DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE

ARE NOT a Purgative Medicine. They are a BLOOD BUILDER, TONIC and RECONSTRUCTOR, as they supply in a condensed form the substances actually needed to enrich the Blood, curing all diseases coming from POOR and WATERY BLOOD, or from VITIATED HUMORS in the BLOOD, and also invigorate and BUILD UP the BLOOD and SYSTEM, when broken down by overwork, mental worry, disease, excesses and indiscretions. They have a SPECIFIC ACTION on the SEXUAL SYSTEM of both men and women, restoring LOST VIGOR and correcting all IRREGULARITIES and SUPPRESSIONS.

EVERY MAN Who finds his mental faculties dull or failing, or his physical powers flagging, should take these PILLS. They will restore his lost energies, both physical and mental.

EVERY WOMAN should take them. They cure all suppressions and irregularities, which inevitably entail sickness when neglected.

YOUNG MEN should take these PILLS. They will cure the results of youthful bad habits, and strengthen the system.

YOUNG WOMEN should take them. These PILLS will make them regular.

For sale by all druggists, or will be sent upon receipt of price (50c. per box), by addressing

Obituary.

Peter Rose, Esq., miller, peacefully passed away at his residence, Lakeville, King's County, P. E. I., on Wednesday evening, 4th March, 1891, in the 58th year of his age. Deceased was the eldest son of the late Stephen Rose, Esq., J. P., of North Lake. Mr. Rose was a man of sound judgment, who by his industry and preseverance, built up one of the finest mill properties in King's County. Modest and unassuming, yet directing his plans with such wisdom as to insure success, possessed of a kind heart and a liberal mind he was always ready to lend a helping hand to the needy. His upright and honest dealings with the public, whom he faithfully served for over forty years, justly won the respect and admiration of all classes. In his death the community has lost a genial, kind-hearted friend and faithful servant, the Baptist Church a worthy and consistant member whose liberal hand was ever ready to assist every good cause, his family a kind and affectionate father whose wise counsels and kindly instructions will be sorely missed. He leaves a sorrowing widow, three sons and six daughters (two of the latter are in New York, U. S.,) besides numerous friends and relatives to mourn their loss.

Another friend is laid to rest,
One whom we've learned to love,
Has laid the Christian arm our down
To wear the crown above.
Where tears can never dim the eye,
Where sorrows are unknown,
Where peace and joy forever reign,
There is the Christian home.

The Reciprocity Conference.

The Washington correspondent of the Montreal Star telegraphed that paper on Monday an follows: Sir Charles Tupper has just given me the following interview: "I had the pleasure of an interview with Mr. Blaine, as you know on Thursday of last week, when I was received by the Secretary of State with great kindness. He then arranged to see Sir Julian Pauncefote and myself and the Dominion Ministers of Justice and Finance to-day with reference to freer trade relations between the United States and Canada, the Atlantic fisheries questions and other outstanding matters between the two countries, and Mr. Blaine subsequently saw the president, who expressed himself as very anxious to be here when the informal conferences were going on. I returned to Ottawa, and came back here with my co-delegates yesterday. In the meantime the British minister telegraphed to Ottawa, which message did not reach me before I left, saying it would be more convenient to take up the discussion at a later date."

Sir Charles added that the interview with Mr. Blaine this morning was of the most pleasing description and that the secretary of state has promised to advise the government of the Dominion when it will be convenient for the president and himself to go on with the conference. Sir Charles feels confident that there will be no difficulty in extending friendly relations between the United States and Canada in a way alike beneficial to both countries.

Sir Charles Tupper expects to sail on the Teutonic for London next Wednesday.

Parnell and the Liberals.

THE DETHRONED IRISH LEADER MAKES A SPEECH AT PHOENIX PARK.

Notwithstanding the rain, says a Dublin despatch, fully 2,000 people assembled at Phoenix Park, on Sunday, to assist in the demonstration of the Amnesty Association and protest against the continued imprisonment and alleged inhuman treatment of Irish and Irish-American political prisoners by the British Government. After speeches had been made by Messrs. Kenny, Parnell and others, resolutions were passed calling upon Irishmen at home and abroad to put forth every effort to secure the release of friends, and demanding that the Government hasten the unconditional surrender of prisoners. Parnell's speech was a tirade against the liberals, whom he accused of always making political prisoners, while the Conservatives released them. Parnell declared that the Irish party never made conditions with the government. The prisoners, he said, would rather rot in jail than accept anything but an unconditional release.

French Treaty Rights.

THE TROUBLE IN INDIA WILL BE SPEEDILY SETTLED.

In the House of Commons on the 6th according to a lata London despatch, William Henry Smith, first lord of the treasury, in reply to a question in regard to the proposed purchase of French treaty rights in Newfoundland by the withdrawal of the British troops in Egypt, said that the government had not received any communication from France on the subject of the British occupation of Egypt.

Sir James Ferguson, political secretary of the foreign office, on the same day, replying to a question in regard to the recent troubles in India, said that the affair at Manipur originated in a dispute between the Maharajah of Manipur and the latter's brother, a powerful chieftain. Finally the dispute assumed such a serious aspect that the Maharajah took refuge in the British residency, leaving the state in an extremely disordered condition. Chief Commissioner James W. Quinton, Sir James Ferguson added, met with resistance on the part of the Maharajah's brother, who was in command of the Manipur troops, and when Mr. Quinton went to Manipur in order to try to restore order and to reinstate the virtually deposed Maharajah in power. In conclusion, Sir James said that the viceroy of India, the Marquis of Lansdowne, had sent a telegraphic message to the foreign office, the substance of which was that he would speedily restore order in the disturbed distticts of India.

Concert at Webster's Corner.

The Glenfinnan Debating Club and Literary Institute closed for the season with a concert on the evening of the 1st inst. The weekly meetings of the Society which were held in the Schoolhouse throughout the winter season, were scenes of social enjoyment and pleasant recreation. On every occasion numbers exceeding the seating capacity of the schoolroom were wont to gather to listen to the embroyo debaters in their efforts to grapple with and discuss the questions of the hour, and to become enabled, so to speak, "to give a reason for the opinions that are in them;" and so successful were they that on more than one occasion there were displays of argumentative ability and logical reasoning that would have done credit to a more aspiring assembly than an unpretentious country debating club. It was gratifying to hear so many young men of this and neighboring localities whose avocations do no lie within the literary sphere, discuss literary and historical questions in a manner which reflected credit upon them, and which showed that their acquaintance with classic lore is more than superficial, and that they are accustomed to take long and frequent draughts from the delicious fountains of history. Another pleasing feature was the sympathy manifested by the whole community whose interest in the society seemed to increase as the season advanced.

The concert was a splendid success, considering that it was pre-eminently an amateur performance. The programme consisted of a number of sentimental and comic songs, solos, duets and choruses, interspersed with laughable dialogues, stump speeches, recitations and readings. The musical part, under the superintendence of Messrs. David and Wm. McDonald, was appropriately chosen and splendidly rendered. The dialogues, although conducted by amateurs, were well given and well received—eliciting long and frequent bursts of applause. The comic readings and recitations were up to the standard, especially those by Mr. Daniel Stewart, whose inimitable style in rendering and dramatic touch in illustrating his subject matter, had a magical effect upon the audience.

The committee are indebted to Mr Jas. H. Cummiskey for placing at their disposal for the occasion, his large and suitable warehouse in which the entertainment was held, and which was crowded to excess, despite the uninviting condition of the roads. Although it seated some three hundred comfortably, it was evident that a properly equipped hall would have been more satisfactory. But judging by the very large audience which greeted the performers and the intese interest which they evinced in their efforts, it is plain that the people of this locality are ripe for the consideration of a proposal to build and equip a public hall for such assemblages; and that this is a question which will, ere long, be taken from the theoretical and reduced to the practical. It needs but a guiding spirit to take the initiative step—success awaits him.

To those not members of the Club who assisted in the performance and contributed so materially to its success, the committtee are likewise indebted.

Church Circles Excited

OVER A RECENT DELIVERANCE OF CARDINAL LAVIGERIE AT ALGIERS.

A Rome despatch of the 6th says: Cardinal Lavigerie's recent toast at Algiers and the events which rapidly followed are much discussed in church. Everything clearly indicates the decided drift of the Catholic church toward modern democracy. Pope Leo XIII. has always considered it of prime importance for the church to free itself from identification with the old dynastic parties, especially in France. He has long desired to bring the church into harmony with the popular party, but it is necessary to move slowly, so as to wound loyalist and aristocratic susceptibilities as little as possible. Preparations for the new evolution were carefully made, and when the decisive hour came Cardinal Lavigerie boldly struck the new note. Cardinal Lavigerie's speech brought a storm of letters to the vatican. All France grew excited. Bishops clamored for advice and old parties protested. While the idea of the toast was suggested and approved by the Vatican, the form it took was not entirely satisfactory. The ardent primate of Africa went somewhat beyond the bounds. He attacked the old parties and taunted them with having been in alliance with Boulangism. This vigorous language, however, made all France understand unmistakably that the church intend to break with the past. It was no more an equivocal meaning. Leo XIII. said with regard to this the Cardinal has done right. It was necessary to strike a great blow in order to get out of this condition of hesitancy and confusion. The Pope sees that the future belongs to the democracy. He has a great admiration for the American democracy, of which he is a close student. He is convinced that the United States will furnish a form for conclusions of European society as well as ecclesiastic questions. He believes sincerely that Europe is marching toward democracy, with republican institutions as the predestined goal. In his character as pontiff he dare not say so, nor can he make of this conviction an absolute doctrine, which he could force upon others, but Cardinal Lavigerie's development on the future triumphs of the republic is certainly an echo of the close conversations which he has had with Leo XIII.
