

Business Society : PUBLIC APOLOGY

by Mary Anne Hutchinson

I have no alternative but to begin this column with an apology. In the last issue of the Sun, this reporter referred to the Duffy Building as the Engineering Building. It has since been pointed out to me by the more worthy occupants of the building, namely, the Biology students, that Duffy has never, does not now, nor will likely ever in the future, belong to the Engineering students. I apologize for assuming that it did.

In the same article I also referred to the Engineering students as being "grubby". I now retract that statement. At the football game on Friday I noticed one or two players on the Engineering squad who were not grubby. They may have been extremely soiled, but I could not go so far as to say that they were grubby.

At this point I must embark from this ridiculous flattery of Engineers and seriously comment on the conduct of certain members of their football team. Led by our supposedly impartial referee Vince Mulligan, they insisted on negating the fine play of our team to the point where they announced the final score to be 8-7 in favour of their team. I might add that 'students' Rowe and Carmichael were particularly abusive, and went so far as to telephone CIMN and demand that their version of the score be telecast campus-wide. Due to the controversy which shrouded the game, the kind-hearted Business Society donated a free beer to every player, on both sides. Our generosity was taken advantage of, however, as one or two engineers (who shall remain nameless) succeeded in conning us out of extra beer. We will not forget this. It must be noted here that the turn-out of players was excellent for both teams, particularly the Business squad. We had enough bodies turn out to fill 3 teams, with the result that we were able to field 2 full teams against the Engineers as well as Norm Bishara's seasoned squad against the Day Students (we killed them).

All in all, a good time was had by everyone, and rumour hath it that the Engineers have challenged us to a rematch this Friday. Doth rumour also have it that, this time, they will buy the beer? We hope so!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Other business - (no pun intended) - Orders were taken for our jackets this week, with limited response. Therefore, they will be available next week in Kelly Building, during reasonable hours, every day.

Next Wednesday is the night!!!!!! The second Business party will be held on the 2nd floor of the Barn, from 9-12:30. As usual, members of the Bus. Soc. will receive their complimentary beer. We know we'll have a good turn-out of Freshmen and Sophomores because they can't bear to miss anything free. We'd like to suggest that the Juniors and Seniors put in an appearance before their course loads get any heavier. It's amazing how the rigours of Marketing and Policy can turn a perfectly normal student into a shaking, perspiring escapee from the looney bin. So choose to drink now for enjoyment, before you have to drink later for sanity.

On that note, I'll close for now - happy mid-terms and stay tuned for next week's issue.

Now... more than ever the RCMP offers a rewarding career

If you've ever considered a career in law enforcement, now's the time to talk to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The opportunities have never been greater.

For instance, the RCMP is accepting applications from both men and women, married and single. And the salary scale has increased considerably. It starts at $13,500. per year ($260. weekly) with regular increases to $19,000. ($365. weekly) in the first four years.

If accepted as a member of the Force, you'll receive intensive training in all aspects of police work such as law, investigation, first aid and community relations. Then you'll be posted to a detachment where there's every chance to put your knowledge and talents to work; to earn promotion and, equally important, be proud of what you're doing for yourself and for Canada as a member of one of the finest police forces in the world.

So if you're a Canadian citizen 18 or over and in good physical condition; think about a career with the RCMP.

Call or write your nearest office or use the coupon. We'd like to tell you more.
