RIPLEY'S BELIEVE IT OR NOT

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER

QUIZ

You are the dealer, both sides vulnerable. What would you bid with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠A8 ♥Q94 ♦AKJ63 ♣K72
2. ♠Q972 ♥AK987 ♦84 ♣K6
3. ♠97642 ♥AKQ5 ♦J ♣AQ8
4. ♠AJ ♥Q843 ♦J762 ♣AQ5

1. One notrump. The only bids to consider are one diamond and one notrump. The one notrump bid avoids the disadvantages to which an opening diamond bid is subject.

Suppose the opening bid were 1 diamond. If partner's response turned out to be one heart, one spade, or one notrump, no satisfactory rebid would be available. To bid two notrump to show the extra values would probably then be best, but, since this contract would be in danger if partner had a minimum response, such a sequence should be anticipated and avoided.

The opening notrump bid carries the advantage of representing the actual strength and shape of the hand, and manages to do so in one stroke while staying at a low level.

2. One heart. The tendency today is to open hands of this type. Although there are only 12 high card points, the immediate bid has many tactical advantages. To pass first, intending to come in later to compensate for the previous pass, is dangerous procedure. And similarly, a continued cautious attitude, by staying out of the bidding throughout, might also prove harmful.

The opening heart bid follows the general principle of getting the first punch in early, and in a reasonably safe manner. The minimum nature of the opening bid can be readily identified, if partner makes a forcing bid, by rebidding the heart suit at the cheapest level. If it turns out the opponents play the hand and partner is on lead, the most desirable opening lead has been indicated.

3. One spade. Some players tend to bid suits according to high card strength rather than length. Generally speaking, it is better for a partnership to choose as trump the suit in which they are longest, not necessarily strongest. The spade bid is a step in this direction. The hearts can be shown at the next opportunity. Whichever suit partner then prefers is apt to be the proper trump suit.

4. One club. Here there is a clash of several general principles.

Hands containing 14 high card points are regarded as mandatory opening bids. But neither hearts nor diamonds are biddable suits, both being anemic four-card suits, and the clubs are not biddable, being only a three-card suit. A notrump opening is excluded, the necessary 26 to 18 points being absent.

The doubt is resolved in favor of the manufactured club bid. The high card values compel an opening bid.

Employment Figures Given

OTTAWA (CP)—Industrial employment and payrolls showed little change during July, the bureau of statistics reported Thursday.

The composite index of industrial employment rose to 121.8 at Aug. 1 from the July 1 figure of 121.3, and the payroll index rose to 201.2 from 200.3. The index is based on 1949 levels equalling 100.

Average weekly wages at Aug. 1 were $70.75, about the same as at July 1 and June 1.

The bureau said substantial declines in employment, caused by seasonal factors, occurred in transportation equipment, iron and steel products, retail trade and forestry. These were outweighed by increases in other industries, especially food and beverage manufacturing.

Employment in the clothing industry rose slightly in both June and July, contrary to the usual downward seasonal trend in earlier postwar years.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
