

French Bombing Reaction Shows Sorrow And Shock

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON (CP)—France stands isolated before the bar of world opinion on the Tunisian issue. Seldom has reproof of a Western country seemed so severe as in the bitter aftermath of the French bombing action against the border village of Sakiet Sidi Yousef.

Apart from qualified support in a few newspapers, such as The Daily Express, the reaction is almost universally one of sorrow, shock and exasperation. WHO REALLY RULES? Commentators ask these questions: Who really rules France? What happens to the French dream of a flourishing "Eurafica" spanning the Mediterranean? How long can the country persist in an African policy that is distorting the French economic and political structure and obscuring the world view of the fact that, at home, France is a resurgent nation?

For many writers, the most astonishing feature of last Saturday's attack is that apparently no French government ministers, with the possible exception of Defence Minister Chaban - Delmas, were informed in advance. The answer seems to be that politicians in Paris take second place to political and military officials in Algiers. Commenting on this, The Economist warns such action will squander the credit of all Western nations in Asia and Africa.

FEARED EXPRESS BELIEFS
The great majority of French ministers and members of the Chamber of Deputies — the so-called "house without windows" — are thought to have been distressed by news of the action. But, notes the Manchester Guardian, when ministers and deputies considered the consequences of saying what they thought, they lacked the courage to do so.

In the short term, the principal damage caused by last Saturday's bombs may be wrought upon Tunisia's pro-Western policy. Although the French have strenuously questioned whether President Habib Bourguiba is in fact friendly to the West in general and France in particular, the record seems to show that Bourguiba is doing his best to stay in the non-Communist camp.

For the future, it is just possible to draw one comforting conclusion. Over a period, many independent observers have regarded France's North African policy as a disastrous blend of short sighted colonialism and super-heated patriotism. The shock of Sakiet Sidi Yousef, some feel, may prove a turning point in the French attitude. If not, France's allies may have to enforce some different strategy.

Sea Cadet Tells About His Trip Across Atlantic

The Sea Cadets are mostly following a routine training schedule these days. They meet every Friday night for drill and instructions. Last Friday evening, a slight deviation marked night's training, when Ted Roach, gave a short talk about his trip to Europe. Ted had been chosen to represent the Souris Sea Cadets in this trip.

RED CROSS: he Sixth monthly meeting of the Red Cross was held in the School library on Feb. 11th. No new business was brought forth at the meeting. It was decided that the sale of apples, the woodworking, and the work on the layettes would be continued. The meeting then formed discussion groups to discuss three of the Junior Red Cross Handbooks.

Residents of the Sacred Heart Home, Charlottetown and the Provincial will receive sweets, etc. on their birthday in the future. The members of the Red Cross will each take turns sending birthday gifts to our older friends.

Sports: Souris High lost its second game of the season last Saturday in Charlottetown when they were defeated by Summerside High. It was an exciting scrap, and for the first half, it was a fairly close game. However in the last half the locals faded, while Summerside came to life with a bang.

Next game in the schedule will be this coming Saturday. Prince of Wales will provide the opposition as the locals play their first home game in the newly formed Island High School League. In an exciting home and home series with the college lads earlier

Kings Musical Festival Committee Gets Rolling

Matters got rolling for Kings from Rural choirs as well as the usual entries from Schools, vocal, piano solos, as well as several Rhythm Bands, entries. Mrs. Cyrus Shaw, who is on Choral Reading committee is endeavouring to arouse interest in this field of Festival work. Mrs. E.H. Stewart vice-president for Kings County P.E.I. Musical Festival Association expressed regret that due to other commitments and sickness Kings had no representation at the General meeting in Charlottetown on January.

Heavy Drifting Reported In Kings County Last Night

Snow plows had main roads open in Southern Kings yesterday and were working on secondary roads. But heavy drifting was reported and it was decided to call plows off secondary roads until this morning. Last night the paved roads were reported passable but heavy drifting was continuing.

Placed Guilty To Bank Holdup

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Leo Landry, 40-year-old unemployed machinist from Memramcook, N.B., pleaded guilty Friday to the $1,500 holdup of a Canadian Bank of Commerce branch. He was remanded to Feb. 21 for sentence.

Landry, who came here two years ago, was arrested in his apartment Thursday, 48 hours after a lone gunman escaped on foot after holding up the Tuscaraora and Ouellette branch of the bank.

Mrs. Corinne Grass, a teller, told police the gunman ordered her to hand over the money in her cage and attempted to take her hostage. The man fled when she screamed. Detectives who said they found $1,100 in Landry's room and $117 in his person, seized a blank cartridge start of Commerce branch. He was released.

He leaves to mourn two daughters and one son: Esther (Mrs. Russell Gillis) of Eldon, Gladys (Mrs. Cephas Davey), Murray Harbor North, and Cameron in Montague. He is also survived by three sisters and one brother: Mrs. Albert Graham, and Mrs. Thomas Miller both of Murray Harbor North, Mrs. Samuel Libby in U. S. A., and Harry of Murray Harbor North. His wife, the former Mary Elizabeth Dalziel, of Murray Harbor North, predeceased

22 Nurses Receive Caps At Cundall Home Ceremony

Twenty-two young ladies, preliminary nursing students of the Prince Edward Island Hospital School of Nursing, received their caps last night in a ceremony at the Cundall Home here. The caps were placed on their heads by Miss Frances MacMillan, N.S. Dr. J. W. MacKenzie presided.

Dr. MacKenzie advised them that if they learned "patience, tact and kindness" in addition to their professional learning, they would go a long way toward earning the right to be called nurses. Rev. G. Howard Christie resided.

Montague High Wins From Souris At Ice Sports Game

All classes from beginners to seniors were well filled at the Montague ice sports held last night, and the large crowd of spectators were thrilled by the close finishes. Standford Pearson was the outstanding star, winning a first in each event in which he participated. These included the quarter mile open, half-mile, boys 14 years and under and the mile open.

Following the ice sports, a fast game of hockey was played, with Montague High defeating Souris High 9-0. Stanford Pearson was again the star, getting four goals for Montague, with E. MacLure adding two, and Balderston, Shaw and Ballum each getting one.

Whipper Watson To Speak On Easter Seal Campaign

An action-packed itinerary will mark the progress of "Whipper" Billy Watson, world's Heavyweight champion wrestler, on his visit to the island in the interest of the Easter Seal Campaign, which he vigorously supports on behalf of adult and crippled children.

The program is designed to have as many as possible see and hear this renowned athlete who has brought distinction in his field to Canada. His voluntary self-financed tour from coast to coast, to speak on the work of the organization dealing with crippled children and adults, has stuck a responsive chord in the hearts of many men and women who would otherwise not have been aware of the great work already accomplished and remaining to be done.

Mr. Watson is due to arrive in Charlottetown by M. C. A. at 7:10 p. m. tomorrow (Sunday) night and after checking in at the Charlottetown Hotel he will give an address at 8:30 p. m. at the Y. M. C. A. as a feature of the weekly "Christian Fellowship Hour."

Monday at 10:30 a. m., Mr. Watson will meet His Worship Edwin C. Johnstone at City Hall and later visit Premier Matheson at the Provincial Building, followed by an address at 11:40 a. m. to the Student Body at Prince of Wales College.
