The Favorite

Medicine for Throat and Lung Difficulties has long been, and still is, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It cures Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, and Asthma; soothes irritation of the Larynx and Fauces; strengthens the Vocal Organs; allays soreness of the Lungs; prevents Consumption, and, even in advanced stages of that disease, relieves Coughing and induces Sleep. There is no other preparation for diseases of the throat and lungs to be compared with this remedy.

"My wife had a distressing cough, with pains in the side and breast. We tried various medicines, but none did her any good until I got a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has cured her. A neighbor, Mrs. Glenn, had the measles, and the cough was relieved by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I have no hesitation in recommending this to every one afflicted."—Robert Horton Foreman Headlight, Morrillton, Ark.

Cough Medicine

"I have been afflicted with asthma for forty years. Last spring I was taken with a violent cough, which threatened to terminate my days. Every one pronounced me in consumption. I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Its effects were magical. I was immediately relieved and continued to improve until entirely recovered."—Joel Bullard, Guilford, Conn.

"Six months ago I had a severe hemorrhage of the lungs, brought on by an incessant cough which deprived me of sleep and rest. I tried various remedies, but obtained no relief until I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. A few bottles of this medicine cured me." Mrs. E. Coburn, 19 Second st., Lowell, Mass.

"For children afflicted with colds, coughs, sore throat, or croup, I do not know of any remedy which will give more speedy relief than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I have found it, also, invaluable in cases of Whooping Cough."—Ann Lovejoy, 1257 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

Souris Jottings.

A new side walk landing from Water Street to the Railway Wharf has just been laid. Pedestrians can now travel with comfort from one end of the village to the other. The street lamps have been recently re-lighted and young and old may be seen of an evening enjoying a stroll after the labors of the day are over.

Rev. W. W. Brewer preached in the Methodist Church on Sunday morning. The sermon is highly spoken of by those who heard it. The many friends of the Rev. Father Donald F. McDonald will be glad to learn thas he has recovered from his late illness and was able to celebrate mass in St. Mary's Church on Sunday last.

A large number of the fishing fleet, American and Provincial, came into Souris for shelter on Saturday where they remained until Monday when, the weather moderating, they weighed anchor and sailed for the fishing grounds. The cruiser Critic followed them. They all came back for shelter in the evening. They have all caught more or less mackerel within the last week or so. Seining, after the usual mode, has proved a complete failure this year. The plan adopted this season is, first to throw bait to raise the mackerel. If any appear, the hook and line are used for all they are worth by some of the crew, while others take charge of the seine, throwing it as dexterously as possible around the vessel, thus enclosing whatever mackerel may be within reach, which frequently are but few enough; but occasionally quite a haul is taken in this way. The shore fishermen are about giving up the chase. Some of them, however, have done exceedingly well this season. A few high lines at Priest Pond, North Lake, West River, and further west, have caught as high as $300 worth a dory. If mackerel are fewer than in former years, the extra high price which this year's comparatively small catch commands in the market, more than compensates the successful fishermen for the scarcity.

Farmers are beginning to bring their produce to market. The blight in the oat crop is an old story, but it is true all the same; and it is only now, when the grain is being threshed out, that the farmers fully realize how short a crop it is. Nevertheless, oats bring but 33 cents a bushel. Potatoes sell readily at 22 cents.

The schr. Maggie Alice, Capt. James Lannigan, owner and master, loaded with cattle, produce, etc., for St. Pierre, Miq., is now ready to sail. The schr. Twilight, Capt. George Leslie, is also preparing to take in a like cargo for the same market.

James Stanley, the young man who had his thigh broken on knight's wharf some few weeks ago, is booked for home in the Maggie Alice, Capt. Lannigan kindly consenting to take him back to his widowed mother in St. Pierre free of charge.

The schr. Armada, Capt. Ross, is ashore about two miles south of East Point. In coming round the reef she broke her foremast which caused her to become unmanageable. She ran ashore soon afterwards on the beach. The crew had considerable difficulty in getting ashore, but all landed safely. She is loaded with oats belonging to A. J. McLeod, of Stanley Bridge. The cargo is to be removed into another schooner. Unless a heavy storm sets in, it is thought the wreck may be yet floated off.

October 2, 1889.

Sturgeon Methodist Church Anniversary.

The above anniversary was held on Sunday, Sept. 29, when sermons were preached by the Rev. Silas James, of Murry Harbor South, at 10.30 a. m.; the Rev. W. H. Spencer, M. A., at 2.30 p. m., and the pastor, the Rev. John Goldsmith, at 6.30, to large and appreciative congregations.

On Tuesday, Oct. 1, the congregational picnic was held. A large number assembled and spent a very pleasant afternoon. At 6.30 p. m. the company adjourned to the church, where, after devotional exercises, conducted by the pastor, the chair was taken by the Hon. Senator Prowse, who opened the meeting with a very able and appropriate address.

The hon. chairman then introduced the Rev. John Read, of Charlottetown, who delivered his lecture on "Fashion," which was listened to with intense interest and delight.

A hearty vote of thanks to the lecturer was moved by Mr. Geo. Hickin und seconded by Mr. John Collings. A vote of thanks to the hon. Senator for his kindness in presiding, and a few remarks from the pastor brought a most successful anniversary to a close.

The financial result was a lessening of the Church debt by about $60.

IT is astonishing how rapidly the feeble and debilitated gain strength and vigor when taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. For what are called "broken-down constitutions," nothing else proved so effective as this powerful but perfectly safe medicine.

EXPORT OF GEESE.—The St. John Telegraph reports: "A carload of live geese, from P. E. Island, passed through St. John yesterday morniag. They were being sent to Mansfield, U. S., by Mr. S. H. Jones, who says he has some thousands of turkeys and ducks ready for shipment to Boston."

Personal.

Rev. W. H. Heartz and his daughter Janie, says the Amherst Record. left on Monday for New York, where Miss Heartz, who has been a student with Dr. Black, enters a medical college.

Emperor William favors execution by electricity.

Wm. O'Brien, M. P., is writing an Irish political novel.

Mr. Thomas Walsh, jr., has kindly consented to act as organist at St. Mary's Church, in Summerside.

With the Patriot we greatly regret to hear of the sad and sudden death death of Mr. Wallace Stewart, son of Donald Stewart, Esq., Cardigan. The deceased was employed as quarter-master on the ateamer Frostburg, running between Baltimore and Boston. When passing from the steamer Charles F. Mayer to his own steamer, lying in Baltimore harbor on the 23d inst., he fell down the hatchway of the former left carlessly open and was killed. The sad occurrence was so absolutely accidental that the coroner, after examining carefully into the matter, declined to hold an inquest.

The Queen is now enjoying her autumn sojourn in the Highlands of Scotland, the climate of which seems to agree with her health. A London correspondent says:—"There is no mere pretence in the semi-official statement communicated to the newspapers that Queen Victoria's health has been greatly improved by her visit to Scotland. She is in the most cheerful frame of mind, and as active as any woman of 70 could possibly be. She is interested in all her drives; and though she walks but little, she takes exercise up to the extent of her strength. Her enjoyment of the neighborhood, which she knows so well, seems to become more intense from familiarity, and every day seems to show the effect of the bracing air of the north upon her body and mind." Her Majesty will remain at Balmoral until the middle of November.

His Breath Took Fire.

HORRIBLE FATE OF A WHISKEY SOAKED BUM IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Twelve years ago last months a man met death in a peculiar and horrible manner in San Francisco, says the St. Louis Republic. The writer believes that a full and succinct account of this rare accident has never been given the public, the proprietor of the establishment where it occurred keeping the facts from the reporters for fear of hurting his trade. They are about as follows: James Harley, the victim, had just recovered from an attack of delirium tremens. He had been a regular sot and was thoroughly soaked with alcohol. His last attack of the "jim-jams" was the third he had undergone within a few months. On the morning in question he had started on another spree. At about 11 o'clock in the day he had about all the liquor on board he was able to carry. Stepping into a saloon on one of the principal streets, he called for a swig of "bug juice," which was promptly refused, the bartender noting the condition of the man and remembering his late battle with the snakes. Harley scowled, and turned to a gas jet to light his pipe. A second later there was a drunken moan, a flash of alcoholic flame, and Harley fell heavily on the floor, his head and neck veiled in smoke, while blue jets of flame was issuing from his ears, mouth and nostrils. As soon as water could be procured (water is a commodity rather scarce around such places) it was dashed in the sufferer's face, not in time, however, to save his life. The face was as black as that of a negro. The ears were charred, the inside of the mouth black, and the tongue roasted to a crisp. It was a horrible and uncanny death, for which a duplicate would be hard to find.

It is now claimed that Brown-Sequard's elixir is as old as the days of Aristotle, and probably about as effective for the cure of human ills as the hell booth of the witches in Macbeth. In the meantime the venerable editor of the New York Journal of Commerce, who has worked away for thirty years without sickness, or holidays, or other intermission, has given to the world his recipe for securing a green old age. It is concise and easy to remember—"Plenty of exercise, plenty of sleep and plenty of religion." Coming from an editor who has successfully tried it, this formula may be accepted as infallible.
