"if no news is good news, then bad news'll do"

VOL. 2 NO.1

B.I.P. staffers: Norbert Moran, Jim O'MacAdam and Bob Gray (pictured above in front of the former home of the Baffin Island Icicle Archives) described the Skyjack ordeal as the most humiliating experience of their lives.

TORTURE ON BAFFIN ISLAND!

Armed with altered walrus meat carvers, two obviously drugged English fruit peddlers highjacked EPA flight 456 from N.Y.C. to Foxley River. The craft with three B.I.P. members on board, was forced to fly to Baffin Island in what appears to be a political move. Former Cadre editor Carol Paterson, described the incident as a daring but necessary move.

Upon discovering that three members of a college news media were passengers, the fruit men held them as hostages. Bound and confined to a snowbank, the three were forced to respond to terrifying commands

Co-Editor, Norbert Moran, was forced, against his professional code, to draw graffiti on his forehead with laundry ink, while his two associates Bob Gray, and Jim MacAdam looked on in horror. Dastardly deeds seemed to hold all that is good in its fateful claws. All three were forced to smoke menthol dope without a filter until their values were nil and were then barraged with a shower of rotten fruit hidden in the daring duo's dirty denims.

If the paper now has a form of incoherence and insanity let it not be held responsible, because while forces of evil continue to evade the good of "Captain Canada", such incidents will increase.

Safe at home the three reporters are recovering in plastic oxygen tents set up in the Dean of Fun and Women's apartment, first floor Marian Hall, and hope to return to work some time this week.

in exchange for iceboxes and ice cream, with the hopes of highjacking a Baffin Island freighter to Fiji.

As a note of interest, upon takeoff Flight 456 melted the Northwest Arm of the island, thus destroying the Baffin Island Icicle Archives, leaving the island culturally deprived.
