

Atlantic Salmon Still Faces Extinction Threat, Is Report

ROCKY BROOK, N.B. (CP)—Canada's finest game fish, the Atlantic salmon, is still threatened with extinction and efforts must be made to save it, Vernon E. Johnson said Tuesday.

Mr. Johnson is president of Canadian International Paper Company and of the Atlantic Salmon Association. He spoke at the Rocky Brook Club before a group of high school biology students of the Miramichi Valley and personnel of the federal department of fisheries.

"To preserve this great natural resource, I believe all men of good will must work together towards a common goal," said Mr. Johnson.

"To save the Atlantic salmon we must first find out more about its habits, about that mysterious life cycle which scientists are just beginning to be able to describe in some detail.

"To this end, the federal government back in 1950 organized an Atlantic salmon investigation program by helping to facilitate the taking of eggs from early-run salmon, to be hatched and reared at a government hatchery for subsequent release in late-run rivers."

Mr. Johnson said Canadian International Paper, New Brunswick International Paper and the Associated Miramichi Lumber Company manage huge forest resources with more than the wood harvest in mind.

"The forests, as Crown land, belong to the people. They provide opportunities for recreation, for hunting and fishing, for many thousands of Canadian citizens—and our managers welcome hunters and fishermen who are willing to abide by the rules of good forest conduct."

PREDICT 30,000 UNEMPLOYED WINNIPEG (CP)—About 30,000 to 40,000 persons will be unemployed in the Winnipeg area this winter, Alderman A. E. Bennett predicted Tuesday. Mr. Bennett said during a meeting of the committee on public health and welfare that applications for city aid have been running about one-third higher than last year.
