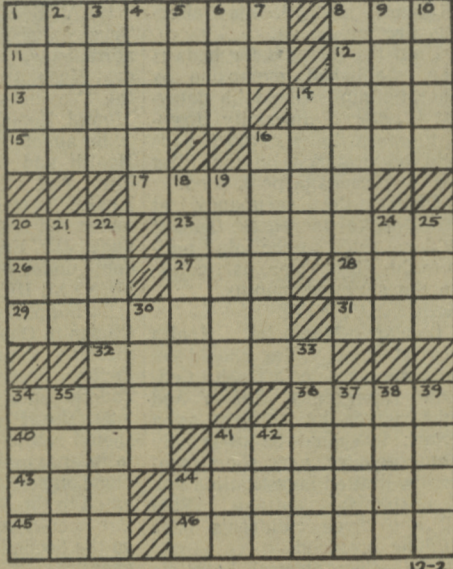

Exhibitors were present from Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Ontario. Prince Edward Island entries: Allison Carr, Winsloe; J. Eric Hurry, Winsloe - 4th. Junior yearling bull.

Daniel MacLean, Milton - 3rd. senior yearling bull. Harold Pomer and Son, Kensington - 3rd 2-year old bull. Owen Younker and son, Clyde River - 2nd. senior yearling bull.

YACHT SEIZED MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A 80-foot yacht loaded with arms apparently destined for Cuban rebels was seized by U.S. customs and border agents Saturday at Key Biscayne. Customs agent Charles E. Wyatt said it was the largest arms haul yet made in south Florida, scene of numerous arms smuggling attempts by Cuban rebel sympathizers. Eight men were arrested.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

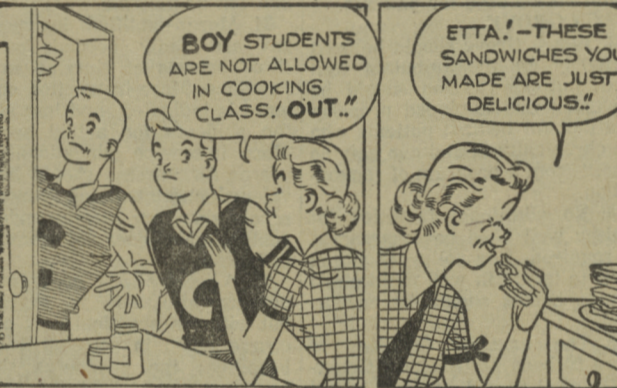

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
