

NUCLEAR WAR: UNSTABLE FINGERS ON THE BUTTON

A Harvard medical school professor says the risk of nuclear war is increasing, due to incompetence, mental instability and drug abuse among soldiers at nuclear weapons facilities.

Dr. James Muller says the army removes 5000 soldiers from nuclear assignments each year—mostly for alcohol and drug abuse—including about 250 each year dismissed for using LSD or heroin.

The risk of an accidental nuclear attack grows, Muller says, as the superpowers build more complicated weapons—reducing the warning time before an attack—and as third world countries gain access to nuclear arms without the technical expertise to control them.

"We've gotten away with avoiding an accidental nuclear war," Muller says, — "for 20 or 30 years, but we can't get away with it forever."

ROGER CARON: A STORY OF LIFE BEHIND BARS

Roger Caron knows about Canada's penal system—and he knows about crime. He was sixteen when first convicted for breaking and entering. Over a period of twenty-four years he spent time in every major prison across the country, Fro Stoney Mountain in Manitoba, to Dorchester in New Brunswick. He was dubbed 'Mad Dog Caron' by the press for his record number of escape attempts—thirteen in all!

Caron's autobiography Go-Boy! was published in 1978 and won the Governor General's Award for non-fiction. For Caron, the completion of his book meant the discovery of dignity and self-worth, as writing replaced crime as his career. Caron talks without self pity—from an insider's point of view. Roger Caron will be speaking on October 18, at 7:30 pm. Presented to you by the UPEI Student Union.
