

Island's Transport Problem Serious Says P.E.I. Premier

The transportation situation on Prince Edward Island was never more serious than the opinion expressed by Premier A.W. Matheson Thursday morning following his return from the Premier's Conference at St. John's, Nfld., Wednesday night.

"We need a new car ferry at Borden immediately," he said. The Premier underlined the need for a car ferry by citing the present condition at Borden where only the Abegweit is available for car carrying service at present and the tie up there during old Home Week.

The SS Prince Edward Island, damaged by fire last Saturday, will return to service Monday but will be carrying freight only.

"We must have another boat at once," said the Premier, "and at the same time a decision to construct a causeway must be made, if such an undertaking is feasible."

The Premier heartily endorsed a proposal to hold technical talks on methods to forestall further freight rate increases by Canadian Railways.

He termed as an excellent idea the proposal made by Attorney General Robert Bonner of British Columbia. The Attorney-General was quoted Thursday as saying five provinces — P.E.I., N.S., N.B., Manitoba and Saskatchewan have agreed to a B.C. proposal to hold such talks to be held at Ottawa, October 1st or 2nd. The talks, he felt, would be a prelude to a meeting of political heads of the Provinces later on.

Previous commitments would not allow the Premier to attend this conference. He doubted whether N.S. or N.B. would be represented on a ministerial level.

The Premier made it known that the hearings on freight rate increases slated September 29th, have been postponed indefinitely.

porter of athletics of all kinds and particularly of track and field events for the boys and girls of school age.

Proving his enthusiasm and desire to support and promote athletics, Mr. Pendergast has donated a beautiful trophy to be presented to the winner of the boy's running high jump—one of his favorite events. All other trophies, silver and bronze trophies are being awarded by the Physical Fitness Division.

Among schools entered in this big meet up to time of going to press last night were: Souris Convent, Souris High School, Georgetown High, Montague High, Parkdale, Morell, Rochford Square, Prince Street, West Kent, Queen Square, Queen Charlotte High, Birchwood High, Mount Stewart, Southport, Pownall, Notre Dame Academy, West Royalty, St. Mary's Academy, S'Side, High, Prince of Wales College, Slermon Park, O'Leary, Model School and Victoria.

It would appear that our young student athletes will be out in force giving everything they have for their respective schools. Let us have a good turnout of parents, schoolmates and friends to cheer them on and applaud their performances.

APEC Talks Described As Best Ever

Dr. Frank MacKinnon, president of APEC described the recent meeting at St. John's, Nfld., this week as the best ever held Thursday.

Dr. MacKinnon noted that 54 business men from the Atlantic Provinces were in attendance along with 35 from Newfoundland. The APEC President felt that the full scale economic study authorized at the meeting will uncover potentialities and correct existing defects.

He said that when the study is completed APEC hopes to have what he termed a "blueprint of Atlantic development that will serve as a guide for business and government in the area."

China Clipper Closes Door on Big Four

Normie Kwong, popular all-Canadian with the Edmonton Eskimos, says "This winter I've tackled the big four problem and thrown it for a loss. Sharp Increase In Free World Trade With Reds

GENEVA (AP)—A sharp increase in the free world's trade with Russia and Red China was reported Thursday by the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe.

The quarterly bulletin said Russia became an increasingly important trading partner for Western Europe and other areas during 1957. At the same time trade between Russia's European satellites and the West showed signs of stagnation, it said.

The bulletin gave this summary: The West's increased trade with Russia was mostly in Russian imports, although Russian exports of raw materials—particularly tin—had an important influence.

Russia's chief purchases from the West were machinery, ships, steel products, copper wire, Cuban cane sugar and other tropical agricultural products.

RELAXED BARRIERS Easing of the West's restrictions on strategic exports to the Soviet bloc was likely to lead to even greater Western shipments to Russia in the near future.

During 1957, Russia's imports from Western Europe rose 29 per cent to $782,000,000, while Russia's exports to Western Europe rose 16 per cent to $624,000,000.

Russia's exports to raw material producing countries outside the Soviet bloc rose 54 per cent to $347,000,000, while Soviet Union imports from these countries rose 31 per cent to $153,000,000.

No comparable statistics were given for the West's trade with Red China, but the bulletins said Western Europe's shipments to continental China "showed a relatively great increase." It added this was a "result particularly of the changes in export licensing policies which brought restrictions against China into line with those against the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe."

U.A.R. TRADE GROWS An exceptionally rapid increase was reported in trade relations between Russia and the United Arab Republic.

The bulletin said the most striking change in the world's non-ferrous metal markets was the sudden emergence of the Soviet Union as a major exporter. After exporting virtually no non-ferrous metals in 1955, Russia sold large quantities of tin and aluminum, particularly to Britain and Holland, in 1957 and 1958.

The bulletin said there was growing interest in Latin America for development of trade with Russia and other Eastern European countries.

Annual Interscholastic Track And Field Meet Here Sat.

Last evening it was announced by the Physical Fitness Division of the Department of Education that the stage is about all set for the annual Provincial Interscholastic Track and Field Championships to be held at Memorial Field, weather permitting, this Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

Considerable work has been done to round the track into shape with city officials co-operating by giving the track a final rolling yesterday.

Today, Divisional representatives will put down the lane markings, dig up the jumping pit, etc., and try to have everything ship-shape for good times and distances Saturday.

As usual, a group of enthusiastic, experienced officials will be on hand to run off the Meet and interest is running high among the athletes (some 500 or more) who will represent in the vicinity of 25 schools from Souris to Alberton.

This year's entry list will be the biggest ever and all officials are asking is that the weatherman give them a good day for the events. In the event of rain the meet and the Scout-Guide meet will be postponed a week each.

Indicative of the keen interest in this year's meet many athletes of bygone glorious days will be on hand to watch the present day youngsters casting experienced eyes over the performers for outstanding prospects.

Among these will be "Big Jim" Pendergast, who is well-known to all for his athletic prowess when a young man. "Big Jim" is an ardent supporter of athletics of all kinds and particularly of track and field events for the boys and girls of school age.

AMONG THE FARMERS

Federation of Agriculture Newsletter

REPRESENTATION
From time to time and for a variety of reasons persons question the right and fitness of the Federation of Agriculture to represent on behalf of the farmers. Those who question the Federation's position base their contention on the grounds that the percentage of farmers who are individual members of the organization is not sufficiently high.

First of all it should be understood that the organization is basically a "Federation", which undertakes to join together other organizations associated with farming.

In this province some 13 groups are members of the Federation including the Dairymen's Association of which over 7000 farmers are members, the women's institute with approximately 5,000 members and the Co-operative union and Credit union leagues each with a large membership.

In short, even if the Federation did not itself have any individual members it could very well claim to be a body which is in a position to represent farm opinion.

Added to all this is of course the fact that for over ten years a large number of individual farmers have been members of the organization and have supported it financially.

This fall the Federation will have an individual membership list of between 4 and 5 thousand and this does not include wives of members who are also granted membership privileges. The day will probably never come when any organization or any government may lay claim to 100% support but the farmers of Prince Edward Island are now within the reach of their objective in developing an organization with support sufficiently strong and sufficiently diversified that no one can question its right to act as the farmers' advocate.

NEWFOUNDLAND TRADE
The recent visit to Newfoundland provided an excellent opportunity of assessing the importance of that province as a customer for Western European and Prince Edward Island in particular.

Prince Edward Island sells a very large volume of farm products to the oldest colony and it would appear it could sell a much more. Anyone who holds the opinion that Newfoundland is a market for inferior products should quickly discard it. St. Johns is a city of almost 70 thousand people most of whom have high standards of living and know what good products are and will not be satisfied with anything less. The market must be continuously supplied with good quality products and it is not good business for this province for St. Johns to be without potatoes as was the case at times last winter. The population is now climbing upwards to the 1/2 million mark. It is not likely that farm production will increase in a marked way. Therefore food will be imported in large quantities and Prince Edward Island is the natural supplier and with proper management should be able to increase its share of the business.

However, this increase will be dependent upon the provision of the best quality possible, of products which can be produced here and are not presently supplied, upon continuous and satisfactory shipping services with reasonable freight rates. In fact the Newfoundland trade is so important to us that it may well merit the setting up under public authority of a commission to investigate, promote and supervise the entire operation.

LAMB FLOOR
The stabilization board has announced that lamb prices will be supported at Public Stockyards across Canada and at inspected plants in the Maritime Provinces. The Board undertakes to purchase as of March 31, 1959 lamb carcasses in the hands of processors, on this condition that the support prices had been maintained at the various points. This support will be on "Good lambs", which are defined as those producing A1 or B1 carcasses of 36 to 51 pounds warm weight and which give a dressing percentage of at least 49%.

The price at Maritime plants will be $18.45 for live lambs of these grades, all other grades will be settled for on prevailing market prices.

FARM FORUM
Next Monday evening the new season of Farm Forum will get underway when the provincial committee holds its organization meeting and sets the wheels turning for the coming year.

The Maritimes hope to have 250 forums this year, our share is 70 a figure which means almost double last years. This may not be an easy task but it is certainly not an impossible one as there certainly must be that many groups of people in this province who may see the value of devoting a small share of their time for the study of farm problems.

EGG BOARDS
In two provinces Alberta and

Saskatchewan plebiscites on the question of setting up egg marketing plants failed to give satisfactory support and no boards were established.

In Saskatchewan only one-third of those eligible voted and these gave a 65.1% in favour. Actually this did fulfil the requirements but the government decided against the plan on grounds of insufficient interest on the part of producers.

In Alberta over 26 thousand were eligible to vote, 15 thousand did and of these 10 thousand were in favour. Alberta requires a 51% of all eligible, this vote was not reached and no board will be established.

CATTLE EXPORT
Cattlemen will be interested in the regulations which go into effect on October 11 covering contagious abortion in cattle for export. The regulations are lengthy but briefly the following:

- (1) Cattle from July listed herds may go into the United States if they have had a clean test within 30 days of import.
- (2) Cattle from negative herds in certified areas may be exported if they have a clean test within 30 days.
- (3) From herds which have had a clean test not more than 3 months before shipment cattle may be shipped if they have a clean test within 30 days provided the herd test was 15 days before that.
- (4) Calfood vaccinated animals under 30 months of age may be shipped provided the herd is not known to contain the disease. Generally so far as Prince Edward Island is concerned we are now a certified area and a test within 30 days will qualify an animal for export to the United States. Further, vaccinated animals may enter without any test.

RURAL YOUTH
The big event of this week is of course the harvest fair and the big round up of 4-H clubs. Young people from all over the province and representing the most accomplished in the 4-H groups will either compete for or be awarded provincial honours. The group of young people who have been selected to represent the province at National 4-H Week are to be especially congratulated. On their shoulders rests the responsibility of creating a good impression nationally for all 4-H club people.

While of course the development of the boy or girl is the real purpose of the program yet a great deal of interest does center particularly in the livestock competition.

James E. Doyle Dies In Ch'town
The death occurred in the Charlottetown Hospital on Wednesday morning of James E. Doyle, long resident of North River in the school district of East Wiltshire. He was in his 78th year.

Born in Covehead, the son of the late James Doyle and Anne Carroll, Mr. Doyle moved to North River 47 years ago where he married Jimma Collins. He was a highly successful farmer and took an active interest in community affairs. A member of Saint Dunstan's Parish, he was a member of the Holy Name Society.

Besides his widow, Mr. Doyle is survived by a daughter Mary (Mrs. Ollie Shreenan) of Bedford; Louis of Charlottetown and Francis on the homestead. Also surviving are eleven grandchildren. A brother Alfred lives in Covehead and Lemuel in Boston. A sister Annie (Mrs. Joseph Ray) also resides in Boston.

The funeral will be held this morning from the Hennessy Funeral home at 8:45 for requiem high mass at St. Dunstan's Basilica at 9:00 o'clock.

POLO IN DETROIT
DETROIT (AP) — Detroit has been hit by its worst outbreak of polo since the introduction of Salk polo vaccine. At least 440 cases have been reported this year, with 12 deaths. Health authorities say about 30 to 35 per cent of the cases have been paralytic, but that no paralytic cases and no deaths have been reported among persons who received the full three shot treatment of polo vaccine.
