IN MEMORIAM

MR. J. WALSTON MacVARISH

The death occurred at the Charlottetown Hospital on Saturday, March 13, of J. Walston MacVarish, Hermitage. Born at Souris Line Road, on February 27, 1894, the son of the late Francis MacVarish and Josephine McInnis.

As a young man he entered the service of the C. N. R. as a railroad man, promotion came early for him and he came to Lake Verde as foreman in 1932.

He entered the City Hospital on March 4, and despite the best medical skill and tender care of a loving family, he passed peacefully away on the above mentioned date. During his last illness at the Hospital he was visited frequently by his pastor, Rev. Urban Gillis; given communion by Rev. Monsignor MacDonald and the last rites of the Catholic Church administered to him by Rev. Sylvere Gallant, Vernon River.

There are left to mourn the loss of a kind and devoted husband and father, his wife, formerly Ada Fisher, three daughters and one son. Edna and Jean, Roxbury, Mass; Lorraine and Joseph at home; also one sister and three brothers (Elizabeth), Mrs. Joseph MacPhee, Roxbury, Mass.; Hugh E. Medford, Mass.; and Frank and Blaine, Souris Line Road.

His funeral was held March 16, to St. Joachims Church, Vernon River, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Urban Gillis who also conducted the services at the grave.

Pallbearers were Messrs. John Curley, Harry Leslie, Arthur Richards, George Weatherbie, James Redmond and Joseph Wood.

Native Dancer Wins Easy Race Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—Native Dancer, the great, grey galloper of the Alfred Vanderbilt stable, toyed with six rivals Friday as he returned to racing after a long layoff and easily won the $15,000 Commando purse before 21,792 admiring fans at Belmont Park.

Making his first appearance under Vanderbilt's cerise and white diamond silks since he won the American Derby at Chicago last Aug. 22, the Dancer barged under the wire a length and a quarter ahead of the Trio Stable's Laffango.

It was the 19th victory in the powerfully built colt's spectacular 20-race career.
