ORDER BUSINESS.

We do a large amount of business every season with customers whose faces we never saw; our only acquaintance with whom is through the letters and orders we have received from them. Yet, we feel as well acquainted with many of them who have dealt with us for years in this manner, as though they made us a personal visit to select goods each season.

A lady in some village remote from Charlottetown sends us an order accompanied by a remittance for $50 $30 $10.00 or any amount. There is an expression of confidence in the act that appeals to our sense of honor. She trusts us with her money before seeing any goods, and has faith in us that we will select goods with care and attention to her desires. This we surely try to do; for confidence begets confidence, and we wish to please those who trust us with orders in this manner. If we should fail to do this in any particular, we wish to know it.

We have mentioned orders accompanied by cash, only because we receive so many of that sort from strangers, who prefer this course to sending us references. We intend to take equal pains with orders from those who already have, or who desire to open an account with us on other terms. We value the order business, and our house is now equipped with the best of facilities for handling it.

We wish to give to those ladies who cannot visit Charlottetown and have an opportunity to see the great display of fashionable goods, as much information as possible of the same nature that they would get by actually visiting Charlottetown and seeing the exhibits of goods. So we fill our advertisements with the latest ideas we can gather; we have quantities of cuts engraved from photographs, picturing the novelties of the season, in order to give to such ladies as clear information as may be possible without seeing the goods. Our readers furnish us with frequent testimony to our success in these efforts. Some of them state their appreciation so strongly as to say they "could not read the paper without looking at Patons ad's and Style Plates." This is putting it a little too strong; but we believe they are able to do better business with the aid of these ad's.

Hence, a renewed greeting to all those valued customers who have been sending us their order business in the past; and a cordial invitation to strangers, who may be reading these lines, to try our house for their goods this season. Don't send your money across to the Mainland, Charlottetown Stores CAN and will do better for you. We hope this may also result, eventually, in our becoming personally acquainted. A larger number than usual of those who have previously ordered goods write us they are coming to Charlottetown this Fall to make personal selections. Read our fur advertisement this week, samples freely sent.

Local and Other Items.

THE A. J. MCKEAN.—The schooner A. J. McKean has been purchased by J. H. Myrick & Co., floated and taken to Alberton.

SUCCESS.—Henry W. Corbett, United States Senator from Oregon, went to New York in 1844 and worked in a store in Catherine Street for $3.50 a week. He slept under the counter, swept the store and saved a dollar a week.

LARGEST CANNON.—The largest cannon in the world was taken by the English when India was conquered. The cannon was cast in 1693, and was the work of a chief named Canleby Koomy Khan, of Ahmednugger. The inside of the big gun is fitted up with seats, and is a favorite place for English officers to go for a quiet noonday sleep.

SWEDISH HONESTY.—In certain parts of Sweden, where the most absolute confidence is reposed in the honesty of the people, a very informal postal system is in vogue. As the mail steamer reaches a landing-place a man goes ashore with the letters, which he places in an unlocked box on the pier. Then the passer-by who expects a letter opens the box turns over the letters and selects his own, unquestioned by anyone.

AN OLD AND WELL TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

OBITUARY.

On Monday the remains of the late Maggie Shaw, of New Perth, were laid to rest in the Georgetown cemetery. Maggie was the youngest daughter of Mr. Robert Shaw, and her decease which, after a long and tedious illness, occurred on Saturday the 16th, awakened the deepest sympathy of the community, for the afflicted home, which was manifest at the funeral by the large attendance and the long procession of nearly one hundred carriages. The deceased was 29 years of age, a member and an active worker in the Presbyterian church at Montague, and highly esteemed by all who knew her. Trusting in the merits of the Redeemer her death was happy and peaceful.

NEWS NOTES.

Queen Victoria has a great dislike to typewritten communications, and does not allow any documents that are supposed to emanate from the sovereign to be sent out typewritten. The Czarina, on the other hand, has taken a great fancy to the typewriter, and is the owner of a machine with type-bars of gold and frame set with pearls.

Miss Blanche Smallwood graduate of Mt. Allison Conservatory of Music will be prepared, after the 11 inst., to take a limited number of pupils in pianoforte. Those wishing to make arrangements will please call at her home, Richmond Street.

Miss Amy Moore (graduate Mt. Allison Conservatory of Music) will resume musical instructions, giving special attention to children. Pupils attended at their homes if desired. Apply at the residence of Mr. G. H. Hazard, or P O Box 299.

Joy, the Oyster King, will send oysters for you to any part of the world and guarantee safe delivery. Address your letters to King Joy, Lock Box 252, Charlottetown, P. E. Island.

For 16 years Joy has held first place amongst the oyster men. Now they declare him the oyster king. Send in your trial orders.

DEAR SIRS,—Within the past year I know of three fatty tumors on the head having been removed by the application of MINARD'S LINIMENT without any surgical operation and there is no indication of a return.

A BOY LIKE THIS

A Well Dressed Boy

A boy whose clothes fit him and make him feel comfortable.
A boy who is neat and stylish in appearance.

A LITTLE MAN EVERY INCH OF HIM

That is the way every boy should be and it won't cost any more than it does to dress him a careless slap-dash fashion as if anything was good enough for the boys. That is a great mistake and is apt to develop in him careless and slovenly habits.

Give Him a Trial

Bring him to the Model Store and see how neatly and stylishly we can fit him out with a comfortable, well fitting suit at the very lowest cash price. He will feel better; so will you.
