

In Memoriam

ALFRED ROY MILLS

The death occurred at the P. E. Hospital, on Friday afternoon, Dec. 17th, 1954, of Alfred Roy Mills, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mills of Charlottetown, in his 38th year. The late Mr. Mills was stricken with a fatal heart attack at his work on the railroad and died before hospital assistance could be rendered to him. The late Mr. Mills was a war veteran of World War II. He joined up with the 8th Battery. Later the battery divided and he was with the 2nd Cdn. H. A. A. Regiment in England, France, Holland, Belgium and Germany until 1945 when the war ended. After he returned home he went back to work on the railroad with the B. and N. G. which he had worked at previous to the war.

In 1946 he married Ethel Hill of Mayfield, in those years of blissful life were born four children, namely, Gordon, Ira, Thomas, Heather, Dawn, Patsy, Velma, and Barry. The first born, Gordon, died being very young at the age of little over eight months developing meningitis through sickness, died suddenly.

Though in poor health since the war, Roy missed little time from his work, except for entering hospital on occasional check ups. In Roy's youthful days he was very fond of all sport of which boxing and swimming were his favorites. Being of a quiet and lovable nature, Roy won a host of friends, wherever he went. The large funeral service was held in the high esteem in which he was held. All railway workers far and near as well as his good playmates and soldier buddies came to pay their last respects.

He leaves to mourn besides his loving widow, one son Gordon and two daughters, Heather and Patsy; also three brothers and four sisters, namely Gordon of Charlottetown, Frank of Parkdale, Stephen (Ben) of Central Royalty, Elsie (Mrs. Howard White) of Milton, Helen (Mrs. Robert Stevenson) of Charlottetown, Mary (Mrs. Mickey Simcoe) of Winnipeg, Man.; Fernie (Mrs. Carl Crosby) of West Royalty. His mother predeceased him in April of 1954, and his father eight years ago.

The funeral was held from his late home on Sunday, Dec. 19th, where Rev. Frank MacLean, assisted by Rev. Howard Christie conducted the services at home, assisted by the Legion at the grave. The hymns sung were: "Pass Me Not O Gentle Saviour" and "The Legion at the Grave." The burial was in the "That Binds" The Legion at the grave.

Funeral services were: Messrs. Frank White, Joseph Prowse, Charles Small, Stanley Matheson, Don Ferguson, and Spurgeon MacNeill.

Think Richard III Victim Of Big Lie

NEW YORK (AP)—Friends of Richard III, Inc., hope to prove the hunch-backed British ruler was "one of the first victims of the big lie."
The group at a meeting Tuesday said it hopes to convince historians and the public that Shakespeare and others maligned Richard because of the "Tudor slant."
They claim the Tudor kings, his successors, destroyed many documents which would have shown Richard wasn't as bad and bloody as he is painted, and left only "prejudiced report and propaganda."

U. S. May Act Then Ask Britain

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Churchill said Thursday he supposed the United States might act at once without further prior consultation with Britain if an "immediate, destructive surprise and treacherous attack by the hydrogen bomb" was made against Britain.
A labor member had asked in the House of Commons for the precise terms of the agreement between President Eisenhower and the prime minister by which British-based American planes would not become engaged in operations of war without the prior consent of the British government.
The prime minister referred questioner Kenneth Robinson to a statement he made on this subject last March.
Robinson further asked the prime minister to confirm that the agreement would continue in force so long as the American bases existed.
He also sought an assurance that there were no circumstances in which the consent of the British government could be presumed in advance.
To this Churchill replied: "I suppose an immediate, destructive, surprise and treacherous attack by the hydrogen bomb upon this island might possibly be acted upon by our allies in the United States immediately without further prior consultation."

Agree To Abolish Armistice Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has notified Sweden and Switzerland it agrees with their proposal that the commission set up to police the Korean armistice be abolished because it serves no useful purpose.
The state department sent notes Wednesday to the Swedish embassy and the Swiss legation here setting forth the U. S. position. The notes were not immediately made public.
Commission members besides Switzerland and Sweden are Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia. The United States has charged repeatedly that the commission is powerless to deal with violations because members are denied free movement in North Korea.

HISTORIC RESORT

Ramsgate, seaside town in Kent, England, was known as a "good class resort" in the 13th century.

British Physicist To Visit U. S.

LONDON (Reuters)—Sir William Penney, key British atomic scientist, is preparing to fly to the United States for top-secret talks with American scientists, according to widespread reports here.
The reports say that he will lead an important group of British experts who will discuss in Washington the prospects of a full resumption of Anglo-American cooperation in the nuclear weapons field.
This discussion is expected to examine chiefly the possibility of a detailed change of information between the countries about hydrogen bomb development.

TO VISIT NEVADA

The reports say that while in the U. S. Penney and his team may visit the American Atomic Energy Commission's testing ground in Nevada where a "special atomic device" is due to be exploded shortly.
This device is said to be an improved "trigger" for the hydrogen bomb, which Sir Winston Churchill disclosed Tuesday is now being built in Britain.

Penney, director of atomic weapon research at Aldermaston, Berkshire, is keeping his movements a close secret.

Britain Still Bans Strategic Exports

LONDON (AP)—Britain disclosed Thursday that the Western ban on the export of strategic goods to Red China will be extended March 9 to adjacent Communist North Viet Nam.
The board of trade said all exports destined for Ho Chi Minh's state will come under rigid licensing control.
The new directive apparently is aimed at preventing leakage of war-potential goods to Communist China through North Vietnamese ports. The Vietnam-controlled north Indochinese state was set up last summer at the Geneva conference by the accord ending the Indochina war.

Urge Milk For School Children

OTTAWA (CP)—The 450,000-member Canadian Federation of Agriculture today appealed to the federal government to aid provinces in providing free milk for children in primary and secondary schools.
It also urged that cheese imports be banned while there are surpluses in Canada; that the government dispose of surplus butter in export markets; and that the price-support on butter of 55 cents a pound wholesale be continued for two years.

Too Little Money For Flowers

TORONTO (CP)—The monthly payments routine is keeping Canadians from buying bouquets, the annual convention of the United Florists of Canada was told Wednesday night.
Ernest S. Simmons, a past president of the Florists Telegraph Delivery Association, said installment buying of things other than flowers leaves so little over from a pay cheque that many families cut out such "extras" as flowers. He suggested a publicity campaign to offset this.
The convention elected Eric Walsh of Toronto president and Fred O. Pulsifer of Halifax as an executive vice-president.

P. O. W. Sentenced

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—Master Sgt. William Olson received a sentence of two years hard labor and dishonorable discharge, Thursday, following conviction by court martial on charges of collaborating with the enemy while a prisoner of war in Korea.
The sentence carried forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

Savage Harbour

It is pleasing to note that Leslie Pigot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pigot, Savage Harbour, has now completely recovered from his recent illness and is now back attending his regular classes at school. Leslie a very popular little fellow was sick for several weeks and during that period was greatly missed by his class mates.

Mr. Francis MacKay of Charlottetown was a visitor to Savage Harbour during the week at Mr. Stewart has left on return to the Cornwallis Naval Base at which the Cornwell's Naval Base MacKay and Mr. Joseph S. MacKay.

A very pleasant evening's entertainment was offered to those who attended the card party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison, Savage Harbour, on Thursday night. Nine handers and three tables squared away at the opening signal. Play was of a high order and very even. Only one of the players, Mrs. Cyril Morrison, succeeded in hoisting the victory signal more than once. Other winners were Mrs. Theresa MacDonald, Ray Freehan, John D. MacInnis, Charlie Campbell, Donald J. MacDonald, John Hawkins, Jim Morrison, John Morrison, Tiny MacIntyre, Dick Doyle, Leonard Doyle and Joseph MacKay. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess at the end of play.

Mr. Spencer Crane of the Royal Canadian Navy, who has been spending his furlough at his home at Mt. Stewart has left on return to the Cornwallis Naval Base at which the Cornwell's Naval Base MacKay and Mr. Joseph S. MacKay.

NERVE LINKS IN A FIGHTING ARMY
The Royal Canadian Signals operates a huge nerve network, which stretches halfway round the world. For Signals ties the far flung elements of our Army into a smoothly coordinated fighting team.

Signals trains its own soldier-specialists in all phases of modern communications. It offers fine careers for men who want to learn its many skills... who want to share in proud traditions and vital work.

Radio mechanics are the trouble shooters of Signals. Their repair work calls for training in the basic theory and practice of radio and electronics.
A job for men with quick minds, sensitive fingers and an eagerness to understand basic electronics. The radio telegraphist is trained to send and receive coded messages.
Rugged soles and nimble feet are the requirements for the lineman, who does his job forty feet in the air. He is trained to construct cable and wire systems.

The despatch rider is a tough, sharp-eyed messenger with an instinct for the right direction and the courage to take it. Trained to map reading and in basic mechanics.
Cable and radio communications are the backbone of a fast-moving army. Trained to the rapid dispatching of tactical messages.
The switchboard operator is the keystone of the military telephone system... a sort of Signals pivot man. Trained to handle calls and information quickly and efficiently.
