The firemen were promptly on the spot, but their services were not required. THE programme of Miss Laine's concert to-night will include the following songs: Bolero, from Sicilian Vespers; a traditional French song; a Favorite before 1812; one of Purcell's songs of the 17th Century, and the New Kingdom and Annie Laurie by request. Quite a large number attended the tea at Brackley Point on Thursday considering it was advertised to take place the day previous. The day was spent in enjoying the sea breeze, driving on the beach and taking part in the games provided for the amusement of the visitors. Several fakirs were present, who seemed to do their usual good business in depriving the people of the little they had saved to enable them to spend a pleasant day. Quite a number of tourists were also present. The Patriot published, Thursday a statement made by Messrs. D. C. Chalmers and Milton Davison, of the Banks of Nova Scotia and the Merchants Bank of P. E. I., respectively, who were employed by the present government to ascertain the liabilities of the Province up to April 25th, last. In the course of their report they say that "having enquired into the public receipts and expenditures as fully as the system of keeping the public accounts and the limited time at our disposal would permit, we estimate the liabilities of the Province on the 24th of April last to have been $171,331.99, and in the balance sheet (so called) a sum of $5,093.77 appears as an asset under the heading of "Old Duty Bonds." We have not deemed it our duty to strike this item out of its statement, but as these bonds are really worthless, we would suggest that it is useless to make them appear from year to year as if they were of value. In conclusion, we may say that our work would have been much simplified, if a better system of book-keeping had been in vogue in the Departments and we would suggest that some good system be adopted."

He did not follow the instructions, but took the whole bottleful in an hour or two, and at midnight his wife found him on the floor in a semi-conscious condition. She helped him to bed and went to sleep. At three o'clock she awoke to find her husband dead at her side. An inquest will be held this afternoon.

A Salvation Army Story. LONDON, July 9.—It may be difficult to knock out the Salvationists with prayer, but the feat was neatly accomplished by the mayor of Eastbourne. Eva Booth, daughter of the general, called upon the mayor to expostulate with him touching prosecution of the army for disturbing the peace. Her arguments being of no avail she dropped on her knees in the mayor's parlor and asked the Lord to give him a new heart. The mayor, a devout Scotchman, had no objection to Miss Booth praying, but he had no idea of allowing her to do it alone. He also fell on his knees and fervently prayed that a new heart might be vouchsafed the "law breaker," as he termed the salvationist. Eva, finding the knee drill ineffectual, rose and left the mayor master of the situation.

THE QUESTION ANSWERED. IT is often asked why it is that W. P. Colwill sells so much more crockery than any other store on P. E. Island. This is one reason, he pays the Printer for circulating the news through the country, East and West, North and South, that the best of the cheapest the largest stock of crockery in the Province is at W. P. COLWILL'S. Another reason why we sell so much more Crockery than anyone else on the Island is because the people tell one another that the place to get Crockery or Glassware is at the Cheapest Crockery Store, and yet they come. PROWSE BROS. THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MEN.

PEAT MOSS FOR BEDDING HORSES 40C. PER BALE. Used Extensively in the United States and Elsewhere. RECOMMENDED, because—1st, it is a remarkable deodorizer, (you cannot tell a stable man by his boots). 2nd, It is a wonderful absorbent, (one good bed lasting a month), 3rd, it is desirable for horses, keeping their feet clean and cool and preventing tenderness. From a sanitary point of view it is almost indispensable in warm weather and especially where the stable is near the house. By actual experiment our moss is proven superior to the German moss, which is used in the United States. We are selling close to cost as it takes about 600 pounds fresh moss from the bog to make a bale of dry moss, which is about as light as feather. We have about 90 acres of this wonderful moss, and we understand there is only one other similar bog in America yet discovered. If properly used this moss will be found very little if any dearer than straw for bedding and it is incomparably better. DIRECTIONS:—Put a 4in. plank at the foot of the stall, empty a bale and a half of moss, keep the other half bale to freshen up the bed, break up the lumps fine and stir up the bed every morning, adding a fork full of fresh moss. For sale at LePages' old stand, Stewart & McLeods grocery, Wm Boswell Feed Store Beer & Goff's, King Square Store. CHARLOTTETOWN MOSS LITTER CO. July 1, 1891—2w eod

Dyspepsia

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, and was unable to get on for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With renewed activity of mind and body. Before 8 Years I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists, etc. Prepared only by C. I. The Servia Disabled.

New York, July 6.—The steamship Eider, from Bremen, which arrived here this evening, reports that the Canadian line steamship Servia, hence Saturday at Liverpool, is returning in tow of the Dutch oil tank steamer Chester, with her machinery disabled. The Servia broke her high pressure crank pin. When the Eider saw her she was about 140 miles eastward of Sandy Hook. Capt. Bauer of the Eider, says the Servia signalled 22 times stating that she was completely disabled. The Chester was 8 miles off the Servia when she signalled and asked for tugs. The Chester is now on her way here at the rate of 5 knots an hour. The crank pin that broke is 27 inches in diameter and it may take a month for the Servia to get refitted with a new one, as it may be necessary to send to England for a duplicate. Tugs have been sent to the assistance of the Servia, and she will probably arrive to-morrow at noon. The Servia has on board a large number of passengers, including Prince George of Greece.

In Darkest Africa.

A Remarkable Female Pigmy Now Being Exhibited in London. LONDON, July 7.—The wonderful account given by Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, of the dwarf tribe he had met with in equatorial Africa has aroused a great deal of public curiosity. Mr. Cross, the Liverpool naturalist, in order to meet this demand, gave orders to his agents to obtain at any price the best specimen they could of this peculiar race, which seems to supply the long-sought for missing link between the anthropoid ape and man. After a long and tedious search in the depths of the dark continent, a remarkable female pigmy was procured from a native tribe by which she had been captured and was brought safely to Liverpool. She is 38 inches in height, of a well developed body and jet black complexion, with a peculiar monkey-like expression and a nose so flat that the lower part of her face resembles closely the muzzle of an animal. She has learned a little English and converses freely, as far as her vocabulary goes, with those around her. Another decidedly civilized accomplishment she has also acquired is to smoke the best cigars with a relish. K. D. C. a certain cure for Indigestion
