

System To Spot Violations Of Nuclear Test Ban Formed

GENEVA (AP) — Scientists from both sides of the Iron Curtain agreed Tuesday on a technical system to spot violations if governments ban the testing of nuclear weapons. The system could include earth satellites.

The 16 scientists from eight nations did not attempt to reach any political decisions on whether there should be an agreement to halt atomic and H-bomb tests.

Details of the agreement, reached in seven weeks of secret talks, were not disclosed. Sources close to the conference said these would not be revealed until they have been studied by the governments represented here.

REPORT SOON
The final report on the conference, which may be agreed upon before the end of the week, may be published later as a formal notification by the eight governments to the UN General Assembly.

The conference began July 1 after Russia had threatened to boycott it. Moscow insisted that the United States agree beforehand to ban its tests if a technical conference showed detection of sneak experiments was feasible.

The United States refused. When the West sent its scientist delegates anyway, the Communist bloc showed up.

The agreement was announced as Britain warned that a wide area around Christmas Island in the Pacific again would be a danger area beginning today because of a new series of nuclear tests.

Just a week ago the United States carried out the second of its stratospheric nuclear missile tests above Johnson Island in the Pacific. Russia announced a ban on its own tests last March.

CANADA ATTENDS
The Geneva conference has three scientists from the United States, two from Britain and one each from Canada and France. Dr. O. M. Solandt represented Canada.

The delegates reached agreement midway in their talks on seven possible methods of detecting secret tests — by recording electromagnetic waves, sound waves, earth tremors, radioactive particles in air or water, light waves, radio waves and gamma rays and neutrons.

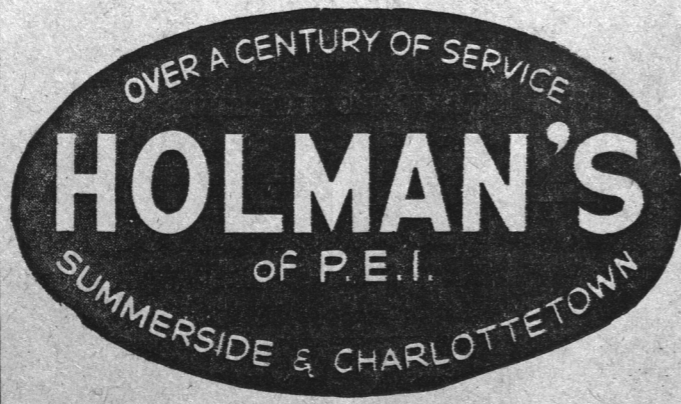

One of their conclusions was that earth satellites equipped with instruments could be used to detect secret tests and transmit the information to control stations.

The scientists also agreed that fixed ground stations should be set up to make use of all seven methods. Sources said they set no figure for the number of stations needed.

The scientists were also reported to have agreed that observation stations should be placed under the supervision of some international body such as the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

—by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, Aug. 21st — Remember the old fable about the grasshopper and the ant? While the foolish grasshopper spent the summer chirping merrily, the industrious ant stored up provisions for the winter. Then when the first icy blasts swept the landscape, you know who was in a pretty pickle! I apply the moral to many things . . . yes, even to fashions. For instance, I'm providing for my new winter suit now . . . in my "Fashion Account" at the BANK OF MONTREAL. It takes just a little determination to set aside a few dollars each pay-day. It's surprising how quickly regular deposits mount up. Why not open your "Fashion Account" at the B of M this pay-day?

ASK YOUR DOCTOR TO ADVISE YOU which one of the four famed FARMER'S WIFE Formula Milks is exactly the right one for your baby. Your doctor will prescribe the Formula Milk your precious will thrive on best . . . perhaps Farmer's Wife Family Skimmed Milk which has a higher protein and lower fat content than ordinary evaporated milk. Or your doctor may choose Farmer's Wife Whole Milk or Skimmed Milk. The New Farmer's Wife PREPARED FORMULA, with the baby sugar already added, is the choice of many mothers. All Farmer's Wife Formula Milks, so easily prepared, come in the new enamel-lined, easy opening can.

OLD FAVORITE . . . WITH A NEW FLAVOR! You and your family will love the real old-time cheddar flavor which you'll find in all MAPLE LEAF PROCESS CHEESES. For something has happened — Maple Leaf experts have discovered a new "Flav-arrest" method — which captures, and holds, that zesty, tasty, out-of-this-world flavor of cheddar. And I've good news for all of us — as a "getting-to-know-you" offer, you can buy a 1/2 lb. carton of Maple Leaf Process Cheese at 9c below the regular price at your favorite store. Try some soon, won't you?

THE REASON I enjoy making jam is because my family enjoys eating it! So—soon I'll be having a jam session with peaches, plums and pears. My jam (and jelly too!) always turns out right without guess-work because I follow the CERTO method. Certo is pectin, the natural jelling substance found in fruit. The Certo people select the finest pectin-rich fruit, then extract, refine and concentrate it to give you perfect performance. With Certo, you get up to 50% more glasses because you don't boil the juice away. You keep the true color and flavor too. This failure-proof method is explained in the booklet that comes with Certo. All the recipes are tested and approved in General Foods Kitchens. You can't go wrong!

THE DEEP DEVOTION OUR DOGS GIVE US deserves the best care, in return. And that, to my way of thinking, means Dr. BALLARD'S CHAMPION DOG FOOD . . . because it's a veterinary diet — including all the nutrients any dog needs. Every tin has a constant uniformity and quality, which means a balanced nourishment, always. You'll find your pet shows new interest in his food when it's Dr. Ballard's . . . and you can vary the flavor with Chicken, Liver and Regular. Do get Dr. Ballard's for your devoted friend, this week — and watch him thrive on it, with a shiny coat, bright eyes, good digestion and an abounding zest for fun!
