

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

MAY 7, 1889.

Notes and Comments.

The Patriot has three parts of a column of redomantada (vulgarily known as rot) to cover its defeat on the question of the Public Works Department.

An ominous study this, of armed Europe. Seven nations—Germany, France, Russia, Italy, Austria, Turkey and the Balkan States—show a war strength of 10,480,000 men.

The grasshopper plague again confronts Minnesota. How to rid the farm of the pests is, indeed, a serious question.

The check-rein, which passes from the mouth over the horse's head, is a most foolish contrivance of torture, which possesses not one excuse for its use.

The Philharmonic Society has taken possession of the building, given it a thorough cleaning, and fitted it up for their use.

The interior is lighted by gas jets placed very high on each side of the walls, and an electric light will be hung near the ceiling in the centre of the apartment.

Many and various are the ways of earning a livelihood in great cities. A youth, for instance, is making quite a comfortable income in Paris by displaying the amazingly retentive memory with which nature has gifted him.

Emerson Wood, with Christy's London Hats, is at the Hotel Davies.

Mr. C. F. Fraser, of the Halifax Critic, is visiting the city. He is at the Hotel Davies.

Mr. H. H. Harvey, representing Mark, Fisher & Co., wholesale woolen merchants, Montreal, is registered at the Davies.

At the congregational meeting held last evening, the Rev. W. A. Crawford-Frost intimated his intention of resigning his position as Curate of St. Paul's Church in this city.

The will of the late John S. Maclean, of Halifax, leaves the bulk of his property to his wife and two daughters, with small bequests to other relatives.

We hear that the Rev. Fred. E. J. Lloyd has resigned the position he has held in St. Peter's Church, and that the resignation will take effect in September next.

Dr. C. E. Simmons, who is trying to secure $143,350 for the executors for medical aid to the late Samuel J. Tilden, figures up the sum by charging $50 a visit for 2,200 visits, and $50 a day for holding himself in readiness to devote his exclusive attention to Mr. Tilden.

Mr. A. E. Alexander, of Campbellton, N. B., against whom the Supreme Court of Canada recently gave damages for a libel published in the Moncton Transcript, has declared that he will carry the case to the Privy Council of England.

Mr. Wm. Murray, M. P. P. for Restigouche County, was on P. E. Island last week, and he thinks that it is a "perfect garden."

He says he is surprised at some of the Island papers talking up the States when they have everything of their own. Mr. Murray says he is glad that he visited the Island, and can testify to the prosperity of that province.

The Westerner says: Last week we had a notice of a review article on "Christianization of Money," by Rev. Wm. Harrison, of Charlottetown.

We are glad to know that his high appreciation by Dr. Harrison, the editor of the Southern Review, found expression in the form of a check for a handsome sum to the writer.

An intimation has reached us also that on the ground of a former article in the same review, on "The Mechanical Conception of the World," on nomination of Dr. Deems, Mr. Harrison has been elected by the executive committee (sought on his part) to membership in the American Institute of Christian Philosophy.

We hope that our brother may continue to make valuable contributions to the literature of Christian Philosophy.

New trussings and worsted opening today, also American and Canadian straw hats at prices to meet your pocket book at D. A. Bruce's.

Two Sonnets.

DR. CLAUDIUS.

Not until thirty years had passed him by / Knew he the taste of Love. Then the strange wine / Seized on his blood, working a rage divine / Within him. Now Life's roseate streams, / long dry,

Burst into flow; the earth, the sea, the sky / Grew beauty-haunted; a new sun did shine: / For on his heart had risen the visible sign / Of holy womanhood's high mystery.

Love-haloed went the happy days. The strength / Of ten was in his arms; a courser's fire / Fretted his limbs. All tasks were fairy-like, / Even absence found, spanning its weary length,

A bridge swung 'twixt two towers; this, rising higher, / Was Hope; that, Memory—sinking to sight.

The Soul's true heritage is Beauty. She / Doth ever know her own. The mystic fire / Of Love she carries wakes to warm desire / When Beauty beckons. Though the melody / Be over, some sweet cadence lingeringly / Will haunt her chambers, at some hidden choir

Had seized it, nor would let the strain expire / Till they were tuned for rarer songs to be.

The Soul's life-stay is Beauty. Beauty calms / The Soul distraught with craving of new bliss. / Her godlike hunger-pains all with this / Are soothed, as festered wounds with bath of balms.

She greets her dower of visitants with a kiss: / They rouse within the cadences of psalms.

T. A. LEPAGE.

New Academy of Music.

The old building known by the several names of Temperance Hall, Atheneum, and Gospel Army Hall, has had much to do with the former development of Charlottetown civilization and refinement.

At the time of the Crimean war a series of entertainments were held in the building to raise funds for assisting the hospitals at the seat of war, and latterly the Gospel Army has carried on a rather noisy bombardment of the enemy. The citizens and their building may thus be said to have passed through the heroic period of their existence, and we may now hope that the usually succeeding period of art and poetry may follow.

The Philharmonic Society has taken possession of the building, given it a thorough cleaning, and fitted it up for their use. The old temporary gallery which disfigured the interior has been taken down, and the hall, which is one of the most beautifully proportioned in the city, now presents a very fine appearance.

The interior is lighted by gas jets placed very high on each side of the walls, and an electric light will be hung near the ceiling in the centre of the apartment, so that the light may fall over the audience and down upon the platform, instead of being directly in front and dazzling to the eyes.

The interior effect in the afternoons is very pleasant, the windows being on the south side, so that the sunlight during the day continually has a beneficial effect on the atmospheric air of the building.

The acoustic properties of the apartment are almost perfect. A singer by simply breathing sound can be heard very easily all over the hall, so that in this particular for all concert purposes it will be the best interior in the city.

The floor of the hall and small end gallery are capable of seating exactly the same number of persons as the Y. M. C. A. Hall, so that the Philharmonic Society will be able to use their excellent hall for concert purposes as well as for musical practices and class room instruction in vocalism and orchestration.

The hall will make a pleasant and cheerful club room for the Charlottetown musicians and their friends.

A full meeting of the one hundred and forty Philharmonic members is to be held on Thursday evening for enrollment when the Society will be pleased to have the presence of any of the citizens who are at all interested in music, even if they do not intend to become members of the Association.

Stage Notes.

The Wood-St. John English Dramatic Company are now playing in St. John. They evidently do not intend visiting the Island.

Peck & Fursman's New York Minstrels are considering the advisability of giving one or more performances in this city. They are in correspondence with the Manager of the Lyceum on the subject.

Burnham & Phillips' Comedy Company are corresponding with the Manager of the Lyceum with a view to giving a series of performances in this city.

Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company have secured the Lyceum for one performance—December 5.

Newton Brothers' "Lost in London" Company have written the Manager of the Lyceum asking for dates in the latter part of February next.

The manager of the Haydn Quartette has notified the Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. that owing to the illness of two of their number, they will be unable to keep their engagement in this city. They will, however, visit the city as soon as possible.
