Western Notes.

(From the Journal.)

About 7.30 on Sunday evening fire was discovered in the barn belonging to John T. Linkletter, of the Vermont House. The fire department was quickly on hand, but its services were not required. This was no doubt the work of an incendiary.

We regret very much to learn of the death in Colorado of Mr. Geo. T. Brooks, for some years in the employ of R. T. Holman, Esq. The deceased, who was a son of Mr. R. Brooks, of Lot 7, was highly respected in this community.

A curious circumstance occurred at Mill River, about three o'clock on Sunday morning last. About that hour, the house of Mr. Peter Cain of that place was entered and an infant of seven months old taken out of bed from between its parents. Mr. Cain hearing some noise in the house, arose only in time to see a woman get into a carriage, which was quickly driven away. It was then that the parents discovered that their babe had been kidnapped. Suspicions at once rested on a woman said to be from Lot 7, who had been seen lounging about the place since Friday previous. She had in her possession a parcel of baby clothes, and said she had a child in Summerside and the clothes were for it. Search was at once instituted for this woman, and resulted in her being found on Monday evening with the babe in her possession. It is needless to say the parents were overjoyed at having their infant restored to them. We have not heard what action, if any, has been taken in the matter.

In the diary just published by Mr. Froude, Mr. Carlyle narrates an interview he had with Queen Victoria, saying that the Queen was very gracious, pretty in her demeanor throughout, rose greatly in his esteem and she did not fail in any point. At the end of his memoirs there is a letter from Disraeli, in which the latter offers to Carlyle a baronetcy and the Grand Cross of Bath, and mentions that Tennyson had been offered a baronetcy. Carlyle refused both of the honors in a courteous note.
