Splendid Holiday Is Ended Today

KAMLOOPS, B. C. (CP) - An idyllic holiday, bathed in sunshine and surrounded by privacy, ends at noon today for the Queen and Prince Philip. The royal couple will fly back to this central British Columbia city to resume the 44-day tour of Canada that they broke off Saturday for a 56-hour vacation at Lake Pennask, a quiet body of water tucked away in the Cascade Mountains 50 miles south-east of here. Their schedule after that calls for a scenic train journey down the Thompson and Fraser River canyons, making 10-minute stops at the communities of Ashcroft, Spence's Bridge, Lytton, Boston Bar and Hope and 65 minutes at Chilliwack. Tonight the train will be parked in a siding until Wednesday morning when it carries the royal party into New Westminster. END SECLUSION. Today marks the end of a period of seclusion such as has been seldom enjoyed by touring royalty. The fishing lodge at which the couple stayed is virtually isolated except by air. While the Queen basked in the sun the prince went fishing catching several rainbow trout weighing up to one pound.

Big Manhunt Is Intensified

RED DEER, Alta. (CP) - Theft of firearms and a car Monday intensified the RCMP manhunt for mass-murder suspect Robert Raymond Cook, 22, who escaped Friday night from the provincial mental institution at Ponoka, Alta. The black-and-white 1957 model car was stolen Sunday night at Alox, 85 miles southeast of Edmonton, and located abandoned in the Bashaw area Monday afternoon. Bashaw is 2 miles north of Alox. WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate-rackets committee heard testimony Monday that Teamster president James R. Hoffa plotted to gain control of the monitors set up by a federal court to check on him. It also heard, and heard it denied, that a Teamster lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, suggested that an anti-Hoffa witness would be as well off if he didn't tell his story to the committee. Williams immediately called this a lie. Hoffa may be a witness today. UNSURE OF TRUTH. In the end, chairman John L. McClellan (Dem. Ark.) said he just could not tell who was telling the truth. McClellan ordered that the record be referred to the justice department and the monitors. Maybe they can get to the bottom of it, he said. The row was churned up by Bartley C. Crum, New York lawyer, who swore that emissaries of Hoffa approached him with what he called improper proposals to get an opponent of Hoffa off the board of union monitors. Crum named Harry Bridges, the west coast Longshoremen's leader, as one of these emissaries. He said Louis Goldblatt, a Bridges aide, was another. Their proposition, Crum said, was that he replace Godfrey P. Schmidt as union monitor once Schmidt could be induced to resign. Crum said a move projected for later was to merge Hoffa's Teamsters and Bridges' Longshoremen.

Red Deputy Is Back Home

LONDON (Reuters) - Russian Deputy Premier Prokhorov returned by air to Moscow Monday night after a two-week tour of the United States, the Soviet news agency Tass reported. His TU-114 airliner made the non-stop, 5,500-mile flight from New York in nine hours and 48 minutes, the agency added. The first deputy premier ended his U.S. visit as he started it, by expressing hopes for "peace and friendship." In a brief airport message at New York, he said one of his chief impressions was that the American people as the Russian people are striving for eternal peace between our two countries. He asked whether Premier Nikita Khrushchev would visit the U.S., Kozlov replied "it is difficult to say now."
