

Campaign Notes.

Mr. Blake talks, in his manifesto to the West Durham electors, about changing the tariff so as to reduce the "enormous profits" of the sugar refineries. This word enormous used to be the sole property of Mr. Anglin, but he may have given Mr. Blake the copyright for Ontario. When it is remembered that the whole profit of the Moncton sugar refinery is only a small fraction of a cent on the sugar it handles, the reader can appreciate Mr. Blake's accuracy in the use of this particular adjective, but it will not be so easy to understand how he can lessen the profits without closing the refineries.

Among the principal items of expenditure may be named those for tea, coffee, sugar and store goods. No increase of price has taken place as compared with the average rate under so-called free trade. Tea and coffee will be further reduced in price by the removal of the duties; while in sugar, as well as cottons and woollens, the price will be maintained at a low rate on account of the keen competition between manufacturers.

Summing up these opinions given by those interested in the respective industries and judging of the prices as they are known to the public, the fact stands out sharp and clear that the Canadian farmer, while receiving more for his products, is paying less for his farm implements and household necessities.

Sir Albert Smith has suddenly, in the very midst of the election excitement, appeared in a new role as the head of the "Dorchester Tanning and Boot and Shoe Factory." The hum at Moncton must have electrified him into an appreciation of the benefits of the National Policy. The capital of his company is twenty thousand dollars. Sir Albert will at once take rank as a bloated monopolist, using the protective tariff on leather as a means of enlarging his already enormous fortune.

The Grits fight shy of the remarkable fact that during the nearly four year's existence of the last Parliament, thirty by Dominion elections were held, in which the Government lost only two seats, while it gained six. They rave about reaction in general, but they steer wide of these elections which show that the Government net gain by them was twice as large as its loss.

The Grits in Ontario have dropped the N. P. like a hot potato. Another reform trimmer on the National Policy question has been heard from. He is Mr. Fairbank, of Petrolia, the Grit candidate for East Lambton. His views are peculiar. "The greatest danger would come from constantly tinkering with and changing the tariff." Presumably, therefore, he would not support a change, especially as we are told, "There was no battle between Free Trade and Protection in the present issue." He believed the principle of Protection good in many cases, and cited petroleum as an example—a trade which has been fostered and built up by Protection. Any such trade would receive protection from any Government." Mr. Fairbank is himself largely interested in petroleum. That explains the milk in the cocoa nut. Mr. Fairbank's position, moreover, affords further proof that the Grits are afraid to face the issue of the National Policy. What has the Patriot to say to this?

Sir Albert is not always successful in persuading his constituents that the cost of the necessities of life has been increased. He stopped his team in front of a house in Westock the other day, and had "said his piece" as far as the word "flour" when his hearer interrupted with:

"I don't believe anything of the kind. I have bought flour for the last fifteen years and paid as much as $11 a barrel for it when Mackenzie was in power, while the highest I have paid in the last four years is $8, and generally less than that."

"Its no use to talk with you," said the Knight angrily—"Drive on," he shouted to his charioteer and they sped onward to Woodlawn.—Moncton Times.

Farm Notes.

Many persons work their breeding mares in a team up to the time of foaling, and have them do well. This is a much better plan than to keep them tied up in a stall.

A mare in foal should be allowed exercise daily in the barnyard, to give opportunity to roll, and it would be better to confine her loose in a box stall rather than tie her up. Gentle driving on the road, or even work, while not injure her.

The mare should never when advanced in foal be turned in a yard or field with other horses. If there is a scanty supply of milk when the colt is born, the mother should be fed wheat middlings at the rate of eight or twelve quarts a day, beginning with four, and increasing the feed daily. Excessive feeding might lead to derangement of the bowels, which would be injurious to the colt.

Considerable excitement has been caused among South western people by the report that Texas has issued land certificates for 18,000,000 more acres of land than can be found subject to possession under them.

Things to Remember.

Remember that David Laird was elected by Belfast to stop the Railway, and that he built fifty miles of branches.

Remember that he was elected as an anti-confederate, and that he started for Ottawa in the night to negotiate terms of union with what he himself called "the Canadian Harlot."

Remember that he bargained for $26,000 a year less than the Island afterwards received under the Pope-Haviland-Howland Terms.

Remember that he agreed that the proceeds of the Fishery Award should be Dominion property.

Remember that he was elected for Queen's County to support Sir John A. McDonald.

Remember that he "sold" Sir John for a seat in the Grit Cabinet.

Remember that he attempted, and as far as he was able, did disfranchise more than half the voting population of the Island.

Remember that he sold the representation of the Island in the Cabinet for a Governorship in the North West, and $8000 a year.

Remember that he betrayed every political principle he ever professed.

Remember that he asked that his tongue might cleave to the roof of his mouth and his right hand loose its cunning, if he ever voted for separate schools.

Remember that he voted for separate schools in the whole of the great North West.

Remember that he charged $1,600 for travelling expenses in coming home to Charlottetown.

Remember that Louis H. Davies, while Attorney General of Prince Edward Island, neglected our interests for the sake of a large fee from the Dominion.

Remember that he says now that our claim for a share of the Fishery Award is separate and distinct from the other provinces.

Remember that he did not urge that claim before the Commission as the Attorney General for Newfoundland did.

Remember that everything he did was to put money into his own pocket and the Dominion Treasury, instead of looking after the interests of the people of this Island.

Remember that he supports Edward Blake, who says that up to 1880 the Dominion lost $1,027,000 by Prince Edward Island.

Remember that he supports Alexander Mackenzie, who, before the Cape Traverse Railway grant was made, said: "I think we have done very well by the Island, and we have carried out the Terms of Union to the utmost possible extent."

Remember that he supported David Laird through the whole of that gentleman's crooked career.

Remember that it will be to your interest to leave them both in private life; in order to do that, don't forget to mark your ballots for Brecken and Jenkins.

Remember that L. H. Davies says in his card that he is a FREE TRADER.

Remember that his leader and hero, Edward Blake, says in his card that Free Trade is impossible, and that he is in favor of MODERATE PROTECTION.

LORNE HIGHLAND WHISKY.

AN ANALYTICAL SANITARY INSPECTION

54, Holborn-viaduct, E.C., London, Aug. 8, 79

REPORT ON THE LORNE HIGHLAND WHISKY:

"We have visited the bottling stores of Greenlees Brothers, and have selected from the vats, samples of their Lorne Highland Whisky, and have subjected them to careful examination and analysis. The samples were very fragrant, mellow, and of pleasant flavor, and possessed all the characteristics of pure and well-matured Scotch Whisky of the first quality."
