THE VENEZUELAN AND THE MONROE DOCTRINE. (Harper's Weekly.)

The dispute between Venezuela and Great Britain is likely to continue to be very interesting to the people of the United States. Strong efforts are being made, and will continue to be made, to involve this country in a contention with Great Britain, but under no circumstances ought the United States to take the ground that the Monroe doctrine is applicable.

EP P S COCOA

BREAKFAST-SUPPER. "By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal ailment by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."

J. R. DAVISON.

To the Citizens of Charlottetown:

We have gone to considerable expense this fall increasing our plant to supply Incandescent Lights.

and we are now about prepared to contract for any number of lights that may be required within the limits of the city. We, therefore, ask all, not to enter into any contract before getting our rates. About first of December we purpose running our plant twenty hours out of the twenty-four.

TIMELY FARM NOTES.

The value of a good bed for stock in winter can hardly be over-estimated. Use bedding liberally and stock will respond as liberally as to generous feeding.

Every cow of a dairy herd should be examined through a Babcock tester. The milk should be weighed and tested so that the profitable cow should be known and weeded out of the herd.

Both laboring feed may be wasted if the cows which give less than average quantities of butter fat or casein are not turned over to the butcher.

Agriculture is the parent of arts, not because it was the first, but because all other arts are dependent on it, and cannot exist without it. It is the great business of civilized life and gives employment to a vast majority of almost every people.

Following the same method for years teaches nothing. In feeding horses during the winter use several kinds of feed, and note the condition of the animals. It is extravagant to feed expensive grain when cheaper hay and fodder may answer.

An Idaho sheep raiser sent 1,500 wethers to England. Their weight was 116 pounds each. He paid $2 per sheep for shipment, and forty cents for selling. Seven men went with the sheep to care for them, they sold for $7.75 per head, and the man who raised them had a net profit of $1.75 per head.

The dispute between Venezuela and Great Britain is likely to continue to be very interesting to the people of the United States. Strong efforts are being made, and will continue to be made, to involve this country in a contention with Great Britain, but under no circumstances ought the United States to take the ground that the Monroe doctrine is applicable.

Mr. Richard Harding Davis, in a very interesting article on Venezuela, published in Harper's Magazine for December, gives the history of the Monroe doctrine. It appears that our neighbors have been misled. It is the Venezuelan belief that, however a republic may at its best and noblest, and is bound, under the Monroe doctrine, to sustain it with force of arms. The Venezuelans will find their selves sadly mistaken if they base any action whatever upon this construction of the doctrine.

RHEUMATISM

Its Cause and Cure. A poisonous Acid in the Blood, which needs removal. Only one means for a radical cure.

Rheumatism is a blood disease, due to the presence of uric acid—a poison—in the system, and it is only by the removal of this pain-producing poison, that a radical cure can be effected.

Several Oklahoma attorneys have divorce agencies in New York and Chicago. The cost of the machinery of the new second-class British cruiser Gladstone is $2,500,000.

San Jose, Cal., is the largest prune market in the world. In a single week that city has shipped to other markets 4,000,000 pounds.

The most rapid growth in the exports of Japan is in flour millings, which now go to the United States and Europe in lots of 100,000 bales at a time.

There is a little village named Markonkirk in the north of Scotland, where every working person—men, women and children—is engaged in the manufacture of violins.

The Brewers' Journal states that English syndicates are $1,000,000 invested in American breweries, the dividend on which, at 9 per cent, last year was $8,190,000, and was paid in gold.

It is said that the American syndicate will soon operate a steamship line between Japan and some point on the North Pacific coast. Seattle is making a strong effort to become the American terminus of the line.

A dispatch from Saginaw, Mich., says the demand for men in the lumber woods exceeds the supply, and wages range from $12 to $22 a month. Large numbers have been hired for the Georgian Bay district and Upper Michigan.

A novelty in advertising is shown in a Scotch church. A congregation could not pay its minister, when a soap firm offered to pay $500 a year for five years on condition that its advertisement be hung up in front of the gallery in the church. The offer was accepted.

A plan to supply London with pure water has been submitted to the County Council by which dams will be built to the Woburn and Great Ouse, and the water then conveyed across England by an aqueduct, 170 miles long. The supply would be 415,000,000 gallons a day, and the estimated cost of the work $194,000,000.

No note of the $5,000 or so issued by the Bank of England is ever issued again. Even the smallest note is paid in cancelled and an account kept of its filing. One of the curiosities of the bank is a £5 note which was paid in after being out 11 years.

In the bank album for large notes and other curiosities is a £1,000,000 bank note which was once issued for convenience in a transaction involving a large amount of money.

Cotton manufacturing in Japan is the growth of the last fifteen years. Not a cotton mill, with one exception, of the cotton now has been started in operation prior to 1880, says the Industrial Record. Not more than about ten years ago the foreign depended almost wholly upon foreign products of factory made cotton fabrics, while now not over a fourth of this demand comes from foreign sources.

The Cotton Spinners' Association of Japan is the most recent source of the demand, and that placed the numbers of spindles in 1894 at 385,265, yet the Yokohama Chambers of Commerce placed the number in 1895 at 410,000. Between the two authorities we put our estimate of 500,000 spindles. The cotton mills of Japan will never be able to spin from the native cotton very fine yarn.

The cotton is not suitable for anything but for the spinning of coarse yarns. There had been a very great falling off in the quantity of fruit shipped from California last year up to September, this year as compared with previous years. This year's shipments of 30,000,000 pounds below those of last year up to the same date. Only 2500 carloads crossed the Sierra Nevada this year, as against 428 carloads during the same period last year, or 71,700,000 pounds, as compared with 105,700,000 pounds in 1894. The decrease is attributed to the failure of the apricot and early pear and peach crops. Two severe frosts last spring caused much damage. The grape crop is very large, and the late pears and peaches have turned out well. As now estimated the total fruit shipment will foot up 107,500,000 pounds—New York Sun.

The time has come when operatives are no longer looked upon as a mass of machinery, to be moved to a greater or less degree of activity by rigid rules and regulations. It has been discovered that every employe possesses certain individual qualities, which, if recognized, makes him more valuable to the company that employs him than if lumped in with the whole mass as simply so many workmen, regardless of his special ability. Every human being is alike as regards recognition, and the overseer or superintendent who recognizes this fact and gives to each and every workman under him the credit that his skill merits, is the man that will succeed in earning the largest dividend for his company. For over eight hundred years the lessons taught by the Son of God have directed us all to remember that the human family is one, and that we are all enjoying life upon the same foundation principles, notwithstanding some are more favored than others. Cattle are not classified as herds, but not men.—Providence Journal of Commerce.
