Mr. Leigh Maynard and Mr. Horace Newcombe have completed the job of painting the Tyne Valley cheese factory and are now adding to the beautification of the village by painting the United Church.

Friends regret that Mrs. Wilfred MacDougall met with a very painful accident in her home on Monday, Sept. 18th and the wish of her many friends is that she will soon be well and able to be about again.

A pantry sale sponsored by the ladies of Port Hill and Tyne Valley was held in Summerside on Friday, Sept. 22nd, and the sum of forty-nine dollars was realized to be used for the fitting up of new quarters for the Carnegie Library on the second floor of Stewart's Drug Store, just opposite the Telephone Office. This and the surrounding communities have been without a library since its rooms were destroyed by fire last December and the people are anxious to have it in operation once more. It is understood Mrs. Daisy Yeo the efficient librarian intends to return to resume her duties this fall.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Sarah Gorrill was held in St. James Anglican Church, Port Hill, on Friday, Sept. 22nd and was largely attended by relatives and friends from far and near as Mrs. Gorrill was well known, having resided with her late husband and family in Tyne Valley in her younger days. Her death took place at the home of her grand-son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Athol Ellis of Borden and by whom she was tenderly and nursed and cared for a number of years. Mrs. Gorrill had reached the grand old age of ninety-three. The sympathy of this community is extended to her family who mourn the death of a mother and grand-mother.

The people of Northam and surrounding districts gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dymont on Tuesday evening, Sept. 26th to honor them in the form of a shower. Many useful and lovely gifts were received. An appropriate address was read by Mrs. Andrew Brown in recognition of Mrs. Dymont's former work done in the Women's Institute. The gifts were unwrapped by Mrs. Claud Colwell and Mrs. Horace MacArthur and Mrs. Chas. McKinnon presented to Mr. and Mrs. Dymont by Mrs. Alfred Colwell, Mr. and Mrs. Dymont in well chosen words thanked everyone for their kindness. The remainder of the evening was spent in games after which a delicious lunch was served by the ladies present.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ramsay who were recently married in Littleton, N. H., spent their honeymoon with Mr. Ramsay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Ramsay of Tyne Valley. A large reception of invited guests was held on Wednesday evening in their honor and on Thursday evening the community gathered to tender Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay their best wishes in the form of a shower. Mr. Eric Williams very capably acted as chairman and Mrs. Hart Lidstone presented the gifts after which Donald thanked all on behalf of he and his wife for their kind wishes and gifts, then they all joined together in singing "For they are jolly good fellows". The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in games and social chat. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Hardy Ramsay and the ladies of the community. Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay will reside in Littleton, N. H.
