SLOW GROWTH OF FARM OUTPUT TROUBLES CZECHS

THE CZECHOSLOVAK Communist government is giving top consideration to the slow growth rate of the nation's agricultural production. These farmers stroll in pastures surrounding a typical state farm Millions have been invested in new machinery and buildings for such farms. (CP Photo)

TO SLOW emigration from the Slovak region of Czechoslovakia, the Communist government embarked on broad programs of industrialization. Hydroelectric dams such as this one were built to power steel mills and facorties. Rural electrification also spread to every village. (CP Photo)

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market recovered some of its recent sharp losses in a technical rally Tuesday Trading was moderately active.

Volume of 3,620,000 shares compared with Monday's 5,000,000-share losing session. The drop-off in trading on the rebound was not a bullish sign.

The Dow Jones industrial average closed at 588.22, recovering 5.31 of the 24.18 points it lost in the previous three sessions.

Bank Of Canada Seen Mistaken In Aloof Stand

OTTAWA (CP)—The Bank of Canada should be less "Olympian and inscrutable" toward the business world, the royal commission on banking and finance was told Tuesday.

The suggestion was made by the Canadian Consumer Loan Association, representing small-loans companies. It said in a brief that a "fairly broad interest" in central bank policy has developed in recent years.

"In view of this growing interest in the subject it seems to us it would be helpful if the Bank of Canada were a little less Olympian and inscrutable in their attitude towards the financial community and the business world generally than they have been in times past."

All too frequently, said the association, "financial analysts and writers completely misinterpret bank policy and invariably these wrong views are never corrected. Misunderstanding continues by default.

"In our view it is not sufficient that explanation and defence of central bank policies be limited to a few paragraphs in the annual report of the Bank of Canada.

"We think it would be useful if the bank took more pains today to explain to the public the ways in which they currently attempt to carry out the duties assigned to them by Parliament."

The loan association told the commission it "simply is not true" that small-loan companies today practically forced lower-income groups into debt at unconscionable interest rates. Half of all small-loan applications were turned down because the would-be borrowers cannot meet standards of credit worthiness.
