IN MEMORIAM

MATHESON—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Mackenzie Matheson, who passed away February 18th, 1938. God knew that she was suffering that the hills were hard to climb. So he closed her weary eyelids. And whispered "peace be thine. Away in the beautiful hills of God. By the valley of rest so fair. Some time, some day, we know not when. We will meet our loved one there. Ever remembered by daughter, Vera.

ANDREW—In fond and loving memory of John B. Andrew, who passed away February 18, 1955. The rolling stream of life goes on. And still the empty chair. Reminds us of the face Of one who once sat there. God saw the road was getting rough. And the hills were hard to climb. So he closed his weary eyelids. And whispered "Peace be thine."

Lovingly remembered by his wife Mabel and his children.

POLICE COURT — In connection with the accident which involved injury to two Charlottetown ladies on Thursday evening, the driver of the vehicle appeared before Magistrate Martin yesterday morning charged with criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle and was remanded until the twenty-fourth. Other cases dealt with were two drunk and incapable, one being remanded until the twenty-fourth and the other sentenced to twenty days in jail. A person charged with disorderly conduct was given a ten day suspended sentence.

Received Serious Traffic Injuries
A report on last night on the condition of Mrs. H. E. Miller and Miss Amy Earle, both of whom received serious injuries when struck by a car at the corner of Prince and Grafton Streets on Thursday night, indicated that both were resting comfortably. Mrs. Miller suffered two broken neck vertebrae which necessitated an enclosure in a cast and the use of considerable harness to prevent movement. The preventive measures will of necessity continue for considerable time. The injured lady also received many body bruises of a painful nature. Miss Earle had both legs broken and also received severe bruises, especially on the face and head, but no fracture in this area was disclosed.

up to standard. On inquiry from the Chief of Police, it was learned that only 50 of the 70 taxis operating in Charlottetown carry Public Liability and Property Damage Insurance. The other 20 cannot get it. His Worship felt that cab owners who could not obtain this type of insurance should not be allowed to operate as taxis.

He said it was for the protection of the public. Each owner has to provide a $500 bond in order to get a license but this does not protect those who might be injured through the operation of an unfit vehicle or by an unqualified driver.

The requested legislation will ask that all owners and operators must be licensed for the purpose.

AIC President Guest Speaker At Local Branch Yesterday

Dr. C. H. Goulden, Ph.D., national president of the Agricultural Institute of Canada, addressed the P. E. Island branch yesterday at the Experimental Farm. Dr. Goulden, who is of interest to the local branch, is the director of the National Council for the Conservation of Land and Water in Canada. This policy has formed the basis for planning in many areas. One of the more recent programs of the National Council has been in the preparation of a pictorial review of the possibilities in the various fields of agriculture. This has been designed primarily for students in High Schools. It is of interest to note that the P. E. Island branch is preparing to give talks to student groups concerning the possibilities in agriculture and veterinary medicine.

Dr. Goulden concluded his address with remarks on the international affairs of the organization, which was followed by a discussion. Dr. Fisher expressed the appreciation of the local branch on having the National President visit and address the members.

Johnstone, Mr. Russell Gay was proposed as the new caretaker of Victoria Park. Gormley expressed the appointment at this time. He said that no time had been given for considering the appointment.

Coun. MacDonald said that the City was fortunate indeed to have the services of such a well qualified gardener as Mr. Gay. He said that it was necessary that the appointment be made now, since the gardener would have to have time to make his selection of seed and shrubs for the beautification of the hospital field. The motion carried with Coun. Gormley voting against it. The salary of the caretaker with house, light, fuel and water provided is to be $1,800 per annum.

NON-RESIDENTS
Coun. Gaudet maintained that there was a large number of people who are required to pay the City's educational tax and who are not allowed to vote because they are not residents of the City. He felt that it would be good public relations on the part of the City if the vote was given non-residents who have paid their taxes. Coun. Gormley opposed the suggestion, stating that residency in a certain locality was one of the main requisites for having the right to vote. When the motion was put to the meeting, it carried with Coun. Foster and Gormley opposing. Legislation will have to be sought to make this change.

TAX EVADERS
Coun. Gormley who has consistently voiced his opinion that there are many workers employed on City jobs who are getting clear of paying taxes. He said that many new employees have been taken on the Federal Building during the last weeks who have not been approached.

Mayor Stewart said that this was a matter of laxity on the part of City employees. He felt that the City was not getting the co-operation of the contractor on the job. He said that in future these persons will be sought out and if they cannot produce a receipt from City Hall showing that they have paid their taxes they will have to leave the job.

BARBERS REQUEST
At a meeting of the previous Council, a request was made from a representative group of barbers asking that the City stipulate certain closing hours for all engaged in the trade. A similar request came from the hairdressers.

When the matter came up for discussion yesterday, Coun. Foster said that such a move was the thing that would be done. It would not be long before certain other groups would try to force other businesses to close whenever they felt it was right to do so.

Coun. Gaudet said that due to the irregular hours kept by barbers in the City, it was becoming increasingly difficult to hold men on the job. He did not disregard the principle of free enterprise but felt that a little regimentation along certain lines would be beneficial to all concerned. Coun. MacDonald said that it should be remembered that the request represented 75 percent of the barbers in the City and if that was their wish, it was the Council's duty to apply for such legislation. This did not mean, he said, that the City was bound to act upon it if granted the power to implement the legislation. The matter, he said, could be fully discussed after such legislation was passed.

CHRISTMAS TWO MONTHS LATE HERE
YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP)—Christmas is coming two months late to Yuba City. While others were celebrating Christmas in December, this city was fighting floods which struck much of northern California.

The Lions Club decided the children of the community would have a Christmas, even if they had to wait.

A week long celebration starts with religious ceremonies this Sunday and winds up with a big children's party Feb. 25. The Alameda naval air station is sending $7,000 worth of toys and civic groups from other cities are also sending presents.

Attended Discussions At Ottawa On Potato Industry

Mr. W. R. Shaw has returned from Ottawa, where he attended a number of top level discussions on the potato industry, as well as the annual meeting of the Canadian Horticultural Council. He stated that the meetings of the latter body were among the largest attended in the history of the organization.

The Council is divided into the various commodity and other groups, each of which convenes on its own particular problems and later reports to the General Council meetings. One of the top groups is that concerned with potatoes, and Mr. Shaw, who has been chairman of this committee for a number of years, stated that this meeting was largely attended. The discussions embraced a number of resolutions affecting marketing and production procedures. The main theme was quality in the product placed on the consumer market.

Resolutions bringing about the greatest discussion were related to changes in grades and tolerances, particularly with reference to scab. There was considerable discussion of opinion on these matters, and as a result it was decided that where such existed, the proposed changes be referred back to the various potato areas for further examination and submission of opinions at the next general meeting of Council. All discussions in committee and open council were conducted in an atmosphere of sincere good will and with the overall national interests in view.

Some changes were made in the constitution, one of which requires that the chairman of committees must now be a director on the Council Board. Mr. Shaw was made the director for this Province, and also chairman of the potato committee for the fifth consecutive year. Mr. Shaw's fine work in building up in council demand for potato and presentation to Ottawa authorities and the Canadian Tariff Board has been fully appreciated in all quarters.

He stated that excellent representation on all matters concerning potato interests was given by his associates from this province during the course of the meetings. These included Mr. W. MacLellan, chairman, P. E. I. Potato Marketing Board; D. A. MacDonald, manager, Producers Co-op Association; Mr. Bert MacCardie, representing the Potato Promotional Committee and Mr. Stewart Wright, representing the Department of Agriculture.

QUEEN ENCOUNTERS STORM
Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, just returned from the tropical American island of Nigeria, drove through a snow storm to Windsor Castle with their two children.

Records showed Italy's 16-day cold wave was the worst since 1945. The U.S. embassy announced a $50,000 American Red Cross donation to help Italian cold victims. The U.S. Air Force wound up its airlift from Germany across the Alps to Italy after delivering more than 700,000 pounds of supplies for Italian storm victims.

Light snow fell over most of France and the temperature hovered at the freezing point. The French ministry of agriculture estimated crop damage at more than $571,000,000, mostly in wheat.

The reports raised fears of coming food shortages. Looking ahead to a thaw, Europeans braced themselves for even heavier crop losses through flooding of high farmlands. Freezing temperatures were reported from Belgium and soccer games were called off. Snow fell in Berlin, with the temperature at 20 degrees above.

Warsaw radio reported a "difficult situation" in the Polish coal industry because of the freezeup and said miners were mobilized for a competition to boost output.

The best bet is a yet undiscovered vaccine for the central nervous system said Dr. John S. Diehl, Western Reserve School of Medicine, Cleveland.

Dr. Dingle hazarded his guess at a syndrome sponsored by a common Cold Foundation, an organization supported by a large number of industrial firms.

He and other experts presented instructive pointers on the cause, psychology and treatment of this seasonal mystery.

A drug to control colds would have to strike at the virus or viruses of a cold. Present drugs do not hit viruses.

The problem in seeking a vaccine is that having one cold doesn't give you immunity for long against another one. Dr. Dingle said.

Maybe this is because there are many different viruses causing colds. It may be because these viruses are weak in ability to create immunity.

Human psychology makes it tough to measure the effectiveness of any treatment for a cold, said Dr. Dingle at the University of Minnesota.

They told of tests in which people thought they had up to 60 per cent fewer colds if they were given one of the present cold vaccines or various pills, or other treatments.

The rub is that people given worthless dummy pills or shots reported exactly the same amount of benefit, compared with people getting no treatments at all.

So psychology—thinking something good was being done—affects treatment. How important a role psychology plays in bringing on colds is not known, they said.

Exposure to cold temperatures does not make people get more spontaneous colds, other experiments show. Just getting chilled doesn't cause colds.

Malenkov In Public Speech
By JOHN RETTIE
MOSCOW (Reuters)—Georgi Malenkov, in his first reported public speech since he resigned as Soviet premier 12 months ago, Friday backed the Khrushchev drive for all-out development of heavy industry.

Malenkov told the congress of the Soviet Communist party, meeting in the Kremlin, that heavy industry is "the most important factor in developing the country's economy."

Malenkov resigned the premiership last year after the central committee of the Communist party had condemned a view with which he was believed to be closely associated—that consumer goods production could be developed faster than heavy industry.

Western observers here took Malenkov's appearance on the rostrum as a further indication that he would retain his membership of the central committee and of its presidium, the top Soviet leadership.

Malenkov is a deputy premier and minister of electric power stations.

APEC Needs Are Outlined
SACKVILLE, N. B. (CP)—The Atlantic Provinces Economic Council needs the support of 10,000 members and a budget of $50,000, Executive Manager Nelson Mann said Friday.

Mr. Mann told the sixth Mount Allison University forum the council also needs an efficient staff to carry out plans for the economic development of the Atlantic provinces.

He said the council is a non-governmental organization which requires the support of individuals, business and industrial firms.

Mr. Mann said the directorship of the organization is sufficiently broad to cut out any pressure groups which may try to take over control.

The forum discussed the question: "What should the APEC do now?"

RUTHANNA BORIS AND FRANK HOBI

Fine Ballet Performance In Ch'town Last Evening

The Community Concert presentation of the Boris and Hobi Ballet Company at the Queen Charlotte High School last evening proved to be an exciting and thrilling experience for the large and appreciative audience.

Listening to comments during intermission and at the conclusion of the evening, it was quite apparent that lovers of good music and drama were finding that these two phases of art, when combined with effortless grace and beauty, produced an evening of entertainment of the highest possible order.

In the past there has been a decided lack of opportunities to see this form of art locally, and because of this, balletomanes are few and far between. Until recent years this situation has existed throughout other parts of Canada and in the United States, but now, due to the efforts of Companies such as Boris and Hobi, Ballet is again being offered to the public in its purest form.

Last night this outstanding and colourful ballet company wove its spell of enchantment over all those privileged to be present, offering in its varied program selections to suit all tastes. Ranging from the true classical ballet to contemporary works, it was difficult to decide which had the greatest appeal.

An unforgettable number on the program however was Miss Ruthanna Boris' interpretation of the beloved "Dying Swan" after choreography by Michael Fokine, to Saint-Saens' "The Swan."

Originally composed for the immortal Anna Pavlova, it is an exciting test of the ballerina's skill. Last evening Miss Boris performed this dance with them, understanding and beauty, and her interpretation of the swan struggling feebly in its last fluttering efforts to live brought tears to the eyes of many.

Also very much enjoyed were excerpts from the second act of "The Nutcracker Suite" by Tchaikovsky, with choreography after Lev Ivanov, in which Miss Boris was partnered by her very talented husband, Frank Hobi.

For Miss Boris, dancing has been an integral part of life from her earliest years. Born in Brooklyn, she started dancing at the age of ten, becoming an official member of the Ballet Corps of the Metropolitan Opera when she was twelve. At that time, while serving her apprenticeship, the young ballerina-to-be received the magnificent sum of ten dollars weekly.

In the course of her career Miss Boris has distinguished herself as an independent choreographer-dancer with a string of successful ballets to her credit.

Her partner and husband, Frank Hobi, also started dancing as a child, when, taken to a performance of the Basile Ballet Russe, he decided he wanted nothing else but to become a dancer. While completing his high school education, he studied during the winter months, returning each summer to work in his father's logging camp.

Mr. Hobi and Miss Boris were married in 1949, and their present tour is the second for this talented company.

Appearing with Boris and Hobi and dancing a number of solo roles last evening was Mr. Stanley Zompakos, who left the New York City Ballet to join them. He was seen last evening in special advantage as he brought a decided flair for comedy to his solo dancing in "Le Jazz Hot."

Accompanying the artists was Mr. Robert Drumm, whose three groups of piano selections added greatly to the enjoyment of the program as a whole.
