World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, 1893.

THE Government of the Dominion of Canada has accepted the invitation of the Government of the United States to take part in the World's Columbian Exposition, to be held in Chicago from 1st May to 31st October, 1893. As it is important that a very full display of Canadian products be made on that occasion, a general invitation is extended to Canadian producers and manufacturers in agriculture, horticulture, products of forests, fisheries, minerals, machinery, manufactures, arts, etc., to assist in bringing together such a display of the natural resources and industrial products of Canada as will be a credit to the country.

An Executive Commissioner for Canada has been appointed, who will have the general charge of the exhibits and the allotment of space, and the several Provincial Governments have been invited to co-operate with the view of making the exhibition as complete and satisfactory as possible.

The Dominion Government will pay the transport of exhibits going and returning, and for the placing of articles sent.

Entries must be made not later than 31st July. The reception of articles at the Exposition building will commence 1st November, 1892, and all exhibits, excepting Live Stock, must be in place by 1st April, 1893.

Forms of application for space and general information can be obtained on applying by letter, post free, to the undersigned.

Notes and Comments.

—The farmers of Canada might take a note of the following figures (not quoted by Sir Richard Cartwright):

Exports.	1874	1891.
Horses	$570,544	$1,572,564
Cattle	951,269	8,774,769
Sheep	702,564	1,150,865

The average value per head (roughly estimated) at these periods is also significant:

	1874	1891.
Horses	$105	$132
Cattle	24	74
Sheep	3	4

No blue ruin about these figures.

—The greatest navies in the world are as follows, according to the latest statistics. The total cost of the English fleet exceeds $320,000,000:—

	Number of vessels.	Number of men.	Annual cost.
Great Britain	727	91,771	$68,753,992
France	387	87,736	40,355,810
Russia	385	28 940	33,782,720
Italy	260	19,224	21.463,626
United States	67	2,077	23,136,035

The United States have twenty other vessels in course of construction, but Austria, China, Germany, Japan, Netherlands, Spain, Sweden, and Turkey, all possess larger navies than the United States.

—The Montreal Star reports that business is brisker at that port at the present time than it has ever been at this season of the year. The other day there were no less than twenty-six steamships in the harbor loading and discharging cargo, and the harbor is full also of small coasting and inland craft. Work is being hurried forward as fast as possible in anticipation of further arrivals. Grain, deals, cheese and produce of all kinds are being carried into the city in large quantities.

Literary Notes.

The complete novel in Lippincott's Magazine for June, "John Gray; a Kentucky Tale of the Olden Time," is by James Lane Allen, who gives his readers a tender historical picture of the region named, singularly apart from anything written against a Kentucky background heretofore, yet brimming with local knowledge, and rivalling in its exquisite sympathy and touch all that the author has before produced. The peaceful theme of the tale, under Mr. Allen's own marked originality of handling, only serves to enhance the interest of the story. Murat Halstead publishes the Journalistic Series with a paper on his "Early Editorial Experiences," that cannot fail to attract a re-awakening interest in the series. Hon. John James Ingalls contributes an article on the West, entitled "Westward the Course of Empire takes its Way," bearing the impress of the ex-Senator's powerful style. In the Athletic Series, Frederick Weir gives a careful paper on the game of Lacrosse. One of the most interesting articles in the number is Prof. John Bach McMaster's historical sketch of The Struggle of the West. "The Great American Desert," by Wm. F. G. Shanks, gives an amount of information about the growth of the principal cities in that region which will be new and of keen interest to most readers. The department "As It Seems" is as Western in spirit as the entire number, and discusses "The West in Literature," Mr. Allen, and his novel, "John Gray." The short stories of the number are by Maurice Thompson and Patience Stapleton. The poetry is contributed by James Whitcomb Riley, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Susie M. Best, Robert Loveman, Carrie Blake Morgan, and St. George Best.

Russian Affairs.

Next to the famine the most discouraging feature of Russian affairs has been the deplorable condition of the imperial finances. Russia's treasury has been practically empty and her credit has been broken. Her great public works looking to the improvement and consolidation of the empire have been suspended. The government could not interest the great banking houses in their case. It was only the other day that the Rothschilds of Paris and of Vienna refused to come to Russia's assistance in the matter of a loan.

In many ways the Russian Government has been so acting as to shut itself off from the sympathy of the intelligent portion of mankind. The official oppression of the people, the exile of political offenders to Siberia without trial, the rigorous persecution of the Jews and the persistent and cruel policy which has been pursued for some years past towards the Germans in the Baltic provinces have aroused the indignation of humane, right-thinking people in all lands. If any government has need to enter upon the path of improvement it is that of the Czar. Russia's immense army and her hereditary policy of aggression have had much to do with keeping Europe in dread of war

It would be gratifying to see some change for the better, no matter what the cause. Any indications of such change are welcome. It is encouraging that we should learn almost at one and the same time that retrenchment has been ordered in all the government departments, that the extensive army manoeuvres which were to take place not far from St. Petersburg, and in Western Russia, have been countermanded, and that a syndicate of French and Russian bankers have offered to take charge of the work of construction of the trans-Siberian railroad, a work practically suspended for the lack of funds. The syndicate will represent a capital of 150,000,000 rubles, and the countermanding of the projected military manoeuvres will, it is estimated, effect a saving of 1,500,000 rubles.

Horseback Riding.

Horseback riding is too little practised in Canada both by men and women. Indeed, a man on horseback seems to suggest to the rural mind some extremity resulting from poverty, impassable roads or other distress. Canadian farmers are the most horsey—we do not say horse-loving—people in the world. Their preference is to sit effeminately behind a half-blinded animal, worried and distorted with a bearing rein, and watch his paces, to sitting on his back and sympathetically sharing his free motions. Their interest in him is that of the trader speculating on gain or fame rather than that of exuberant young life enjoying in active sympathy with a fellow-creature. Even the pleasure of holding the reins our farmers have a way of denying to their daughters and sisters. Any old, worn-out horse is good enough for them, and as for a good horse they are certain to get into trouble with him and spoil him. What does a girl want with learning to drive fast horses! As for a woman on horseback on the road or in the village she might expect to have the boys running after her shouting "circus." This is all wrong. Let both our boys and girls learn to ride on horseback and let them have every chance to do so.

Dangers of a Meat Diet.

The evils of a meat diet are being appreciated by many high livers in cities, and these are being counteracted partly by the wealthy in adding more fruits and vegetables to their tables during the winter. The cheapness of meat and the peculiar craving which the system seems to have for meat have gradually made it common for city people to live almost entirely off meat in the winter months. Meat is eaten three times a day in quantities; and the excessive use of such a diet is that rheumatic and gout temperaments are acquired. These temperaments are on the increase, and they are largely due to the excessive use of meat. Lime water counteracts the evils of his diet to a large extent.

Good Rules for the Mistress.

When engaging a servant be careful to explain her work to her, and let her understand that the work must be done in your own way and not in the way of any former mistress she may have had, and this explanation must be made so that it shall not reflect upon the routine of any other household.

Try and arrange the house work so that each servant may have an opportunity to attend church on Sunday.

When your servants do well encourage them to do better by a few words of praise.

Do not allow them to have visitors until after certain hours in the evening.

Give your orders for the day to the cook as early in the morning as possible.

Insist upon being informed when anything is broken or lost.

See that the chambermaid wears a clean apron while making the beds, and that she knocks at the bedroom doors before entering.

Order the maid who opens the door not to leave visitors standing in the hall, nor to give parcels to strangers without previous instruction.

When you reprove, do so firmly and decidedly.

Only allow your rules to be broken once; let dismissal, with customary notice, follow the second offence.

Retain your temper under all circumstances.

Insist upon the punctuality of the family as well as upon the punctuality of the cook.

Be kind to your servants when they are ill, and thoughtful of them always; in nine cases out of ten the considerate mistress will be rewarded by faithful service.

Pay your servants' wages regularly. Do not allow them to go out without first obtaining your permission.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Trouble Ahead.

The cashier passed the word of caution along the line.

"Everybody look out!" he said, "the boss is mad."

"At me?" said the head book-keeper.

"Worse than that," replied the cashier.

"At you?" asked one of the clerks.

"Oh, no. It's more serious than that."

"Has anyone done anything that's seriously wrong?" asked the new clerk.

"Not that I know," returned the cashier, "but everyone in the office wants to look out for trouble."

"Well, what's the matter," asked one of the men in despair.

"He's mad at himself," returned the cashier; "he's sorry for something that he has done, and that's when any man is the worst. Look out for trouble."

News Notes.

Another cabinet crisis in Italy is announced by the Times' correspondent.

Not only are the farmers of North Dakota flocking into the Northwest, but according to despatches of late date it seems that a large number of settlers are coming to New Brunswick. The St. John Evening Gazette claims that 80 families have arrived from Boston so far this month.

MAKES FLESH AND BLOOD.—When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact, Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life," and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles 50c. and $1 at Charlottetown drug stores.

"They thought I must die."
"THE STRONGEST STATEMENTS COULD NOT TELL HALF IT HAS DONE FOR ME."
Hereditary Liver Trouble,
ENLARGEMENT OF THE LIVER,
Diagnosed by the best Physicians, CURED.

GENTS:—My father died of Consumption of the Liver, many in my family have died with the same disease, and a large part of the time for the past two years I have been very sick, no appetite, bowels alternating between Constipation and Diarrhœa. Pains all over my body, and severe pains all through my Liver. So nervous I could not sleep nights, and in fact was much emaciated and run down. My Physician said I had Enlargement of the Liver.

The day before I commenced the use of SKODA'S REMEDIES, I had two different Physicians call upon me. People thought I must die. I had doctored so much and taken so many different kinds of patent medicines, without any benefit, that when SKODA'S DISCOVERY was brought to me, I threw away doctor's medicines, and began its use.

Soon I commenced to gain; my appetite increased; from being weak and feeble I began to grow stronger; bowels assumed a natural condition; sweet and refreshing sleep came to me nights; I began to increase rapidly in flesh.

I have now taken less than a full course (six bottles) of SKODA'S DISCOVERY, with SKODA'S LITTLE TABLETS, and to-day I am strong, am able to do my own work. In fact, am well and happy. The strongest statement I could make would not tell half your wonderful Remedies have done for me.

Respectfully yours,
