Odds and Ends

A Liverpool man recently attempted to telegraph to friends in a neighboring town—"Cannot be down till Thursday—foreman drunk." He went down on Thursday and was astonished by the hilarous manner in which his friends received him. It came out that the telegram received read—"Cannot come down before Thursday forenoon—drunk."

Upon a mountain hanging over the Straits of Magellan, a barrel is hung by a heavy chain swinging there. That is a post office! There is no post-master to deliver the mails, and no postman unlocks it; in fact, it has no key. Ships coming along that way stop and fish out packages of letters that have been dropped therein, take those that go their way, and leave a package to go another way, and some day a ship comes along, finds that package, and sails away. And the barrel swings, doing its duty without being watched or tended.

Among the uses to which the umbrella may be put is poking an utter stranger, afflicted with lumbago, in the back, under the impression that he is Smith. It also serves to keep off the rain—first, when it rains; secondly, when it does not rain. Its uses in the first event are palpable to the most naked eye. The second case may be practically illustrated by taking an umbrella to the city on a cloudy morning. The inevitable results is that the skies clear up towards eleven o'clock, and you return home in a glare of sunlight and suffocated with dust, bearing with you an umbrella, which convinces all who meet you that you are a little erratic or shiftless.

Augustus Murphy is not a very well-informed young man, but he never misses an opportunity of having his say. A short time ago two gentlemen were talking in a restaurant. "I hardly think General Wolseley will get over the cataracts," said one of them "As I understand it, the cataracts are to be removed," responded the other gentleman. "Then be will get over it," interrupted Murphy, who was sitting at a table close by; "I had an uncle who had two cataracts removed, and he got over it."

A simple integrity, simple fairness, simple justice to poor and rich alike, giving to each one his rightful dues, striving neither to oversell nor to underbuy goods or labour, incurring no debts that admit of a possible doubt of being promptly met, and luring no one else to do so—in short, carrying out in the daily life the principles of honesty and fairness, is the very best and most efficient means of benefitting the community, and the only foundation on which to build a benevolence worthy of the name.

I cant get to sleep. I try everything. I count up to 100 and look at one spot on the ceiling and say my prayers forward and then backward, and then I think of sheep going over a fence, but it isn't any use.

Then as I'm tossing around I think I hear someone saying: "George, get up; it's half-past seven."

"All right, in a minute."

"George, get up or you'll be late."

"Oh, no; I won't be late. Just a few minutes longer."

"George, you've got to be at the office at 8. You'd better hustle."

"Oh, all right Right away. So comf'ble here—can't—m-u-m—pret' soon—m-m-m — hgnor- hgnor - hgnor." (Blessed sleep.)

WHAT a cleaner at Lessive Phenix is Try it upon anything. It is the ideal clothes washer, for it takes the place of the old harsh chemical washing powders, and makes every article sweet and clean, being efficacious with cottons and flannels alike. Then after using it in the wash, just try what it will do with silver, brass or metalware, in removing stains from wood; or in cleaning glass You really can't pelieve it until you try it.

Now that la grippe is ravaging the country, it behooves us to keep in a condition to defy it, and for this purpose there is nothing better than Everybody's Pills. 25 cents invested in this popular family medicine now may save that many dollars later.

SAVED!

The testimonial below refers to a patient who was pronounced incurable by leading physicians in England:

From Rev. Dr. Hill.

M. F. Eagar, Esq. HALIFAX, N. S.

Dear Sir,—I feel that it is due to you that I should say publicly what I have said privately very many times, namely, that I firmly believe your PHOSPHOLEINE was the means of restoring a near relative of mine to ordinary health. The patient was apparently in the last stages of Consumption, but with the concurrence of skilled physicians your PHOSPHOLEINE was tried, and, I am happy to say, with results that I certainly did not anticipate. My friend is to-day in the enjoyment of excellent health.

Believe me, yours very truly,
