

THE EXAMINER.

VOL. XXVII CHARLOTTETOWN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, MONDAY, JULY 17, 1876. NO. 29.

The Examiner Is Printed and Published every Monday Forenoon, by William L. Cotton, OFFICE: Corner Queen and King Streets.

RATES OF ADVERTISING The following are the Rates and Terms of Advertising as agreed to by the publishers of newspapers in P. E. Island...

Table with columns for Day, Sun, Moon, High Water, Day's Water. Lists astronomical data for the week of July 17, 1876.

ALMANAC FOR JULY, 1876. MOON'S CHANGES. Full Moon, 6th day, 11h. 25m. a. m. New Moon, 14th day, 9h. 43m. a. m.

Table with columns for Day, Sun, Moon, High Water, Day's Water. Continuation of astronomical data for the week of July 17, 1876.

PRICES CURRENT. Ch'town, July 4, 1876. BREADSTUFFS. Buckwheat Flour, per lb. 0.02 to 0.04. Flour, per bush. 5.50 to 7.00.

MISCELLANEOUS. Apples per bushel. 0.00 to 0.00.00. Butter (fresh) per lb. 0.16 to 0.20. Butter (salt) per lb. 0.16 to 0.17.

BUSINESS CARDS. COOMBS & WORTH, JOB PRINTERS & BOOKBINDERS, 51 WATER STREET, Charlottetown, P. E. Island.

E. G. NELSON, IMPORTER & REPAIRER OF SEWING MACHINES, Address—P. O. Box 303, Charlottetown.

WILLIAM DODD, Commission Merchant and AUCTIONEER, QUEEN SQUARE, CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. ISLAND.

CARVELL BROS., AUCTIONEERS, Commission Merchants, and GENERAL AGENTS, Lower Queen St. Charlottetown, P. E. I.

HASZARD BROS., Commission Merchants & Auctioneers, FORWARDING, MANUFACTURERS, and General Agents, 61 WATER STREET, Opposite Merchants Bank.

REVERE HOUSE, ADJOINING THE POST OFFICE, ALBERTON, P. E. I. The subscriber has fitted up the above House in good style, and wishes to inform his friends...

INTERNATIONAL! CENTRAL STREET, Summerside, P.E. Island, JOHN MCKAY, PROPRIETOR.

INSURANCE. ST. LAWRENCE Marine Insurance Co. OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND. BOARD OF DIRECTORS: A. KENNEDY, Esq., President.

POETRY. FROM LIFE WITHOUT FREEDOM. From life without freedom, oh, who would not fly? For one day of freedom, oh, who would not die?

LITERATURE. WUNDERHOLME. CHAPTER IV. Mrs. Ogden's desire to bring about a renewal of the acquaintance between her son Isaac and Mr. Prigley was not an unwise one...

THE HOUSE, second to none on the Island for beauty of situation, comfort and convenience afforded, commends itself to the patronage of all who may visit the Island for business or pleasure.

THE HOUSE, second to none on the Island for beauty of situation, comfort and convenience afforded, commends itself to the patronage of all who may visit the Island for business or pleasure.

THE HOUSE, second to none on the Island for beauty of situation, comfort and convenience afforded, commends itself to the patronage of all who may visit the Island for business or pleasure.

THE HOUSE, second to none on the Island for beauty of situation, comfort and convenience afforded, commends itself to the patronage of all who may visit the Island for business or pleasure.

THE HOUSE, second to none on the Island for beauty of situation, comfort and convenience afforded, commends itself to the patronage of all who may visit the Island for business or pleasure.

THE HOUSE, second to none on the Island for beauty of situation, comfort and convenience afforded, commends itself to the patronage of all who may visit the Island for business or pleasure.

them as made her very heart sick. In this perplexity about the carpets, nature was left to take her course, and the carpets were abandoned to their fate, but still left upon the floor; for how were they ever to be replaced?

So little Jacob bounded out of the parsonage, and ran down the main street of Shayton like a hare before the hounds.

It happened that the battle took place just before Susy Tattersall's shop, which, as everybody in Shayton knows very well (though some strangers in London and elsewhere may not be aware of the fact), is in the main street of the village just before you turn up to the Doctor's.

Whilst things were in this condition at the parsonage, the conversation took place at Milend which we have narrated in the preceding chapter; and as soon as Mrs. Ogden had seen things straight in the kitchen, she 'brought her', as she would have herself expressed it, that it might be a step towards intercourse between Isaac (Ogden) and the clergyman if she could make little Jacob take a fancy to the parsonage.

Whilst the Doctor and little Jacob were going to Mr. Prigley—the doctor walking as fast as he can and asking questions, his young friend running by his side and doing what he can to answer them—Susy stops to have a little chat with Martha, and then goes back to her shop, where, to her confusion, five customers are waiting for her.

Without giving Jacob any time to answer Susy Tattersall's remark in a grave and breathless manner, 'It's Mistress Ogden; who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage.'

Without giving Jacob any time to answer Susy Tattersall's remark in a grave and breathless manner, 'It's Mistress Ogden; who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage.'

Without giving Jacob any time to answer Susy Tattersall's remark in a grave and breathless manner, 'It's Mistress Ogden; who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage.'

inches high. He had no time to do justice to the subject now, and so refrained from making any observation; but he fully resolved that, whether Mrs. Prigley liked it or not, all ragged old carpets should disappear from the parsonage as soon as Mrs. Ogden could get out of it.

'Please let me go,' said little Jacob; 'I can run faster than she can.'

So little Jacob bounded out of the parsonage, and ran down the main street of Shayton like a hare before the hounds.

It happened that the battle took place just before Susy Tattersall's shop, which, as everybody in Shayton knows very well (though some strangers in London and elsewhere may not be aware of the fact), is in the main street of the village just before you turn up to the Doctor's.

Whilst things were in this condition at the parsonage, the conversation took place at Milend which we have narrated in the preceding chapter; and as soon as Mrs. Ogden had seen things straight in the kitchen, she 'brought her', as she would have herself expressed it, that it might be a step towards intercourse between Isaac (Ogden) and the clergyman if she could make little Jacob take a fancy to the parsonage.

Without giving Jacob any time to answer Susy Tattersall's remark in a grave and breathless manner, 'It's Mistress Ogden; who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage.'

Without giving Jacob any time to answer Susy Tattersall's remark in a grave and breathless manner, 'It's Mistress Ogden; who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage.'

Without giving Jacob any time to answer Susy Tattersall's remark in a grave and breathless manner, 'It's Mistress Ogden; who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage.'

CORRESPONDENCE. OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 3, 1876. We may not sing the exact words of that good old hymn: 'Lo! what a cloud of witnesses encompass us around,' but by changing the words we may say that the witnesses to our heart's content, and truthfully too, for the city is full of them from all parts of the country.

'Please let me go,' said little Jacob; 'I can run faster than she can.'

So little Jacob bounded out of the parsonage, and ran down the main street of Shayton like a hare before the hounds.

It happened that the battle took place just before Susy Tattersall's shop, which, as everybody in Shayton knows very well (though some strangers in London and elsewhere may not be aware of the fact), is in the main street of the village just before you turn up to the Doctor's.

Whilst things were in this condition at the parsonage, the conversation took place at Milend which we have narrated in the preceding chapter; and as soon as Mrs. Ogden had seen things straight in the kitchen, she 'brought her', as she would have herself expressed it, that it might be a step towards intercourse between Isaac (Ogden) and the clergyman if she could make little Jacob take a fancy to the parsonage.

Without giving Jacob any time to answer Susy Tattersall's remark in a grave and breathless manner, 'It's Mistress Ogden; who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage.'

Without giving Jacob any time to answer Susy Tattersall's remark in a grave and breathless manner, 'It's Mistress Ogden; who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage.'

Without giving Jacob any time to answer Susy Tattersall's remark in a grave and breathless manner, 'It's Mistress Ogden; who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage, and who's a'en down 'r f'it at th' parsonage.'

from Kerwin's arm were injected into Gray's and in a short time the pulse was quite perceptible, the extremities resumed their normal condition and became warm, consciousness returned, and although he did not attempt to speak he evinced a knowledge of what was said to him and replied to questions by manual signs.

Upon learning the fatal result of the tragedy, Kerwin who had been out on bail was promptly arrested by the proper officer and committed to jail to await the action of the Grand Jury summoned by Judge Stone to investigate the case.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The first railroad in China, from Shanghai to Woon Sung, was opened on July 1st. The famous Castle Garden immigrant station at New York, was, last week, burned down.

By an explosion in a colliery near Metz, Germany, 42 persons were killed, 47 seriously injured. Lord Dudley is reported to have lost £30,000 by backing Lord Dunplins horse Petcher. But that is less than his income for a month.

Russia has addressed a circular note to her representatives abroad, announcing that she will not support Servia but remain a simple spectator. Owing to depressed trade, a reduction of ten per cent. on the wages of the Laneshire mill operatives is proposed.

The sale of Circassian girls to Turks continues. A correspondent of the London Times says that a Moslem dealer makes choice of four young unmarried girls, imports them to Constantinople, sells them and then goes back for more.

The Bank of France has two milliards of gold sold in its calculation it is calculated that it would require 500 drays, each with two horses, to transport this pile; the amount could settle the 'soft money' question in the States, enable the Sultan to build ten additional palaces, and pay off the interest of the Greek debt.

The news from Ottawa, that the English and French Governments have amicably settled the Newfoundland fishery business, which was much expected, and a great deal of learned and argumentative newspaper writing, and the subject of the difference of opinion between the two Governments would result in a rupture of their friendly relations.

A SINGULAR MURDER.

AN ATTEMPT TO SAVE A MAN BY USING ANOTHER MAN'S BLOOD. [From the Georgetown (Col.) Miner, June 17.] Last week we mentioned briefly the cutting of Frank Grey in the neck by Thomas Kerwin, on Monday, the 15th.

The event, however, has proved that the affair was destined to terminate in a tragedy that was not at first anticipated. The wounded man is dead and in his grave, and the murderer is safely locked up in jail.

Last Sunday night Gray, who was sleeping in an upper room in the Doyle House, was seized with a fit of coughing, and a fearful hemorrhage ensued. He was alone at the time, and started to the door to get the alarm and have the physician sent for.

THE YACHT COUNTESS OF DUFFERIN.

The Canadian Yacht Countess of Dufferin, which arrived here on Friday night, as reported in our last, sailed at 7 o'clock yesterday morning for New York. She was visited on Sunday by many persons interested in shipbuilding and yachting, among whom the general opinion was unfavorable.

THE LIVERPOOL & LONDON AND GLOBE INSURANCE COMPANY.

FIRE AND LIFE. Invested Funds, 1st Jan'y., 1874, $21,628,356 Deposited with Receiver General of Canada, 162,800 Other Investments in Dominion of Canada, 367,091