Junior Board Of Trade Will Sponsor "Get Out The Vote"

The Charlottetown Junior Board of Trade will conduct a campaign urging all citizens to exercise "their privilege and their duty" by voting in the forthcoming civic election scheduled for February 12th.

This announcement was made by the chairman of the Junior Board's civic affairs committee, Mr. Henry MacWilliam at a committee meeting held last night.

At this meeting it was decided to begin the campaign with a "Civic Information Survey". This will require Jaycee teams to contact citizens and record their answers to a prepared questionnaire. By this means the Junior Board expects to obtain a cross-section of public opinion and knowledge of civic affairs.

Netted Gem Recommended Only For Chips

The Netted Gem potato variety is not recommended as a suitable variety for Maritime conditions. However, H.T. Davies of the Fredericton, N.B., Experimental Farm, C.D.A., says a further study of its possibilities is warranted because of its popularity in other parts of Canada and its chipping qualities.

When grown under similar conditions to standard varieties in N.B., it appeared to be a very poor cropper, particularly so far as yield of marketable tubers was concerned. It has been included in variety yield trials for several years and its performance has been consistently poor. In 1950 Netted Gem stood at the bottom of the list of 15 varieties in the yield trial and in 1951 it was last out of 19 varieties. In 1952 it ranked 17th out of 19 varieties and in 1954 it ranked 18th out of 19 varieties in the test. In the 1955 tests it was once again at the bottom of the list out of 19 varieties.

One point of interest that has emerged from growing trials in the United States is the response of this variety of wider spacing of sets. Instead of the customary planting distance of 10 inches between sets, spacing from 14 to as high as 22 inches have been recommended and have resulted in higher yields of marketable tubers. Spacing tests in N. B. indicate that cut sets at 18 inch spacings may be the best for local conditions.

The Netted Gem variety is late in maturing and is subject to second growth under adverse conditions. It grows best under irrigation.

ROYAL SCARLET — In the account of the annual meeting of the Hillsboro district appearing in yesterday's issue, the abbreviation L. O. B. A. was used instead of L. O. L. which was the organization concerned.

RETURNED HOME — Wesley MacIsaac, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacIsaac, 101 Weymouth Street, returned home yesterday. Reported missing Saturday evening, the youth had been visiting friends in the country and had neglected notifying his parents of this effect.

FUNERAL MONDAY — The funeral of the late Miss Etta C. Coles, R.N., was held yesterday afternoon from the MacLean Funeral Home to St. Paul's Church, where service was conducted by the Rev. Canon J. T. Ibbot and Rev. A. E. Pierson. Interment was in Milton Cemetery. Pallbearers were Victor Buntain, Frank MacKenzie, Eric Coles, Keith Coles, Verne Coles, Russell Coles. The funeral was very largely attended.

AITKEN
 In loving memory of my husband, Roy Aitken died January 21st, 1957.

A precious one from us is gone
 The voice we loved is still,
 His chair is vacant in our house
 No one will ever fill.
 I have lost a real companion
 A life linked with my own
 And day by day I miss you more
 As I walk through life alone.
 Looking back with memories
 Along the path we trod
 I miss the years I had with you
 And leave the rest with God.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by his Wife.

Top Rating P. E. I. Farmers Are Guests Of Local Rotary Club

Top rating Island farmers got a big hand from city business and professional men whose guests they were at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club, at the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

Exhibitors of prize-winning animals at the 1957 shows of the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair in Toronto and the Maritime Winter Fair in Amherst were each in turn introduced by the chairman, Col. F. I. Andrew, who followed up with a description of achievements in Agriculture which read like "Who's Who" in farming in Canada.

Miss Olive Parkman East Royalty, who has a stable of seven-year-old saddle horses was introduced as one who has made an outstanding contribution in a field which she has developed, and won two coveted Maritime trophies.

Miss Sandra Rodd, Highfield, a pupil of Miss Parkman in equitation was introduced as winner in her class "18 years and under" which brought another highly prized trophy to the Island.

Speaking briefly on the various branches of Agriculture which has won them nationwide distinction, Stanley Willis, Cornwall, B. B. Jones, Bunbury and Dingwell MacLeod, Vernon each told of their experience in developing winners and expressed appreciation at being the guests of Rotary.

CAUSEWAY EFFECT
 "If ice remains in the Straits later in the spring as a result of the building of a causeway, there is no doubt that it will adversely affect growing," Bob Parent, Supt. of the Experimental Farm and President of the Rotary Club said in summarizing farming conditions on the Island.

"Farms are tending to become larger, more highly specialized, more highly mechanized and more capital credit is required to carry on," Mr. Parent said. "Many farmers fail to succeed because they lack the managing skill necessary to meet these new conditions. Others who can handle the situation and keep in touch with market trends and co-operate fully with businessmen are doing well.

"These men realize that while they can do very little to influence the price to be received for their products, they can do much to decrease the cost of production," Mr. Parent said. "I believe that the way farmers and business people understand each other's problems and work together in mutual trust to solve them will be a bright future in keeping P. E. Island one of the bright spots in Canada", Mr. Parent concluded.

New Newspaper Process Is Tried

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP) — Announcement of a revolutionary combination of new methods whereby whole pages of a newspaper may be produced on film or paper positives was made Monday by John H. Perry, owner of the Panama City News-Herald and other Florida publications.

Key to the process is a "fotosec" controlled automatically by teletypewriter tape.

The News-Herald, in its Sunday edition, became the first newspaper to use the combination process commercially. Its editorial page was produced by TTS taped through the fotosec.

The eventual goal of the new fotosec method is to produce

I. O. D. E. Meeting Held Last Night

The reading of an article entitled "A Day to Remember" written by Mrs. Aide Flemming, wife of Hon. Hugh John Flemming, Premier of New Brunswick, featured a meeting of the Earl of Hillsborough Chapter, I. O. D. E., held at the home of Mrs. Sterling MacDonald Monday evening.

Read by Miss Margaret Macmillan, convener of Empire and World Affairs, the article gave a vivid eyewitness account of the historic ceremony when Her Majesty, The Queen, opened Parliament during her visit to Canada in October.

At this meeting reports were delivered by the chairman of the various committees, and a delightful lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by Miss Mabel Adams.

Island Ayrshires In All-Canada Competition

Two Island Ayrshires have been nominated for the All-Canada competition sponsored each year by the National Breeders' Association. They are a bull calf, "Cherry Bank Royal Anchor" and "Lealands Treasure's Pet", a heifer calf both of which are owned by Keith Boswell and Sons, Victoria.

Pictures of all the all-Canadian nominees will appear in the January issue of the Canadian Ayrshire Review. From these pictures, anyone can take part in the all-Canadian judging competition.

There is a special competition for 4-H club members and an open competition. Valuable cash prizes will be awarded in the 4-H competition. The official judges will be sixteen Ayrshire judges at the sixteen major fairs and exhibitions across the country.

Says Students Losing Religion

QUEBEC (CP) — Abbe Gerard Dion of Laval University said Monday many students leaving classical college to enter university or take jobs are losing their religion and lack a cultural ideal.

Abbe Dion, director of the department of industrial relations at Laval and co-author of a widely-discussed article on political immorality in Quebec, was addressing a meeting of the program commission of Laval's faculty of arts.

"The religious crisis is very serious among the professionals and intellectuals," Abbe Dion told the commission which is charged with planning arts courses.

"While there is little anti-clerical feeling there is a growing dissatisfaction with the church — with its doctrines and hierarchy. In certain groups the practice of religion is reduced to a social convention."

"It is necessary to give more importance to studies of human science, to eliminate dogmatism and to help the students work by themselves," he suggested.
