P.E.I. Causeway Favored Over Chignecto Project

Benefit Is Seen To Atlantic Area

HALIFAX — (CP) — Edmund Morris one of two Halifax members of parliament, said Wednesday he feels it would be his duty to oppose construction of the Chignecto canal on the basis of present evidence.

The Conservative MP was commenting on a resolution passed Tuesday by the National Liberal Advisory Council proposed early construction of the canal through the isthmus linking Nova Scotia and New Brunswick which its supporters call a natural extension of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

"There is no evidence to contend with the widespread suspicion that the project would cause serious difficulties to the port and people of Halifax."

Mr. Morris said Maritimers should work vigorously for regional projects which will benefit the entire area. He said the proposed Causeway across Northumberland Strait between New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island "would fit more clearly into the concept of regional projects satisfying the entire region."

As for the canal he added: "Halifax will give its full and active support to any project which could be expected to endow to the benefit of the whole Atlantic Provinces region."

"The present available evidence leads to no such conclusion for the Chignecto Canal."

Six Of Escapees Are Recaptured

IVY BLUFF, N.C. (AP)—Six of 20 dangerous, gun-carrying convicts who broke out Tuesday from North Carolina's tough Ivy Bluff prison were recaptured Wednesday.

Four of the fugitives were picked up in Cambridge, Ohio. Two others were captured by police near Ruckersville, Va.

All surrendered meekly, although they were armed.

Captured at Ruckersville were James Edward Christy, 26, serving 19 to 25 years for breaking and entering and manslaughter; and Ralph Byers, 27, serving 35 to 42 years for robbery with firearms and auto theft.

Apprehended at Cambridge were Leslie Gaultier, 23, serving seven to eight years for breaking and entering and larceny; Hilliard Inman, 24, serving 29 years for robbery with firearms; Grady Stone, 23, serving five to eight years for breaking and entering; and Glenn Hensley, 35, serving life for murder. One escapee was recaptured Tuesday.

Stone said the mass escape was because of what he called brutal prison conditions. "They just couldn't stand it down there," Stone said. "When I escaped I got my first Coke and my first candy bar in 19 months."

PRISON BRUTALITY

Stone complained of prison brutality and said some 60 convicts had maimed themselves since last May in an effort to avoid prison work.

At Memphis, four desperadoes who said they had escaped from a North Carolina prison, broke into a mid-town home, held a couple at knife point and raped the housewife, Clarence Wortham 53, said the men held a threatening blade at his throat while three of the intruders assaulted his 53-year-old wife. Wortham said the four spent two hours before dawn in the single family dwelling, which was ransacked.

Interest Hike Is Likely On Housing Mortgages

By JACK BEST
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—Works Minister Walker hinted Wednesday the maximum interest rate on government-guaranteed housing may be increased before the end of the year.

He threw out the hint to reporters after receiving a brief from the National House Builders Association asking that the ceiling be raised in order to prevent collapse of the country's home-building program.

The present rate is six per cent. Officials of the builders' association, which represents 3,100 individual contractors from St. John's to Victoria, suggested orally to the minister that 6 1/2 per cent might be a fair maximum. However this figure did not appear in the formal printed submission.

Mr. Walker said later he recognized the validity of many of the home builders' arguments. In order to induce banks, trust companies and other private lenders to provide mortgage funds the rate had to be sufficiently attractive.

NEED INDUCEMENT
"There will have to be some inducement other than six per cent," said Mr. Walker. He is the minister responsible for Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, which administers the National Housing Act.

He was "satisfied" that insurance companies, from what he knew of them, would not make mortgage loans at six per cent. He noted that housing starts this year had dropped to an estimated 140,000 from 165,000 in 1958 and appeared to agree with a reporter's suggestion that this could reflect a scarcity of lendable capital.

BEST SIGNALS UNIT IN CANADA

The Mallock trophy is the centre of attraction for these NCO's of 5 Signals Regiment and their wives, and well it might be. Won by the regiment twice in a row, it is emblematic of the best Signals unit in Canada. Left to right are Staff Sergeant L. A. Montigny and Mrs. Montigny, Mrs. G. W. Schleyer and WO G. W. Schleyer. Lt-Col. F. S. Jenkins and Mrs. Jenkins were guests last night at the unit's annual dinner and dance.

100 Back Resolution On Sewage

More than 100 names have been affixed to the citizens committee protest which will be presented to the City Council on Monday night.

The citizens with interests in the new development area in the west end of the city, are opposing the installation of an interceptor pipe and outfall to the North River, claiming that the dumping of raw sewage in the area will contaminate the water and make the beach unfit for swimming.

A spokesman for the committee said yesterday, they will make a determined fight to have the project postponed until an outside consultant clear of W. H. Crandall, the department of health or E.K. Sharp of Truro, can give an expert opinion on the matter.

The proposal is to have two outfalls into the North River, one at Kirkwood Drive west and the other at York Lane. The outfall would dump the sewage into 30 feet of water at low tide, in the channel of the river.

Mayor Johnstone, backed by Deputy Mayor A.W. Gaudet has stated that he will have to be guided by the opinions of experts in the field of sanitation and with this in view, has asked Mr. Crandall, Dr. Burton Howatt and Mr. Sharpe to appear before the council to give their opinions.

The mayor has stated that he and the council are anxious to see that every presentation is taken in regard to sanitation but the opinion of technical advisors will be the crux of the final decision.

SMILING LADY SAILS ON LINER

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP) — A small woman with a big smile boarded the Canadian Pacific Steamships' Empress of France Wednesday for her first trip to her homeland since she came to Canada just after the Second World War.

Mrs. Joan Landry of Etang du Nord, a community on the Magdalen Islands in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, is the wife of a disabled war veteran and the mother of nine children.

Speaking in his capacity as minister of agriculture, the premier said that markets for Island produce could be enlarged to include the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence as well as southern countries.

Speaking at length on the province's agricultural situation, the premier said that the livestock industry is in a state of transition. "We have a good hog industry in the province but there is a lot of work to be done on it in improving the quality of hogs and taking care of disease. We are behind in the cattle industry in building and management and I hope we can effect a great improvement in this," he said.

The importance of good farm management was stressed by Mr. Shaw. "There will be a new approach in our agricultural extension services," the premier said. "Our agricultural field men will be well versed in farm management so they will be able to advise and direct the farmers into channels that can give them a profit on their production," he added.

ONE BREED
The premier said there is a job in Prince Edward Island in directing the work of artificial insemination so that communities can be built up around one kind of breed. Mr. Shaw said he expected to secure very shortly the services of an outstanding director of livestock for the province.

Mr. Shaw said there is a new awakening in the province, turning in—not a looking out to the federal government for hand-outs—to see what agricultural assets are under our control and what methods are best to develop them. "I can see Prince Edward Island as a wonderful province of production and working together we can go forward to make this province truly the greatest province in Canada," he said.

FOR BETTER HOGS
Speaking at length on the province's agricultural situation, the premier said that the livestock industry is in a state of transition. "We have a good hog industry in the province but there is a lot of work to be done on it in improving the quality of hogs and taking care of disease. We are behind in the cattle industry in building and management and I hope we can effect a great improvement in this," he said.

Whether India likes it or not, China was her neighbor over thousands of miles and there was no getting away from it. This compulsion of geography meant that India would have to undergo austerity, hardships and hard work.

On the second point, the American leader probably will be able to do little more than impress on Nehru the importance to the Free World of improved relations between India and Pakistan.

Toughest Assignment' Is Seen Ahead For Ike

By DAVE OANCIA
Canadian Press Staff Writer

After a triumphant entry into India, peace-making President Eisenhower may face one of the toughest assignments of his current tour.

The Indians welcomed the American president with a tremendous, spontaneous roar of friendship for the man they were told was a "messenger of peace."

The joyous welcome overshadowed the grim warning voiced only the day before by neutralist Prime Minister Nehru that India must be able to produce guns as well as butter.

Two topics will be high on the agenda when the leaders from East and West get down to serious talks — the Chinese border troubles and the nagging Kashmir dispute.

LITTLE HELP
On the surface it appears Eisenhower and his country will be able to do little to help the Indians deal with the first.

In the Indian Parliament, when Nehru issued his warning, he reiterated his belief in non-alignment. He gave the elected representatives of his country a brief lesson in geography.

Whether India likes it or not, China was her neighbor over thousands of miles and there was no getting away from it. This compulsion of geography meant that India would have to undergo austerity, hardships and hard work.

POLICE CAR FORCED OFF ROAD

Const. George MacKinnon, of the Souris RCMP detachment is a patient in the Kings County Memorial Hospital as a result of an accident on the Secon Mile Road near Cardigan yesterday morning. Const. MacKinnon was driver of the 1959 Chevrolet shown above which was forced off the highway in an attempt to evade an oncoming vehicle which sped away from the accident. Const. MacKinnon will be hospitalized for several days.

'Calculated Risk' Is Taken On Execution In Hungary

OTTAWA (CP) — External Affairs Minister Green said Wednesday night Canada took a "calculated risk" of increasing world tension by demanding that Hungary reveal the truth about reported executions.

Mr. Green said in an interview that Canada hoped, by bringing up the matter so strongly Tuesday before the United Nations general assembly, that the attendant glare of publicity might help to put a stop at least some of the executions.

The minister said Canadian authorities have definite information that Hungarians are still being secretly tried and executed for rebellion three years after the Hungarian revolt of October and November, 1956.

He was asked by a reporter whether he thought it was wise to bring up the subject in the UN at a time when East-West tensions have apparently relaxed and a summit meeting is being planned.

Power Lines Are Restored

PEMBROKE, Ont. (CP)—Hundreds of families Wednesday night had electricity in their homes for the first time since high winds and ice brought down 1,800 miles of power, telegraph and phone lines in the upper Ottawa Valley.

Scores of isolated farm homes were still without electricity of telephone service and would not have them before the weekend.

Prairie Grain Rates Get CPR 'Explanation'

By ROBERT RICE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Pacific Railway Wednesday set out to clear up some "misunderstandings" on what it got more than half-a-century ago in return for cutting freight rates on Prairie export grain shipments.

CPR assistant Comptroller Howard C. Reid went before the royal commission on transportation to outline the history of grants and obligations under the 1897 Crownest Pass agreement.

Under this deal, the CPR built a 310-mile rail line from Lethbridge, Alta., through the Crownest Pass in the Rockies to Nelson, B.C. The federal government paid $3,404,000 to the CPR as a subsidy to help cover the $9,894,000 cost of laying the rail line.

Eisenhower Is Engulfed By Emotional Welcome

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
NEW DELHI (AP) — Asia's greatest democracy engulfed President Eisenhower Wednesday night in an emotional welcome.

At one stage secret service guards rushed into the car beside the American leader as well-comers pressed against it in a display that was at once joyous and terrifying.

Eisenhower came through it all weary but smiling. He told Prime Minister Nehru he was "completely overwhelmed."

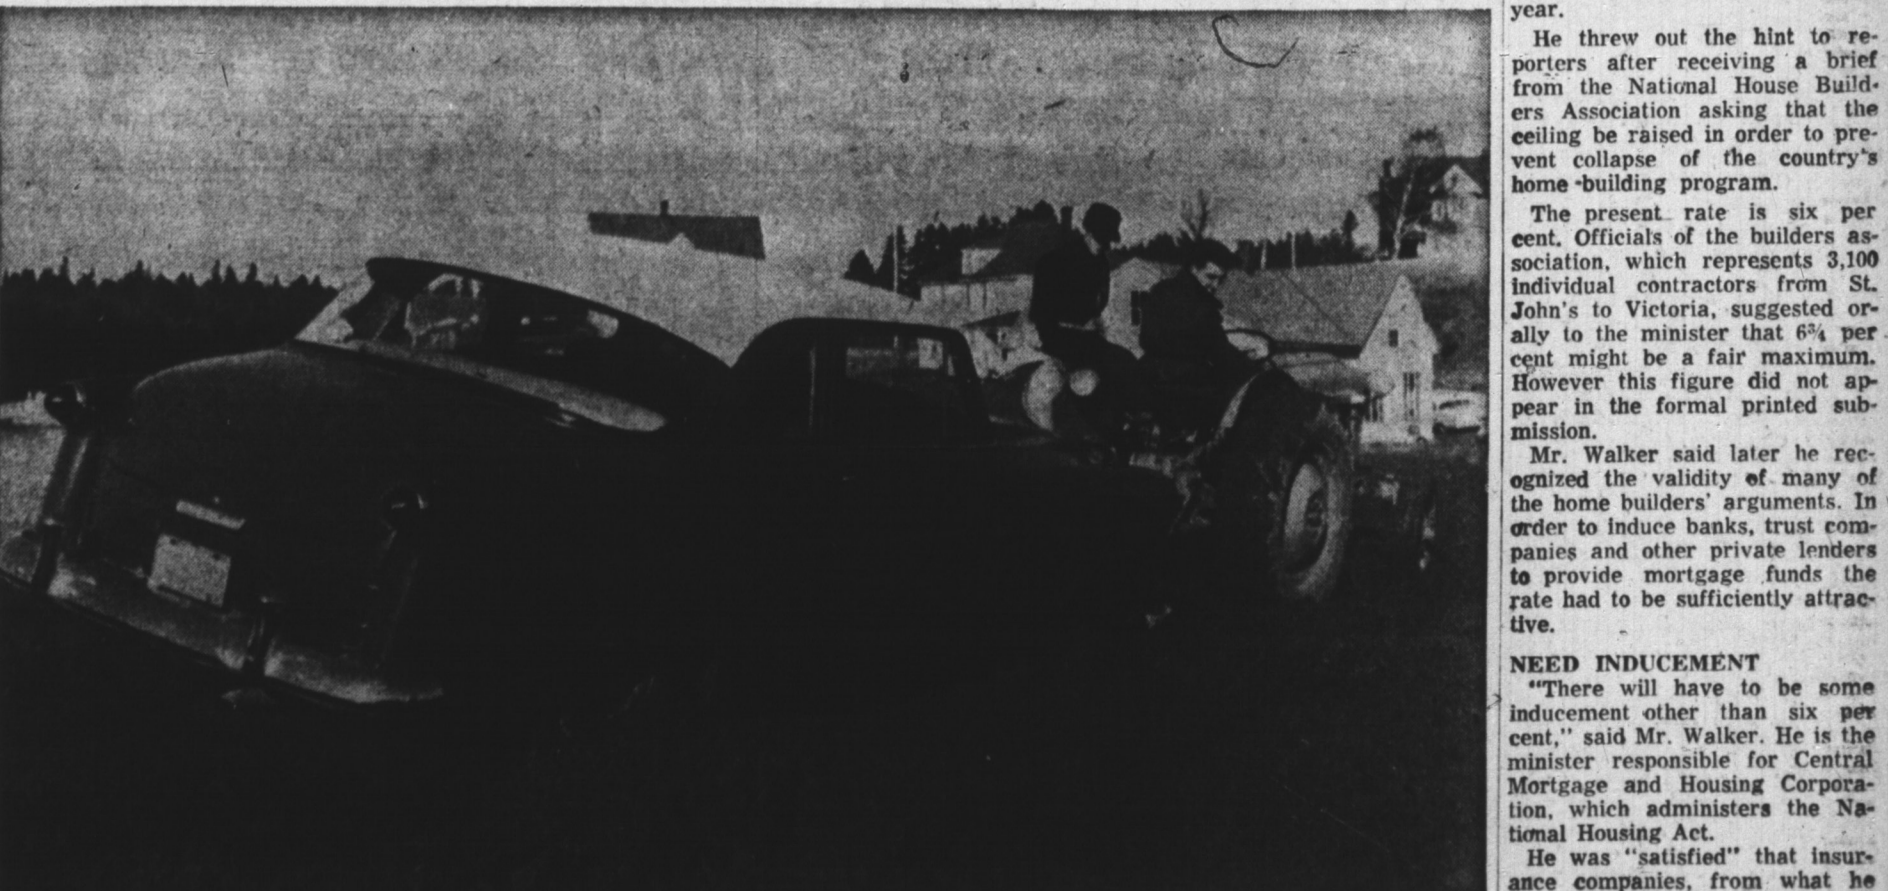

Perhaps 1,500,000 Indians joined in the biggest welcome this country has given a foreign visitor.

The throngs crumpled police lines, repeatedly halting the blue open convertible in which Eisenhower was riding with Nehru. Sometimes the crowd pressed forward in frightening waves. At the

CAUSEWAY MUD STIRS ARGUMENT

There seems to be a difference of opinion about the condition of the road on the Cardigan causeway. This picture was taken yesterday morning. It shows a car being towed through the mud by a tractor. The Guardian has been told the road is impassable except for high wheeled vehicles like trucks and a detour sign is posted. Yet the appropriate department of highways engineer told this paper last night that he considers the causeway surface is passable. The engineer added that the department would try to keep it passable through the winter. The names of the owner of the car and the helpful tractor operator were not available.
