'War On Newfoundland' Joey Comments On Fulton

By IAN MACDONALD, Canadian Press Staff Writer, ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Smallwood says Justice Minister Fulton declared war on Newfoundland in a speech here Thursday night. "Like thousands of others I actually thought that Mr. Fulton might be coming to Newfoundland bearing an olive branch," the premier said in a prepared statement. "Instead it seems that he has come to declare war on us."

Mr. Fulton, who left here Thursday night for Ottawa after addressing the Newfoundland board of trade, said that nothing in his speech "should justify" Mr. Smallwood's conclusion. "My statement was to set the record straight and show the desire of the federal government to see that Newfoundland receives its full share of the benefits of Confederation," the minister said. "COVERS PROBLEMS" Mr. Fulton devoted his 17-page speech to Newfoundland's fiscal problems and the controversial term 29 which provided for a review of the economic terms of confederation.

At one point he said "the categorical answer" to criticisms of the federal government's attitude towards Newfoundland is that they are "not correct." Mr. Smallwood's face showed no expression during Mr. Fulton's delivery. He neither clapped nor smiled. Immediately after the speech he left for his office to prepare a statement. "It was incredible," the premier told reporters as he left the banquet without a word to Mr. Fulton. "The things that man-

From 1943 to 1948 he served in Ottawa under Malcolm MacDonald and Sir Alexander Clitherburn, successive High Commissioners for the United Kingdom.

Advertising Regulation Relaxation Requested

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Association of Broadcasters Thursday asked the Board of Broadcast Governors for some relaxation in regulations covering the advertising content of radio and television programming. Specifically, it recommended wider avenues for beer and wine advertising, permission to broadcast advertising announcements on behalf of non-government securities and opportunities for more advertising during the broadcast day.

The broadcasters, representing 149 radio and 38 television stations owned by private interests, made their recommendations in a 4,000-word brief to the board at public hearings dealing with a raft of new regulations for radio broadcasting. The proposed regulations are due to come into effect June 1.

On the question of beer and wine advertising, the broadcasters' brief said that in many provinces the broadcast of such advertising is neither specifically permitted nor specifically prohibited. It proposed that beer and wine advertising be allowed except where specifically prohibited by provincial legislation, but made no direct representation concerning advertising by liquor distillers.

The board proposes to retain a strict ban on all advertising of bonds, shares and other securities except in the case of government securities. The broadcasters suggested the exception be widened to include securities approved for sale by a provincial authority or eligible for investment by Canadian life insurance companies under the Canadian and British Insurance Companies Act, a federal statute.

Stimulating MacKinnon Comments

CHARLOTTETOWN — (CP)—Dr. Frank MacKinnon, president of the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council, said here Thursday a suggestion that APEC engineer an investigation into Maritime liquor laws is "most interesting and stimulating."

Dr. MacKinnon was interviewed on a suggestion made Thursday in Saint John, N.B., by John Fisher, executive director of the Canadian Tourist Industry. Mr. Fisher said APEC should invite a distinguished Canadian to make a study leading to new legislation and ask Maritime politicians to agree to keep politics out of the contentious matter.

Dr. MacKinnon said the "question of liberalizing the liquor laws has come up on several occasions and APEC's tourist commission has already given it considerable study. Last fall APEC's Nova Scotia directors presented a resolution to the government of Nova Scotia asking for a study."

"The initiative may have to come from the premiers themselves. Certainly the whole matter deserves careful study by a competent authority."

'Majority Goes To Duff Roblin

WINNIPEG (CP)—Premier Duff Roblin, after 10 months as the leader of a minority Progressive Conservative government, Thursday won the clear majority he sought in the 57-seat Manitoba legislature.

Mr. Roblin, who went to the country after his outnumbered Conservatives were defeated on a confidence vote March 30, won an over-all majority at the expense of both the Liberal-Progressive and CCF opposition groups.

CCF Leader Lloyd Stinson suffered personal defeat in the Winnipeg riding of Osborne at the hands of Progressive Conservative W. O. Baizley.

Mr. Roblin won re-election easily in the central Winnipeg riding of Wolseley. Other members of his cabinet also were returned.

CAMPBELL WINS Liberal-Progressive Leader D. L. Campbell won a tough personal fight over Progressive Conservative John F. Bate in his riding of Lakeside, which he has represented since 1922.

However, other former Liberal-Progressive cabinet ministers who survived the Conservative win in 1958 were defeated. They include F. L. Jobin, former industry and commerce minister, who lost in Flin Flon, and former provincial treasurer C. E. Greenlay, defeated in Portage la Prairie, both bowed to Conservatives.

A. W. W. Harrison, Speaker of the legislature during the last session, retained Rock Lake for the Conservatives.

GAIN TWO CCF SEATS The Progressive Conservatives picked up two seats from the CCF in greater Winnipeg while losing none in the metropolitan area. The Liberal-Progressives retained the St. Boniface seat.

Frosted Foods Plant Manager Is Optimistic

A note of optimism for the coming season was sounded yesterday by W. H. Heaney, president of Prince Edward Island Frosted Foods Ltd., when he said, "I am satisfied that we have the potential here and when we have corrected some of the mistakes of the first year—that is our own and those of the producers, we can expect real progress."

Mr. Heaney said he is convinced that the necessary quality of small fruits and vegetables are to be had on the Island. "The only thing we have to do is to increase our quantity."

The company president said he was extremely pleased and highly honored that the Island food plant had been chosen as one of the stops on the Queen's itinerary. "I feel I can say without being presumptuous that Her Majesty could visit no finer plant of its kind in the Dominion of Canada," he said. Speaking of last year's operations, Mr. Heaney frankly admitted that he was not satisfied with the amount the plant produced but noted that such circumstances are to be expected during the initial stages of operations.

SPINACH HARVESTER This year the company has purchased a new harvester for spinach as well as a harvester for beans. These machines will greatly assist the grower in getting his crop at the plant in good condition and at the same time solve a great labour problem, Mr. Heaney said.

STARR ADDS COMMENT

OTTAWA (CP)—Amid scenes of noisy wrangling, Finance Minister Fleming Thursday charged the Liberals with mouthing against him and Labor Minister Starr "the most shallow, hollow, unjustified and trumped up charges" ever heard in the Commons. And as the Commons battled over the government's amendments to the Unemployment Insurance Act, Mr. Starr accused the Liberals of not tabling, when they formed the government, exactly the type of report that opposition spokesmen claimed the minister suppressed last year.

Liberal Critics Decried As Commons Wrangles

The amendments passed second reading—approval in principle—by a vote of 133 to 34 with the Liberals and six CCF MPs voting against them. Harold Winch (CCF—Vancouver East) voted with the Progressive Conservatives. INTERRUPT OFTEN Earlier, interruptions from opposition ranks came thick and fast as the ministers sought to reply to accusations made earlier this week in the hottest debate of the session. A note of impatience crept into the normally soothing tones of Speaker Roland Michener.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker entered one procedural wrangle to be met with the shout "dictator" from J. W. Pickersgill (L—Bonaville-Twillingate) and H. J. Robichaud (L—Gloucester). "Are you speaking on a point of order?" asked one voice. "No," remarked the prime minister, "I'm trying to restore some sense of reason to an opposition that has got out of control."

Mr. Starr said the government has an obligation to keep the Unemployment Insurance Fund stable and would do so. "But we also have an obligation to the people of Canada" to see that the fund is used to meet unemployment conditions.

IN PROVINCE

Hon. Angus MacLean arrived in the province last night by plane. He landed at Summerside when fog closed in the Charlottetown airport but came to Charlottetown by taxi, reports indicated.
