

THE GRY OF INDIAN CHILDREN.

From the Children's Missionary Newspaper.
Hark! ye voices from India stealing,
Children's voices we discerning...

VARIETIES.

Friday.—An example of the way in which many old superstitions have vanished may be found in the willingness of men...

DESCRIBED.—Francis I. asked one day of Duchatelet the learned Bishop of Orleans, if he was a gentleman. 'Sir,' was the prelate's reply...

What I whip you when you haven't done as I think I ought to do.
Go into the house, you booty!

My luggage increases the luggage of life,
And I increase the luggage of my luggage.

The lady who "fell in love," has been estranged. We regret that her fifth and seventh ribs were broken. She wa'n't taken to the hospital.

A pretty woman is a brilliant poem, full of rhyme, music sentiment, and all manner of illustrations.

A sailor, looking serious in a chapel in Boston, was asked by a clergyman, if he felt any change; whereupon, the tar put his hand in his pocket and replied, "Not a cent."

Witty sayings are as easily lost as the pearls slipping off a broken string, but a word of kindness is seldom spoken in vain.

Love will not pay house-rent, like a hungry stomach, or satisfy the tailor. It is, however, good for its place and season.

A Cross Walk.—To take a stroll with a girl who has the mumps.

Laughter when lip-pled, tells that there may be pain at the heart.

Relationships are rather far-fetched sometimes both in Ireland and Scotland.

"Do you know Tom Duffy, Pat?" "I know him, it is my father." "I have been waiting for my sister Kate."
