Mr. J. A. MacNair

The result of the election was as follows: Past President, John A. MacNair; president, Fulton Wilson; vice-president, Clifford MacDonald; Secretary, Douglas Reid; Treasurer, Harry MacLean; executive - V. A. Almsworth, H. C. Others Posted With Mr. Rogers In Czech Capital

OTTAWA, May 1-(CP)-Canada, reacting defiantly to Russia's drive to seal off her satellites, disclosed Saturday that she has posted a second and third official representative to Czechoslovakia within the last few weeks.

Thus the government has completed a firm reply to Czechoslovakia's expulsion of two R.C.A.F. non-commissioned officers early this year on charges of spying and abuse of official hospitality which Canada branded "baseless."

The R.C.A.F. said it believes Sgt. Ernest Maguss of Mundare, Alta., and Edmonton, and LAC C. L. Rolfe of Bishopston, Que., have reached Prague to take up the two posts on the staff of Canada's air attache. They left London two days ago, arrived with Czech visas.

They replace Sgt. Reginald Danko of Laurier, Man., and Toronto and Cpl. J. G. Vanier of Montreal, the two men who were expelled in what constituted Canada's first immersion in the spreading cold war game of expulsions and counter-expulsions. Canada expelled two members of the staff of the Czech legation here in retaliation.

Maguss and Rolfe preceded Benjamin Rogers of Charlottetown, External Affairs Department official who has been named Charge D'Affaires of the Canadian legation in Prague which includes the air attache's office. Mr. Rogers is on leave in the Maritimes but is expected to leave shortly for Prague.

The three appointments indicate that Canada has no intention of backing down in the cold war of nerves which was underlined only last week in the External Affairs Department's own monthly bulletin.

Canada's action will bring the manpower in the Prague legation up to the same level as that in Moscow but her total diplomatic representation in the certain countries is less than 12. The non-commissioned officers are not considered diplomatic officials.

The Czechs have stripped their legation here to the bone. The only diplomatic official is Zdenek Roskot, second secretary.

(Mr. Benjamin Rogers, above referred to, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Rogers, Charlottetown and was appointed Charge D'Affaires at Prague last month. Thirty-eight years of age, he attended elementary and secondary schools in Charlottetown and graduated in political science from Dalhousie University, later studying at the London School of Economics. Before joining the External Affairs Department in 1938, he was acting national secretary of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs. In December, 1939, he was posted to the LONDON, May 1-(CP)-Britain's trade with Canada picked up during the first quarter of 1950, giving rise to hope that the dollar drive finally is starting to show results, Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, said today.

Replying to a Conservative attack on the Labor Government's Anglo-Canadian trade policies, Wilson told the House of Commons:

"It is not true that our export trade with Canada is losing impetus: It is getting under way." Wilson spoke after Oliver Lyttelton, Conservative, said Government policies have endangered relations with a country whose friendship and loyalty "were written in the blood of her sons."

Listing a series of causes for the deterioration he alleged has taken place in Britain's dealings with Canada, Lyttelton gave first place to the post-war cancellation of food contracts.

Lyttelton criticized as an act of "bad faith" Britain's action in cancelling her newspaper contracts with Canada; described as ill-advised statements he said had been made by Government Ministers critical of British industry and said that Britain's action in cutting Canadian imports after devaluation of sterling last September had helped to drive Canada into the arms of the United States.

The Conservative front-bencher expressed conviction that Britain's adverse balance of trade with Canada - approximately $400,000,000 last year - could be reduced to manageable shape during the years ahead.

Wilson said that Britain wants to trade with Canada at the highest possible level - not the lowest. Britain had every reason to want maximum trade with Canada "because the amount we can buy is limited by what we can pay for."

"However much we want - and we desperately want - Canadian exports - wheat, timber, aluminum, other non-ferrous metals, wool, pulp, newsprint, meat, bacon, fish products, salmon, apples and so on - the amount we can import has been limited by what we can pay for."

It was impossible to get away from that simple fact. If it were not for the willingness of the Canadian Government and people, he realized the true position, Britain's Canadian dollar problem would be a great deal worse than it is, Wilson declared.

Gives Interesting Talk On Reading

Last Sunday evening the members of the Basilia Youth Club heard a talk entitled "How to Improve Yourself through Reading," delivered by Mr. Brendon O'Grady, professor of English at S. D. U.

Mr. O'Grady, a very interesting and informative speaker, began with the motto, "The Person Who Does Not Read is no better than the Person Who Cannot Read."

He gave several reasons for reading, stressing the need of it for the modern citizen, who should be intelligent and articulate. "This is an age of discussion groups and study clubs" he said, "in which we are all expected to take an active and intelligent part."

He attacked the "sterile" novelty of the modern age, the "balanced program" of the reading of classic and spiritual works, and stressed the idea of spending at least one night a week at home reading.

He gave a sixteen point program of suggestions regarding reading and mentioned that a list of recommended readings would soon be made available to the B. Y. C.

Special Dinner At Cafe Opening

An eight course complimentary dinner at which more than 40 people attended was held at the Modern Cafe last night on the eve of the opening of Charlottetown's newest and one of the island's most up to date restaurants.

His Worship Mayor Earle B. MacDonald and members of the City Council were among those present at the dinner given by owner Tom Lee and his partners, Police Chief Charles MacArthur and members of the Force, Magistrate K. M. Martin, City Clerk J. A. Fullerton, several City business men, members of the press and other guests attended.

Magistrate Martin opened the proceedings with an introduction of the owner, Mr. Lee. Following the dinner Mayor MacDonald complimented the management and staff on their enterprise and thanked them for the generous manner in which they treated those attending the function.

Last night's meal, the first in the cafe, set a standard that will be difficult to maintain. The completely renovated building with its fifteen tables, red leather cushioned seats and effective lighting system provided fitting setting for the fullest enjoyment of the dinner. An efficient staff of seven waitresses and two fountain girls served the dinner in a competent manner.

office of the Canadian High Commissioner of Australia, serving for a time as Acting High Commissioner. He acted as Charge D'Affaires at the Canadian Embassy in Rio De Janeiro on several occasions while serving there between 1944 and 1948.

Final Debate In Series At Prince of Wales

The final debate of the Prince of Wales College debating series was held in the College auditorium on Saturday morning, April 29th before the faculty and student body.

The team from Academic Section II A upheld the affirmative of the resolution. The leader, Miss Maureen Blake, with her supporters, Mr. Lloyd Cutcliffe and Miss Phyllis Cutcliffe stressed the value of compulsory military training for young men.

"Without some considerable compulsory military training on our part," they said, "the present 'cold war' could soon become 'hot'."

The team from Teacher Training Section A led by Miss Shirley Jenkins and ably supported by Misses Therese Gorman and Jean Carr upheld the negative. They maintained that compulsory military training was contrary to the democratic principles of a free nation like Canada and that compulsory training had already produced a spirit of intense militarism in such countries as Japan, Germany, Italy and Russia.

"Compulsory military training," they affirmed, "did not save France from attack in two world wars. They believed that instead of giving a smattering of training to all males between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five that it would be a far better national investment to spend an equal amount of money on increasing the strength of the regular armed forces and on training specialists in atomic and other scientific forms of warfare."

While awaiting the judges' decision, the chairman called upon Principal MacKinnon who complimented the speakers on their presentation of arguments. Dr. MacKinnon expressed the hope that next year both the Third and Fourth year students as well as those of the High School and Teacher Training groups would participate in debates. He mentioned that our sister institution, St. Dunstan's College, had a most remarkable record with her debating teams this year. Dr. MacKinnon hoped that the P.W.C. debating groups would extend their sincerest congratulations to the St. Dunstan's debating teams on their outstanding successes during the past year.

The chairman next called upon Professors MacMillan and Macdonald in charge of the six debating sections. Both stated that the practical training in democratic procedure learned by the students themselves in conducting their own debating organizations by arranging topics for debates, choosing speakers etc. was most valuable as a preparation for taking their proper places in all walks of life.

Mr. W. E. Bentley as spokesman for the judges in complimenting the youthful speakers said that it was a great privilege to be present again at a college debate after an absence of six years as a student at P.W.C. He emphasized to the students the importance of building strong character into their lives, quoting several excerpts from Emerson's essays on this point. Mr. Bentley announced that by a majority vote the judges had awarded their decision to the upholders of the negative of the resolution.

A vote of thanks moved by Mr. Ewen Huestis and seconded by Miss Marie Duffy was tendered to the judges by the chairman. The singing of the National Anthem brought the proceedings to a close.

Coun. Johnstone Discusses Civic Affairs At Rotary

The importance of press publicity in keeping the public fully informed of City Council proceedings was emphasized in an address at the Rotary Club yesterday by Councillor Edwin C. Johnstone, a past president of the club, who dealt with various aspects of civic affairs in the course of his remarks.

He was the second speaker to deal with this subject at Rotary in recent weeks, having been preceded on April 8rd by His Worship Mayor MacDonald.

"I am not unmindful of Rotary's regulations forbidding discussion on any topic of a religious or political nature," Coun. Johnstone said. "However, in civic government there are no political parties, so that if, in my talk on civic administration, I express opinions not held by the rest of the Council, I hope no one will take undue offence or accuse me of violating Rotary's regulations by introducing controversial political matters."

"I wish, merely to set forth a few principles which, in my opinion, are essential for good government. The Club is not expected to endorse, or even to comment on my views. I would like to thank Rotary for giving me this opportunity, and for showing such interest in city administration. I am personally of the opinion that to have good government you must have an interested and well informed public. For that reason, prior to the election I advocated a public meeting for the discussion of civic affairs, and when denied that I thereupon wrote a series of letters to the paper."

"The minutes of the meeting of March 6, read as follows: 'This meeting was called to determine the desired amendments to the City Incorporation Act, to be presented to the Legislature. The proposed amendments were read and the following resolution passed: Moved by Councillor Prowse, seconded by Councillor Stewart: Resolved: that the Legislature in its present session be petitioned to amend the City's Act of Incorporation.'

Rain Extinguishes Forest Fires In N. S.

HALIFAX, May 1-(CP)-Rain fell in Nova Scotia tonight extinguishing several forest fires which broke out during the week-end.

Worst blaze was at Rubleys Big Lake, 14 miles west of Halifax, where two square miles of forest land were burned over before the fire was brought under control after a 27-hour battle.

The League of Nations, which had for its object the promotion of international peace and security, came into being on January 10, 1920.
