TORONTO (CP) — Highlighting a three-day national gymnastic clinic, which began Thursday at the Canadian National Exhibition, will be a dual meet between a Canadian and a United States team.

The two teams, which compete Saturday night, contain five men and four women from each of the two countries.

Gymnasts attending the clinic will be displaying their form under the watchful eyes of seven top gymnastic coaches from Canada, the United States and England.

Members of the Canadian team are Ernestine Russell of Windsor, Canadian women's champion; Margaret Schram and Rosemary Ripley of Windsor; Marie-Claire Larsen of Montreal; Wilhelm Weiler, Toronto, Canadian champion in 1957 and 1958; Ed Gagnier, 1955-56 Canadian champ.; Enio Marion and Cal Girard of Windsor; and Richard Monpetit of Verdun, Que.

Musial Sits Out Game, Loses NL Batting Lead

CHICAGO (AP) — Stan Musial, the National League's leading hitter with an average of .340 in a close four-way race, has aggravated an old muscle injury and sat out Thursday's game between the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs.

The 37-year-old first baseman, who has been bothered for months with charley horse in his left thigh, hurt the leg while running out an infield hit Wednesday. Cardinal officials hinted Musial might be out of action for several days.

Alouette 'Gem' Makes Debut Saturday Night

MONTREAL (AP) — Charlie Horton, the football flash from Vanderbilt who came to the Montreal Alouettes this year with one of the biggest build-ups in the club's history, will finally make his debut Saturday night when Montreal plays Ottawa Rough Riders.

Two others will also make their first appearances. They are Billy Hudson, a second-year tackle who has been hobbling with an ankle injury since a pre-season intra-squad game, and Aubrey Rozzell, a 215-pound center-linebacker from the Pittsburgh Steelers who was secured early this week.

HUNTER'S CORNER

Old Home Lake Is Given Look See By Columnist

On Sunday, August 24th, I was in my element untangling just such a situation. I discovered that two men, travelling together, had been at the lake about a week previously. One wore a stubby, wide soled boot while the other sported one that was long and narrow. On another path that approached the lake from the west I found a smoking fresh track, long and narrow. This path leads to Mark's back field and from thence to the 48 Road through the deserted farmyard. The path is named after the late Mark Horton who formerly owned this farm. The track was so fresh the fine swamp grass was springing upright. The maker of the foot prints had left his car in the field and when he reached the highway he had turned the car west. There was a reasonably heavy Sunday traffic moving but I observed that only three cars had crossed his tire marks.

The driver of the car may have been on the same mission as myself... a duck observer... but he was wearing a longish, narrow boot. He could have been checking on future prospects. As I walked eastward along the highway to where my car was parked my nephew Chrys came cycling down the old homestead lane. Chrys is not yet in his teens but is quite the outdoorsman. I inquired if there were many ducks going into the lake. "There were a lot" was his reply. This "were" sounded interesting. I asked more questions. He told me that the ducks began coming in about three weeks ago until the lake seemed full of them. Flock after flock would come in the mornings and later they began to come in the evenings and stay in the lake all night. Their quacking could be heard at the house. He told me he hadn't heard a y quacking for a week and saw only the odd small flock on the move.

IT JIBED This jibed in pretty well with my own deductions and as the old song goes: "It made me feel so good..." The man responsible for the breaking up of this fight may have been poachers but they were also conservationists in a way. If those ducks had been left unmolested until October 1st in all probability there would have been five thousand birds at the lake on opening morning. I have seen that many there in the old days when hunters were few and far between.

I talked to a farmer who lives in the line of flight between Pownal Bay and the lake. He told me he never in his life before saw so many ducks flying to the lake. It was a succession of flock after flock and some of them held as high as 75 ducks. A few more set-backs like that and they'll decide to stay on the tidal flats. They'd play it smart if they did.

LIKE OLD TIMES I removed my shoes and socks and enjoyed the feel of the cool, damp moss as it worked up between my toes. In the old days

Baseball Playoff Dates Announced

Last evening it was announced by officials of the Island branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada that finals in the baseball playdowns for the Provincial Rural Title and Provincial Junior will get underway this weekend with the following games scheduled:

JUNIOR Saturday at 3:30 p.m. Charlottetown Legionnaires at Mount Stewart; Sunday at 2:30 at Memorial Field, Charlottetown, Mount Stewart Juniors at Charlottetown Legionnaires.

INTERMEDIATE RURAL Sunday at 2:15 p.m. at Peakes; Grand River vs. Peakes; Sunday, September 14th at 1:00 p.m. at Grand River; Peakes vs. Grand River.

In the event of a third game being necessary to decide the Junior Crown, place, date and time will be announced following Sundays contest.

In the event of a third game being necessary to decide the Intermediate Rural Title and the right to advance against Parkdale Arrows for the Island Intermediate Crown, a second game will be played immediately following the game at Grand River on Sunday, September 14.

In Junior competition teams will be competing for the Enman Ross Bowl Emblematic of the Provincial Junior Crown and the right to advance against the Nova Scotia-New Brunswick winners as directed by the Maritime Amateur Baseball Association. In the Rural Intermediate the teams will be competing for the Physical Fitness Rural Trophy and, as already mentioned, the right to advance against Parkdale Arrows for the Physical Fitness Intermediate trophy and eventually Maritime Playdowns.

Officials for all these contests are being appointed by the Island Branch of the A.A. U. of C.

Ti-Cats Meet Argos Tonight

TORONTO (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats invade Toronto tonight for a return match with the Big Four Argonauts in what may be the football season's top thriller—if the Argos co-operate.

Last Monday in Hamilton, the Argos for 15 minutes appeared to be the Toronto Argonauts of yore before succumbing to the bruising Tabbies 31-24.

The Argos pulled crowd-pleasing plays to come close to upsetting the front-running Ticats Monday, and Toronto fans are hoping they'll do the same here tonight.

Coach Hamp Pool, who said he was delighted with Boyd Carter's work at wing back Monday, wouldn't elaborate on Argo injuries because he doesn't want his players to become "injury-conscious." Who will be starting quarterback for the Argos is still top secret although homebrew Gerry

Legion Takes Lead In Prince County Playoffs

TYNE VALLEY — Summer-side Legion went ahead two games to one in the semi-final playoffs for the Prince County, Sothball League championship at Tyne Valley last evening trouncing the Tigers 10-2 behind the 4-hit pitching of Sonny Stull. He struck out 12 batters. Tyne Valley used two pitchers, Ira Campbell and David Birch, who between them, gave up 11 safe hits.

Des Roberts, Owen Sonier, and Henry Gallant each had 2 hits in 4 trips to the plate. Gallant had a double. Bill Stull, Des Callaghan and Art Sonier each had one singleton, Don MacDougall posted a double, and Enright Doucette slammed out a triple.

For Tyne Valley David Birch, Hartford Miller, Harry Ramsay and Jack Gorrill all collected one-base blows. Tyne Valley made seven errors to one by the Legionaires. Gorrill was plate umpire. The series will be resumed next week. Doucette may be given the nod over Dick Shatto.

DUAL ATTACK Hamilton, whose running game is still tough as ever, has used Bernie Faloney's newly discovered passing ability to set opponents, especially Toronto, on their heels.

Jim Trimble, Hamilton's coach, dismissed the Argos with: "They are effervescent with a few shortcomings." Hamilton is expected to convert quarterback Mickey Trimarki into a fullback. They did it to Tony Curcillo, and then made him one of the East's top middle line-backers.

'Cool' Million Buys Interest In Gallant Man

NEW YORK (AP) — A three-quarter interest in Gallant Man, owned by Ralph Lowe of Midland, Tex., was sold Thursday to Leslie Combs II of Lexington, Ky., for $1,000,000.

Combs headed the syndicate which bought Nashua from the estate of William Woodward, Jr., in December, 1955, for a world record price of $1,251,200.

Gallant Man, who was beaten in the 1957 Kentucky Derby when Jockey Willie Shoemaker misjudged the finish line, will continue to race this season in the silks of Lowe.

The four-year-old son of Mizot-Majid, foaled in England but raised in Ireland, is scheduled to start in the $25,000 added Synony Mile Handicap Saturday at Belmont Park.

BREAKS DEAN'S STRIKEOUT RECORD

Cards' Jones Drops Cubs, Giants Swamp Dodgers

By THE CANADIAN PRESS Sam (Toothpick) Jones broke Dizzy Dean's St. Louis Cardinal season strikeout record and became the National League's first 200-strikeout hurler in 17 years Thursday as he fanned eight Chicago Cubs to give the Cards a 4-2 win.

Jones total now is 201 in 221 innings during 30 games. Johnny Vandermeer clicked for 202 while with Cincinnati in 1941.

Dean's mark was 199 set in 1938. For Jones it was his 12th win of the season against 11 losses. In the dressingroom afterward, he shrugged off the fact of his breaking Dean's record. "I'm happy about it, all right, but did you notice those two singles I belted?"

The National League season strikeout record of 267, was set by Christy Mathewson in 1903. DODGERS TRAMPLED In other National League action, Los Angeles Dodgers were trampled 13-3 by San Francisco.

Milwaukee was at Philadelphia and Cincinnati at Pittsburgh in night games. In the American League, Jim Bunning and the Detroit Tigers dumped Chicago White Sox 11-4, while Roger Maris' homer with a man on gave Kansas City Athletics a 2-1 win over Cleveland Indians.

Boston played at Baltimore in a night encounter. At Los Angeles, the roof fell in on the Dodgers in the first inning, when the Giants scored eight runs. Stu Miller went the route for the win.

At Detroit, Bunning failed to go the distance for the ninth straight time since pitching his no-hitter, but he was around long enough to get credit for the win. Hank Aguirre look over in the eighth. BALTIMORE (AP)—Pete Runnels' timely hitting—a single and double that scored a pair of runs —led Boston Red Sox to a 5-2 victory over Baltimore Thursday night in their battle for third place in the American League.

Bill Monbouquette turned the tables on rookie Milt Pappas, who beat him at Boston last Saturday by permitting only three singles over six innings to gain his second victory against four defeats.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Frank Torre's two-run single sparked a four-run rally in the 10th inning as Milwaukee Braves beat Philadelphia Phillies for the eighth straight time Thursday night 9-5. Casey Wise opened Milwaukee's 10th with an infield single. Dick Farrell, who relieved starter Ray Semproch, got Ed Mathews on strikes but Frank Aron singled. Farrell advanced both runners and Wes Covington was walked intentionally, loading the bases. Torre then scored Wise and Aron and sent Covington to second with his single. Bill Bruton scored two more with a triple. Southpaw Juan Pizarro was credited with his fifth victory against two defeats.

Island Physical Fitness Low, Rehabilitation Is Needed

BY SCRIVENER Brig. W. W. Reid (Director) has announced the date of the big interscholastic meet. He has written all school (and presumably teachers), thereby making close contact.

Our physical fitness quotient is very low at present. This writer can't remember any of P. E. Islander rating competition in the Olympic games since Bill Hoppenny tried the pole vault at Stockholm in 1912. It is incumbent on the present day teachers and pupils to restore our pristine vigor and prestige. We have one good prospect in Alf Groom of Summerside for the pole vault. Alf is young and is following a good routine of build-up training, viz hurdles, sprints and gymnastics.

Those 14 and 15 M. men are "out of this world." The way is long and hard, but Alf has ten years to reach his zenith. GROUP SPORTS "Group" sports, viz. hockey, baseball, football, basketball, etc., are great. They inculcate the congenial and co-operative complex, but they produce comparatively fewer all-around athletes.

Track and field athletics afford a much wider sphere for development — and for the natural sequence — "physical fitness." Something drastic must be done to cure our flabby muscular state. The Europeans were far ahead of us in recent tests. Canada was lower than Australia and South Africa — in the recent British Empire games in Wales. Canada has more than double the population of both.

It is a peculiar paradox in this land of plenty — and our high standard of living. It is the result of many causes — the principal being the apathy of the public conscience. The "balance of nature" is top heavy and leaning toward materialism, lethargy and pleasure. Our Education Department, teachers, colleges and common schools could do worse than agitate for greater attention to track and field sports for the physical fitness, remembering the old Roman adage, "Mens sana in corpore sano" (a sound mind in a sound body).

CO-OPERATION NEEDED If teacher and pupils will co-operate well, it will be a start on rehabilitation. It's a crime against nature not to give the gifted ones a chance. It's the simplest thing imaginable to place a couple of jumping standards on the ground 2 x 4s with holes bored 1 1/2 or 2 inches apart for wood or nail plugs, and a cross bar. A special cup is offered by a private citizen for boys' high jump.

Boys and girls should start to practice pronto — The deadline for entries is September 26th, but that doesn't bar entries at any time. "The present day is the life of man". It would be nice to get them in at once in order to permit publication and increase interest.

CONTEST RESUMES TONIGHT

Lions Hold Edge On Irish As Darkness Halts Game

Barry's Lions, seeking revenge for their defeat at the hands of Ev Beagan's unpredictable Irishmen last Tuesday night in the first game of the City Sothball League playdowns, have the fighting Shamrocks against the wall in an unfinished second fixture.

Last evening the 'roarin' Lions were up three runs with the score 8-5 when the game was called for darkness at the bottom of the sixth inning. The contest will be resumed tonight at Memorial Field.

Duke MacCallum, making one of his rare appearances on the ground for the Lions, stands to win the victory tonight and tie the series 1-1.

MacCallum replaced Vince

Bradley in the second inning with the score 3-0 for the Shamrocks but he turned the tide for the Parkdale squad.

Keith Dalziel, the Shamrock hurler, on the other hand is out on a limb, but not entirely through his own making, as a few costly errors by his teammates helped to put him on the hot spot.

Still the Irish have a chance to come out on top yet, as the battle might be far from won for the Lions, and the way Beagan's squad has been playing lately, they might just that.

This could turn out to be one of the biggest upsets this year.

Kerwin Scores TKO To Win Canadian Title

OTTAWA (CP) — Gale Kerwin Thursday night captured the vacant Canadian welterweight boxing title with a 12th-round technical knockout over plodding, courageous Cliff (Bobo) Fiddler of Prince Albert, Sask.

Fiddler, his face streaming with blood from a cut over the right eye, went down three times in the bout, twice in the last round. The referee halted the match at 2:23 of the 12th.

Kerwin, Ottawa native fighting out of Valley Stream, N.Y., threw everything he had at the awkward Prairie scrapper and rode out some tough punishment in the middle rounds to take the crown. Fiddler weighed in at 145 pounds and Kerwin at 143.

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

The Irish nonsense that B.I.S. Shamrocks have been dealing of late was all but checked last night by last year's provincial title champions, Barry's Lions. The Parkdale boys were leading the Irish 8-5 with two out in the bottom of the sixth when Barry's coach called the affair due to darkness.

This evening the remainder of this game will be completed after that the third game of the best-of-seven final will commence. Unless the Irish can rally in the top of the seventh, that third game will get underway with the teams all even at the game each.

Duke McCallum, Lions regular third baseman, came in to pitch last evening in the second inning and got away with a pretty fair performance.

Duke was stingy with his base hits, yielding only two but his control left something to be desired. He walked seven but escaped fairly well at that, only one run being scored against him.

Keith Dalziel who is headed for the loss unless the Shamrocks can get some runs in the seventh pitched a creditable game, giving up six hits and the seventh chance of finishing in front.

It's shaping up like a real honey of a series and you can't start counting any chickens before they're hatched. Both Lions and the Irish were on the ropes in the semi-finals but managed to bounce back and make the final bracket.

These two teams are dead earnest about this playoff and the winner will really know how tough the road was to victory.

Are American League officials whistling to keep their courage up when they maintain that the situation in the junior circuit is not at all bad, but healthy?

New York Yankees are running away with the league pennant and nobody seems big enough to do anything about it. The members are just coasting now, keeping in shape for the October clash with Fred Haney's world champion, Milwaukee Braves.

American league top brass exclaim that they have spent millions in bonuses and are still lavishly pouring out the greenbacks in an all-out effort to get the best young ball players available. The Yankees themselves, maintain that the league is showing definite improvement, especially Baltimore, Kansas City and Cleveland. General manager Weiss goes farther and claims that Detroit, Chicago and Boston all will be in a position to 1959 to provide really tough opposition for the New Yorkers of Casey Stengel.

Already in 1958 close to $2,000,000 has been shelled out in an effort to catch up with the fast stepping Yankees. The opposition insists that such effort certainly doesn't indicate a sit-still policy. All clubs, it is argued, are doing their utmost to improve and bring an end to the New York supremacy as far as the American League is concerned.

George Weiss claims he can't understand folks who insist that the Yankees will be the big boss in the League for years to come. Weiss says if it wasn't for the good early season showing by the Stengeletes, they would not be controlling the American League right now.

A league official states that not a single club is in trouble financially. Even Washington, he insists, drawing about 450,000 is making money.

It would seem that everybody's happy, including the Yankees.

At Belvedere Golf course this weekend, play in the 18-hole, new net, Seagram's competition will take place.

This competition will start at 1:30 Saturday afternoon and matches will be posted in the pro shop.

Still on the subject of golf, Doug Saunders got himself a hole in one at Belvedere recently. Doug did it on the 12th hole using a No. 7 iron. He was playing with Jack Beaton at the time. The hole is a par three.

The great competitor Pee Wee Reese has been considered for many as almost a sure bet to become a big league manager. But Pee Wee's recent utterance makes this appear most unlikely.

Here's what Reese has to say: "I'd like to manage, I know I can in baseball in some capacity I don't want to manage, I know that. I don't think I have the temperament. The Dodgers offered me the job before they hired Alston and I turned it down. A coach? I don't know. Yes, Phil Rizzuto announces. He's going pretty good, but I don't know whether I'd like that. I don't know what to tell you. But I know one thing—all they have to do is this (thumb down) and I'm out. This is a cold business. But whatever happens you won't hear a word of complaint from me. It's been fine up till now."

It's most unlikely that a fellow who has given such performance for the Dodgers, will be used in anything but the best way by the officials who run the Los Angeles club.

Reese has been one of the all-time Dodger greats. Nobody will argue too much with that statement.

Good payoffs at the pari-mutuel windows were much in evidence Wednesday night at Charlottetown Driving Park. For the Pride, Ken's Pride, Taurida Bay and Allablaze all paid out tickets holders handsomely.

Daily doubles of $62.40 and $31.20 were not to be sneezed at. One quinella was worth $23.80.

There was money to be made. "All" you had to do was pick the right horses. And that's a really tough task.
