4,000 Nova Scotia Coal Miners To Be Idle Feb. 1

SYDNEY (CP) — Five Cape Breton collieries will shut down for at least a month and five other, including one on the Nova Scotian mainland, will close down later for lack of coal orders, the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation announced Thursday.

About 4,000 men will be left idle Feb. 1 by the scheduled closing of five mines in the Glace Bay and New Waterford areas.

Harold Gordon, chief of coal operations for Dosco, said a lack of demand for industrial coal has resulted in "very large stocks" being left on hand at various shipping terminals.

More than 400,000 tons now is stockpiled here, it was learned. Stocks on hand at Quebec points raise the total of unsold coal to about 1,200,000 tons, a spokesman said.

While industrial coal is in over supply, shortages of larger-size domestic coal have been reported in some areas.

Mr. Gordon said enough mines will be kept operating to meet domestic demands but when these are met they too will close.

CONTINUING PROBLEM

He indicated the layoffs are likely to continue off-and-on until April or May.

"The sales outlook at present indicates there will be considerable idle time at the collieries during the three-to - four-month period beginning Feb. 1," he said in a statement.

"It is regrettable that it has bcome necessary to curtail production but lack of orders has made it necessary."

Mines to close Feb. 1 are Nos. 4, 20 and 25 in the Glace Bay area and Nos. 12 and 18 at New Waterford. Auxiliary departments employing pipefitters, electricians and other tradesmen at these mines will also be curtailed.

Collieries Nos. 16 at New Waterford and 26 at Glace Bay, Princess and Florence pits at Sydney Mines and the McBean Mine at Thorburn on the mainland will continue operating for the time being to supply domestic coal.

Mr. Gordon said that as the demand for domestic grades falls off these mines also will shut down. He did not say when this was likely to occur.

CONTRASTING DECISION

The decision to close down the mines during the winter is in contrast with last year. Then Dosco continued stockpiling until spring with the announced aim of keeping miners working. At that time the corporation asked and received financial aid from federal and provincial governments to finance the unsold coal.

Stocks at Sydney alone rose to more than 1,000,000 tons before spring. Staggered shutdowns began in June and continued for up to five weeks over a four-month period.

Officers of United Mine Workers (Ind.) District 26 said they will appeal to the provincial government to call a conference of "responsible parties involved" to try to get from A. V. Roe Canada Ltd., Dosco's parent company, "some definite policy statement as to their intentions for future coal operations."

About 500 miners were laid off by Dosco last week when the company suspended all construction and development work in the pits.

USS DISCRETION

The UMW also asked business firms and finance companies to "use extreme discretion" in trying to collect accounts from laid-off mine workers until the mines reopen.

Mayor Dan A. MacDonald of Glace Bay told that town's council Wednesday night the town is still feeling the effects of last summer's layoffs. The town collects much of its taxes through deductions from miners' pay. When the mines are idle there is no checkoff.

Committee Outlines Program For Fifth Model Parliament

The planning committee of the Older Boys' Parliament met Friday evening for the purpose of outlining a program and legislation for the Fifth Model Parliament which will be in session in the Legislature Assembly January 30, 31, and February 1st.

During the three days that the Parliament is in session a wide variety of legislation will be discussed. The planning committee has endeavoured to pick topics which are interesting and pertinent to today's youth.

Among the matters to be discussed are: religion in the schools; science verses Christianity; smoking; dancing in church halls, and illegal alchholic outlets.

Boys between 15-21 from all protestant denominations will attend. The speaker and registrar of the Parliament is James Norton of Charlottetown. Dave Hamilton of Mt. Allison University will be clerk of the House.

On the evening of Saturday the 31st a banquet will be held at the Y.M.C.A. building. This banquet has always proved to be a social highlight of Parliament. Devotions will be held in St. James Church on Sunday, and in the legislative chambers Friday and Saturday.

The preceeding four parliaments have met with much enthusiasm from the boys who attended, and the planning committee anticipates that this session will be the best yet.

E. A. Cudmore and Lloyd MacDonald were named to the Board of Trustees. Millar MacFayden and Frank VanIderstine were named auditors.

Votes of thanks were extended to the Ladies Auxiliary, the church organist, the sexton, officers of the church and especially to the interim moderator, Rev. Charles Townsley.

Lunch was served by the auxiliary.

Gospel Discussed At YP Meeting

A discussion on the gospel led by Mrs. Preston Beck was the highlight of the regular meeting of the Central Christian Young People's Union held this week.

The three divisions of the subject were aired thoroughly by each group and the leaders, Donnie Stevenson, Gordon Linkletter and Allison MacLean, gave convicting summations.

A gospel sing-song was led by Jimmie Bruce and the devotional period was led by Sally Burke who also gave the though: on "daily christian living". Paula Good read the Scripture and Patsy Burke led in prayer.

Appeal Case Adjourned For Decision

The appeal of Hugh Somerled Campbell of Grand Tracadie against a conviction under the Excise Act was adjourned for decision until Friday, January 23 at 10 a.m. in Appeals Court yesterday. The appeal is being heard by Mr. Justice George J. Tweedy.

Campbell was convicted by Magistrate Gilbert A. Gaudet, Q.C., in Queen's County Magistrate's court on August 18 of having the illegal possession of a quantity of wash suitable for the manufacture of spirits.

At that time Magistrate Gaudet sentenced the accused to six months in jail and imposed a fine of $500 and costs. In default of payment the accused would be required to serve an additional six months.

Stating his grounds for appeal, counsel for the appellant Allison Gillis, said that the original conviction in the lower court was against the weight of the evidence. He pointed out that the conviction was contrary to law, and noted that the sentence was excessive under the circumstances.

Giving testimony during the appeal hearing yesterday were RCMP Corporal R.O. Lively and Constable Miles Foster. James B. Johnston appeared for the Crown.

SPORT OF KINGS'

King's County Hockey Surveyed By Columnist

Last week, on ending our column, we stated that hockey may not be due for a very successful season. That statement was aimed at the playoffs that will probably get underway next month. So far, with the possible exception of Morell, both Annandale and Souris have won the majority of their games. Let's view the situation team by team.

Morell All Stars seem to have a major re-building job on their hands. Many of the old standbys have hung up their skates. At least, they have temporily. They may respond to the lure of the game before the season gets too much older. If they do, Morell will once again be tough to beat. They have quite enough of the younger generation to provide speed and energy, but need the steadying influence of a few older players. Both their defense and offensive lack co-ordination. In the nets, they have no worries, as rookie Lyman MacInnis seems to be quite capable of the task.

Annandale is playing under the assumption that the best defense is a good offense. Their goal scoring prowess is unquestionable. However, if some of the players were more inclined to pass the puck, their scoring would improve immensely. Their real weakness is in the defense. Their defense, for the most part are rookies, who, at times, seem not to know just what to do when they get the puck. The work of the defense is overburdened by the lack of back-skating on the part of some forwards. Their goalie hasn't had a real test, as Annandale has yet to meet a team with a good attack.

DEFENSE TEAM

Souris, for the most part, is a defensive team. They have, probably, the best, at least in our opinion, defense in Intermediate hockey on the Island. All are tops at taking opposing forwards out of the play, and all are capable of leading rushes into enemy territory. Their goal-tending seems to be fairly sound, as they have two goalies of experience. Their weakness lies in their attack. Only a couple of their forwards can carry the puck any distance, and some forwards are inclined to be lazy.

Last season, both Morell and Souris advanced as far as the Island Intermediate "C" semi-finals, where both were eliminated. Most of the other teams on the Island, from reports we have received, are as strong, or stronger than last year. With Morell re-building, and the Souris team of last year split into two teams this year, our hopes of an Island title look pretty slim. One thing for sure, both Annandale and Souris will look good.

NEW SPONSORS

Both teams have new sponsors, who have completely outfitted both teams. Souris, formerly the Tigers, are now the Legion, and are sponsored by the Souris branch of the Canadian Legion. Annandale are known as the Combines and are sponsored by Lloyd MacDonald of that community.

Despite the apparent weakness of our teams, all are enjoying good attendance at their games. Some games have seen over two hundred fans at a game. A few years ago, teams could consider themselves lucky if they had fifty fans at a game. If our teams could strengthen themselves by playoff time, hockey could really move back into the honored position it once held. We fervently hope so.

Lloyd MacDonald's Annandale Combines smashed the Morell All Stars in an exhibition hockey game in Souris on Thursday night by the score of 10-2. The Combines led 3-0, after the first period, and extended their lead to 8-1 after the second. The game was cleanly played with no penalties being called by referees Bert Paquet and Vernon Jarvis.

Scoring for the Combines: Claude Peters 3, Jenkins 2, MacDonald 2, Carl Peters 1, Paquet 1, and R. Peters 1. For Morell: R. MacAdam and E. Eldershaw. Attendance 100.

Led by the five goal effort of Chester David, Georgetown High defeated Souris High in an exhibition hockey game in Souris on Saturday night. The locals were led by Carl Peters, who scored four goals. Georgetown led 1-0 after the first period, 3-2, after the second, and the teams fought to a 4-4 tie in the final period.

Referees were: Doucette, Jenkins and Peters.

Scoring for Georgetown: Chester David 5, G. White and J. Stewart. For Souris: C. Peters 4, B. MacLaren 2.
