Price Boost Is Expected By Studebaker

HAMILTON (CP) — Studebaker of Canada Ltd. announced Thursday that prices of their automobiles will likely increase in 1964 as a result of the 11-percent federal sales tax on production machinery and equipment.

The tax was announced in the federal budget two weeks ago.

Graeme Allwood, comptroller of Studebaker of Canada, said the company has decided not to change the price on its 1963 automobiles but there will be a "substantial price increase" on 1964 models.

The new tax affects all equipment and supplies not actually part of the final product, including tooling, supplies and material used in the manufacturing process. Mr. Allwood said.

Two other Hamilton firms also predicted price increases which will be passed along to consumers as a result of the tax.

Spokesmen for Canadian Westinghouse Co. Ltd. and Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. Ltd. said there will be increases in their products but added that the effects of the tax have not yet been fully assessed.

Mrs. Macdonald Appointed To Welfare Post

It is believed that Mrs. Margaret Macdonald, former MP for Kings, having recently been appointed to the department of welfare will be headed for assignments in connection with rehabilitation cases. The appointment is expected to take effect early in July.

Once the department of welfare has provided training assistance it frequently becomes necessary to follow up the work by aiding the trainee by finding employment and by general supervision. It is thought that this will be the main task for Mrs. Macdonald.

Her naming to the position was made this week by Hon. Henry Wedge, minister of labour and welfare.

DOMINION

"This cathedral is the image of the nation that I hope to see Canada become. . . . I shall repel the idea of changing the nature of its different elements. I want the marble to remain the marble; I want the granite to remain the granite; I want to oak to remain the oak. . . . I want to take all these elements and build a nation that will be foremost among the great powers of the world."

Our national dentity was not easy to create and it will not be easy to preserve and develop.

We are subject to many powerful outside influences. Our varied origins and languages sometimes create problems in understanding each other. Geography creates great differences in our interests and viewpoints.

MORE THAN PARTS

That is why we more than most people must always make a special effort to recognize that a nation is more than its parts, that there is a Canada above its regions, that there is an unhyphenated Canadianism above what is English-Canadian or French-Canadian or any other of the cultures that have contributed to our nation.

We need understanding among ourselves and the tolerance that comes from such understanding and from charity. We need understanding also to see and act on our role in the world. We need hope in ourselves and faith in all men. We need courage and determination to do our best.

I believe that we have those qualities.

On the foundation of our traditions and our institutions, and from the great resources with which we are endowed, I believe that we can fashion, in our 97th year and in the years ahead, increasing achievements for ourselves and greater opportunities for the Canadians who will follow us.
