ST. PAUL'S SCHOOLS.—There was a fairly large audience at the entertainment in St. Paul's Schoolrooms last evening, and a excellent programme was well presented. Woodworth and Ernest Peake, and the vocal and instrumental selections were a well given. The amount realized will go towards the new church fund. Geo. Peake, Secy, presided.

HOCKEY AT THE RINK.

The Victorias Win from the Charlottetowns, 6 to 3.

A splendid sheet of ice greeted the hockey players last night, and a large and interesting match between those old-time rivals the Charlottetowns and the Victorias. Shortly after eight o'clock both teams appeared on the ice and were received with applause. After a few turns around the rink by way of "limbering" the referee's whistle sounded and the teams lined up in the following order:—

CHARLOTTETOWNS. Goal—Frank Cotton. Point—H. Large (Capt.). Forward—William Carboneil, Forwards—Charles Weeks, Dr. H. D. Johnson, Wm. Flood, G. J. Rogers.

VICTORIANS. Goal—Louis McMillan. Point—Addison Miller (Capt.). Cover Point—Dan McIsaac.

Forwards—Wm. Brehaut, Sydney Hobkirk, Wm. Pickard, Fred Haszard.

The Charlottetowns defended the southern goal during the first half, and the Victorias the northern. In the second half positions were changed, the Charlottetowns moving north and the Victorias south.

Rogers and Haszard faced off. For a short time the puck was kept well in the centre of the rink and there was some lively scrambling chiefly among the forwards. Then the puck was rushed in the direction of the Victorias goal, whence it was soon returned to their opponents' territory.

Backward and forward it whizzed like a thing possessed. Now one side would have the advantage and then the other, but it was difficult for either side to get a goal. Finally Weeks got the puck out of scrimmage, and after some skillful stick work ran high through the lines and into the goal. A few minutes later Hobkirk, by clever manipulation, did a similar trick for the Victorias. For the remainder of the half, although both sides struggled hard, neither scored. Charlottetown, 1; Victorias, 1.

In the second half, after some sharp work on both sides, Weeks shot a goal for the Charlottetowns and all applause. Not long afterwards Pickard sent the puck whizzing through the Charlottetown goal, and the admirers of the Victorias made the welkin ring. In a short while afterwards he repeated the trick, and there was long and loud applause. The Victorias were then once ahead, and their admirers were in high spirits. Then, after some sharp work and good goal playing on both sides, Pickard, by shooting another goal for the Charlottetowns, the admirers of the Charlottetowns vigorously applauded, and the excitement ran high through the lines and into the goal. A few minutes later Flood, with the "general result still in doubt," to use the language of a well-known politician. But it was not long in doubt, for the Victorias started in with renewed vigor, and despite the good defensive work of their opponents scored three goals in rapid succession amid the wildest enthusiasm. The first was taken by Hobkirk, the second by Brehaut, and Haszard shot the last just before time was called. Victorias 6; Charlottetowns 3.

For the Victorias, Pickard, Haszard, Hobkirk, Brehaut, Miller and McIsaac, put up the best game and for the Charlottetowns, Wm. Flood, Charles Weeks, Rogers, Flood and Johnson did the most effective work. Cotton's goal-keeping was good, especially during the first half, when he warded off several well-directed shots.

The play was fast and furious throughout, each side rushing things for all they were worth. There was a good deal of off-side play, however, and many of the players must be sore to-day in consequence of the fast and furious nature of the collision either with their opponents or with the sides of the rink. But everything went, even the players, and the best of feeling prevailed.

It is a pity that our hockey players do not play a better team game. There was little or no combination play last night, and what is true of last night's match is true of the matches of the previous evening. The desire for individual work seems to be general among our hockey players. This is not as it should be, and it is hoped that in future there will be more combination play.

At the close of the match cheers were given for both teams. A return match will be played on the evening of the 19th February.

Captain Weeks referred to the satisfaction of both teams, and Messrs. Dingwell and McEachern were the umpires. Galbraith's Band was to the front with an excellent programme.

There are 1,000 guest chambers, eight Otis elevators, and a separate service office on each floor, so that the occupant of any room can be placed in communication with a friend in any other part of the hotel. ADVANCE A STEP. Another Move Made Toward a Settlement of the Herring Fish Claims.

A Washington dispatch reports that the suggestions for the settlement of the claims of Canadian sealers, seized prior to the sitting of the Paris tribunal of arbitration, have been approved by the British Government, and its acceptance was formally laid before Secretary Olney today by Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador. The next move in the matter will be the submission of the plan agreed upon between the two governments to Congress for its approval. It is understood that the President of the Swiss Republic has expressed a willingness to act as umpire of the commission, or to appoint a representative, if one be needed, to occupy that position. The British Government delayed its approval of the plan until the Swiss President could be heard from.

The year just past has been one of great activity in shipyards in the United States. At the beginning of 1895 the value of new ships, steamers and war vessels contracted for or under construction exceeded $32,000,000. Of this sum more than one-half ($17,500,000) was for war vessels or Government vessels; in coast yards there were 105 merchant vessels and pleasure craft building, valued at $6,040,000, and on the great lakes there were 65 (thirty of them steel freighters), valued at $8,510,000, and for river service on the Hudson or other eastern rivers the craft building were valued at $1,953,000. San Francisco, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News, and Bath, Maine, were the principal ocean ports sharing in this activity.

HE IS KNOWN IN CHARLOTTETOWN.

"King" of Harvard travellers is the title M. Le N. King has earned for himself. Mr. King is the son of a Methodist minister of the N. B. & P. E. Island circuit, and an 1891 graduate of Sackville. While at Sackville he distinguished himself at athletics and was the instructor for two years. His graduation is memorable from the fact that he declined to follow the usual custom of kneeling, but stood erect while the head of the institution decorated him. From Sackville, Mr. King, who had ambitions to become a journalist, went to Harvard, working his way along by writing, teaching night school, etc., and graduating in 1894. He had been planning a trip to Europe, but had little money. He, however, found a companion willing to share privations and on the day of graduation they sailed from Boston as hands on a cattle steamer, reaching London in due course and from there seeing much of Great Britain and going on the Continent, getting about where practicable on foot and at other times in third class in steamer and living in cheap quarters in clean hotels. With but little money they were thus able to visit France, Germany, Holland, Switzerland, Spain and other countries, staying for a while in Paris. Mr. King enrolled in the free classes of the University of Paris, and thus studied French under distinguished teachers. He finally returned to New York last fall as a steamer passenger, and is now back at Harvard wearing a full Parisian beard. He has entered the graduate school, and is working his way along chiefly by tutoring, and has many French students, the advertisement in French, M. L. King, of the University of Paris, with which Mr. King placarded Harvard, having proved a drawing card. Mr. King is preparing for another trip abroad this summer, and will be in Europe for some time, and he has already seen a great deal of Canada and the States having travelled during several summers in the same manner as he did last year in Europe. [The M. L. King referred to in the above clipping from one of our exchanges, resided in this city for some time, and was instructor at the Charlottetown Athletic Association which was first established.]

BEAUTY UNARMED may do in petty, but the nicely-fitting gown is the desire of every true woman. Priestley's dress fabrics have done much to realize a woman's ideal in French, M. L. King, of the University of Paris, with which Mr. King placarded Harvard, having proved a drawing card. Mr. King is preparing for another trip abroad this summer, and will be in Europe for some time, and he has already seen a great deal of Canada and the States having travelled during several summers in the same manner as he did last year in Europe. He is becoming a well-known man, and when he takes up his life work will find his travels of great benefit to him. At present he is only about twenty-five years of age.
