

Chou Sees War Danger Greater

By OLEN CLEMENTS BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai of Red China told Asian and African leaders Tuesday the danger of war is increasing in both East and West.

Chou addressed the Asian-African conference, where tensions were rising in a growing split along East-West lines.

Chou's blast at the West Tuesday was not the only one fired in the war of words.

Without naming Communism, he said the countries represented at the conference had not fought to end Western colonialism.

Chou spoke as Ceylon's Premier Sir John Kotelawala worked to minimize East-West tensions at the parley.

Those agreeing to attend include Chou, Iraq's Foreign Minister Fadhil Jamali and 100 delegates.

OTTAWA (CP) — The biggest gathering of Boy Scouts ever held in Canada will be held in this historic town August 1-5.

Some 10,000 scouts and leaders from every continent are expected to attend the eighth world jamboree—the first ever to be held outside of Europe.

Together they will camp under canvas for 10 days, cook their own meals over charcoal fires and renew the bonds of a world brotherhood that has jumped the barriers of nationality, language and distance.

A purchase tax on textile piece goods, towels, sheets and other household articles was cut in half to 25 per cent.

The standard rate of income tax was cut by six pence on the pound (2 1/2 per cent). The present rate is nine shillings on the pound (45 per cent) for middle incomes after allowances.

Income taxes on lower incomes were reduced "appreciably."

The non-taxable allowance was increased by about one sixth to allow single persons to earn £140 tax free and married couples £240.

The income-tax allowance for a child was increased from £85 to £100.

Political observers were betting solidly today that Canada's island provinces of Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island will hold general elections some time this year.

Late May was the popular choice of speculators in Charlottetown. Those in St. John's were content to ride with the forecast that it would be in 1955.

The term of Premier Joseph Smallwood's Liberal government in Newfoundland won't be up before the 1957 spring session of the legislature. But informed sources regard the passage of a new elections act last year and a redistribution bill this year as evidence that Mr. Smallwood may be on the verge of seeking a new mandate.

He holds 22 of the 28 seats in the House. Progressive Conservatives led by Malcolm Hoyleit occupy five seats and there is one CCP member.

BRITISH BUDGET SPEECH OPENS SIZZLING FIRST ROUND IN U.K. ELECTION CAMPAIGN

Canada Appears Tough Place For 600 Immigrants Stranded At Sept-Iles

SEPT-ILES, Que. (CP)—Canada has become a frozen and frightening outpost of civilization to almost 600 European immigrants in this town 300 miles northeast of Montreal.

The immigrants, including Italians, Greeks and Portuguese, have crowded into this St. Lawrence river town in an unsuccessful search for work.

Anthony Mentoyiannis, who has wandered the streets here for more than a week, is one of 23 Greek immigrants who came to Canada several months ago to escape unemployment in Europe.

"My story is very simple," he said Monday in an interview. "I came to this country because I heard time and time again that workers were needed here."

WORKERS STRANDED "For a while I lived in Toronto where work was hard to find, then with about 25 others I went to Montreal where it was the same story. There, however, I was told that plane passage here was available in Sept-les."

"Well, here we are, stranded without jobs, money or means to get out.

"Like the other Greeks, I spent the money I had saved from other jobs and the little I borrowed to pay plane passage here. A full 25 immigrants streamed into Sept-les in groups ranging from 25 to 80 persons. Eyewitnesses said as many as 500 crowded in front of the unemployment insurance office daily by the middle of last week. Municipal authorities feared trouble.

TOWN FEEDS MEN Mentoyiannis said "none of us like trouble but when a man is hungry he does not always think straight."

"I was once living a respectable life," he said. "Now I am a vagrant dressed in old clothes, jobless, moneyless and hungry. They simply cannot allow us to die in the streets."

Some secretary Armand Boisseneault said "They were indeed a sight to see, clustered in groups of 25 to 30, many with nothing more than a loaf of bread."

"There was trouble in the air and the only sensible thing to do was to feed them at our expense. We decided that the best way would be to have them gather at one of the boarding houses where meals could be served at regular hours to all who wanted them," Mr. Boisseneault said.

The mass feeding began last Wednesday.

MRS. ANNETTE CORMIER, owner of the boarding house, said "I've seen hungry men before but never have I seen 10 loaves of bread go to one sitting."

On Sunday, many crowded into small St. Joseph church at all four masses celebrated by parish priest Rev. Charles Gamache.

Manuel Oliveira, also a 23-year-old immigrant, said "We are given the choice of sleeping at our expense in crowded rooms, the police station or private garages."

"We are cut off from any outside source of help here in this forsaken place," he said.

MALIK AT ARMS TALKS LONDON (Reuters)—Iv a c o b Malik, Soviet ambassador to Britain, presided over Tuesday's session—the first for two weeks—of the five-nation disarmament conference here. The United States, Russia, Britain, France and Canada are attending.

Opposition Speakers Hit Hard At Harris' Budget

OTTAWA (CP)—The opposition Tuesday ripped into Finance Minister Harris' budget.

Both J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative financial critic, and CCF leader Goldwell charged in the Commons that it does nothing to relieve the tax burden on the lowest-income groups.

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, said the budget is a mild hyperdermic filled with milk and not a shot in the arm for the Canadian economy.

The Progressive Conservatives and the CCF moved non-confidence motions in the government.

ADDS FIFTH POINT Mr. Macdonnell's motion said the budget has "failed":

1. To give effective stimulus to Canadian enterprise to create employment and opportunity.

2. To reduce taxation affecting those on low incomes and allowances.

3. To curb the government's extravagance and inefficiency.

4. To recognize the serious position of farmers and other producers.

In his non-confidence motion, Mr. Goldwell added a fifth point: To provide assistance to provincial governments to enable them to plan their financing to rebalance their budgets.

LAUNCHES DEBATE Mr. Macdonnell launched the budget debate two weeks after Mr. Harris presented his 1955-56 budget in the Commons.

Main provisions of the budget are a personal income tax reduction averaging 10 per cent starting July 1, 1955; corporation tax cut to 45 per cent from 47 per cent retroactive to Jan. 1, 1955; reduction of excise taxes on cars to 10 per cent from 15; removal of excise taxes on tires and tubes. The budget also forecast a federal deficit of $160,000,000.

The CNR said there is no loss of juices or delicacy and that it can be shipped from either coast to Winnipeg without harm.

Members of this union were among 25,000 printshop craftsmen paid off last Friday when no end to the strike could be seen. Their leaders warned that they might not accept a return without hard bargaining.

CALL MEETINGS Newspaper managements and officials of the operative printers union called a joint negotiating meeting for late Tuesday night. On that meeting depended hopes of a quick return.

Better Way For Preserving Fish

TORONTO (CP) — A new and better way for preserving the flavor and freshness of fish has been developed by CNR research technicians, the railway said in a statement Tuesday.

Freshly caught fish is pre-chilled to a temperature of 29 degrees—just above its freezing point. It is then placed in a container where the temperature can be maintained for at least 100 hours.

Scientists Probe Einstein Brain For Genius Secret NEW YORK (AP) — Extensive and extra special efforts began Tuesday to find the secret of genius in Albert Einstein's brain. The scientific study is expected to take two months.

The man in charge of the examination, Dr. Harry M. Zimmerman, is not, however, hopeful of finding what makes genius.

Dr. Zimmerman is chief of the laboratory division of Montefiore Hospital and professor of pathology at Columbia University. A spokesman at the hospital, where the complex analyses will be made, gave the details Tuesday morning but added:

"Weight, size, color or complexity of the brain are not in themselves any evidence of super-intelligence. Medical history is replete with evidence of geniuses who had small brains and idiots who had giant brains."

COMPLETE PHOTO RECORD A key feature of the study, he said, will be to examine in great detail the inner recesses of the brain of the world-famous scientist who died Monday at Princeton, N.J.

Einstein, 76, willed his brain to science. Dr. Zimmerman said he had perhaps been chosen for the study because the pathologist at Princeton Hospital, where Einstein died, had studied under him at Yale.

A photographic record "in color, black and white and at every angle at every stage of the examination" will be made, the hospital spokesman said.

PROMISES NEWS SOON First phase of the study will be an external examination expected to require three days. Dr. Zimmerman will "because of the world-wide interest" in the project, then make a public report on its physical details.

The lengthiest part of the research, dissection, microscopic examination and chemical analyses, then will be started. That work, in which Dr. Zimmerman will be assisted by eight technicians, is expected to take another eight weeks.

The brain, the spokesman said, will be dissected into sections an eighth of an inch thick.

The hospital said the average adult male brain weighs 1,500 grams (3.3 ounces), but philosophers frequently have been found with brains weighing as little as 1,000 grams, while some forms of idiosyncrasy entail brains up to 2,200 grams.

Earthquake Hits Greek Port City ATHENS, (AP)—A 10-second earthquake struck the port city of Volos Tuesday night causing "very great damage" with most houses partially or badly damaged, gendarmerie said.
