Mother's

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. No many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that feeble feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad cough and nothing seemed to do her any good. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and had her give it a trial. From the very first dose she began to get better. After taking a few bottles she was completely cured and her health has been the best ever since." Mrs. Addie Pace, 12 Railroad Place, Amsterdam, N. Y.

Cough

"I will say that my mother has not stated my case in as strong words as I would have done. Hood's Sarsaparilla has truly cured me and I am now well." Cora Pace, Amsterdam, N. Y.

A Gem of American Scenery.

Crater lake, in the Cascade mountains of Oregon, is easily the jewel of the northwest. It is hoped that means of reaching it will be perfected in the near future, so that it may be visited by the thousands of tourists and others who now content themselves with the Grand canyon of the Colorado, the Yellowstone park and the Yosemite. It can now be reached by good wagon roads from Ashland, Medford and Klamath Falls, but there are no regular conveyances or stopping places.

Crater lake is a beautiful sheet of indigo blue water, about 6 miles in length by 4 1/2 in breadth. It occupies the crater or caldron of an extinct volcano and is completely surrounded by a precipitous wall, varying from 1,000 to something over 2,000 feet in height. A remarkably perfect and symmetrical cinder cone, with a crater at its summit, forms an island—Wizard island—which rises 840 feet above the surface of the lake. The lake was sounded by Major C. E. Dutton in 1886 and found to be 2,000 feet in greatest depth. Its surface temperature is 59 or 60 degrees F. The altitude of the rim of the crater varies from about 7,000 to 8,200 feet.

Crater Lake mountain is covered with a magnificent forest of conifers, arranged in well marked belts of zones, from base to summit. The monstrous cones of the red bark fir, with their bright red seed wings and exerted bracts, are among the wonders of the vegetable kingdom, while the dark hemlocks, with their drooping branches draped in the long hanging beards of a blackish lichen, rank among the giants, some of their trunks measuring 17 1/2 feet around.

The Columbia bluebird, which is common on the mountains and furnished our camp with fresh meat. Large trout abound in Klamath lake, at the south foot of the mountain, and affords excellent fishing. Klamath lake is also the resort of the thousands of ducks and other game. Hence the sportsman, as well as the tourist, naturalist and lover of the grand and beautiful in nature, is sure to find the Crater lake region a place of unusual interest. For scenic beauty and grandeur Crater lake, with its deep blue waters, walled in by towering cliffs and rugged crags, ranks among the gems of American scenery.—Science.

Studied Affront.

"The impudent thing!" exclaimed Miss Glizari, still quivering with wrath. "I met that young Peduncle on the street a few minutes ago for the first time since we had our quarrel. After he had passed me I heard him whistle 'Just Tell Them That You Saw Me.' And I hadn't even looked at him!"—Chicago Tribune.

McKAY WOOLEN COMPANY,

THE GREAT BARGAIN GIVERS.

THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE.

The National Magazine for February contains in its table of contents some articles of unusual interest. The leading illustrated one is "The Last of Sir Edwin Landseer's Hounds," by Charlotte Lowry Jones. The late Landseer, it will be remembered, was the greatest animal painter of his day, and his home, besides its artistic associations, was frequently visited by the Queen, by members of the royal family, and almost every other notable personage in contemporary English history. The fourth paper on "Christ and his 'Time,'" by Dallas Lore Sharp, continues a really remarkable presentation of a great theme, the serial itself being extensively taken up by magazine readers over the entire country. The present chapter, with its illustrations pictures Palestine at the time Christ began his ministrations. An attractive little sketch, "The Tale of a Tune," by George B. Brown, describes the Yukon Valley mining and the extraordinary difficulties attached to it. The photographs were taken in some of the most inaccessible spots in Alaska. An attractive little sketch, "The Birthplace of a College Song," by G. M. Hill, another subject of intense interest, describes the Yukon Valley mining and the extraordinary difficulties attached to it. The photographs were taken in some of the most inaccessible spots in Alaska.

Sunday Battles.

Some of the most important battles by land and sea have been fought on Sundays, and the first day, so far as warfare is concerned, has proved anything but a day of rest. The most important Sunday battle on land was Waterloo, which caused the final overthrow of the great Napoleon, while at sea Lord Howe inflicted a serious defeat on the French naval forces on Sunday, the "glorious" 1st of June, 1794. Inker-man, the "soldiers' battle," was another Sunday victory. It was fought on Nov. 5, 1854, between the British and French against the Russians, when 8,000 British repulsed a force of 25,000 Russians, of whom 3,000 were killed and wounded.

Among other important Sunday battles were Kamille, one of Marlborough's great victories, which was fought on Whit Sunday, May 23, 1708; Oudenarde, on Sunday, July 11, 1708, and Malplaquet, on Sunday, Sept. 11, 1709. The battle of Vimera was fought on Sunday, Aug. 21, 1805, and it was on Sunday, Jan. 19, 1812, that Wellington issued the brief but determined order, "Ciudad Rodrigo must be carried by assault this evening at 7 o'clock." The Indian mutiny broke out at Meerut on Sunday, May 10, 1857, while Kara was carried by assault by the Russians on Sunday, Nov. 18, 1857.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

At His Own Expense.

Mr. Bluff—Look here, young man, you're always going about with my daughter, and I want to know what your intentions are regarding her? Young Man—I really have no intentions, sir. Mr. Bluff (angrily)—Then, what do you mean by amusing yourself at my daughter's expense? Young Man (airily)—I'm not amusing myself at your daughter's expense, sir, but at my own expense. I always pay for the theater tickets and refreshments.—Pearson's Weekly.

Exchanging Compliments.

"I see that you are your own washerwoman," said Mrs. Spitzly, who was leading her poodle past the place. "Yes," retorted Mrs. Spitzly. "But, thank goodness, I'm not reduced to playing nurse for a dog."—Detroit Free Press.

There are a great many spiders, especially among the tropical varieties, which have three eyes, one on each side of the head and the third exactly in the center of the forehead. This middle or third eye is always the largest.

'Twas Hard Work Fifteen Years Ago.

To-day Diamond Dyes Make Home Dyeing Easy.

Fifteen years ago the work of home dyeing was just in its infancy. The old-fashioned, crude preparations were then in vogue, necessitating much time and great expense, while the results, even with the greatest amount of care, never brought satisfaction.

The introduction of Diamond Dyes revolutionized home dyeing work completely. Diamond Dyes saved time and money to thousands of busy women, and at once became popular in every family.

Each succeeding year found the Diamond Dyes improved in color, brilliancy and durability of shade. To-day they stand far ahead of all other dyes in every point, and are as perfect as science can make them.

There are many imitations of Diamond Dyes in the land, and many women are deceived daily when purchasing. In order to insure absolute success in home dyeing see that every packet of dye you buy is marked "Diamond Dye."
