who have the stamp of desperadoes in some of their actions."

THE "double tongued Deacon," and the "Progress" man who apparently gave him a helping hand last week, remind us that we deprecated personalities. So we do, but they may find that the time has nearly arrived, when forbearance ceases to be a virtue. We are acquainted with the doings of a certain P. G. W. P., &c. In the paragraph above referred to, we clearly made a distinction between the Opposition and the Government, many of whom are our friends, and for whom we entertain too sincere a respect to class them with the "small gang of annexationists," and "the few desperate fellows," who evidently would not consider that "it would be a public calamity for the whole Island, that the name of our respected Governor, and so many of our leading business men, should go down to disgrace, as perjured criminal swindlers." We have not been personal so far, but we may ere long, name out the individuals, who may thank the forebearance of those whom they so grossly malign, that they are not already indicted for criminal libel.

The Progress last week has an attack on Hon. Mr. Howlan, in which he drags in the EXAMINER. As a general thing we let the falsehoods of the opposition press concerning us pass for what they are worth, because if we replied to them, our columns would be always filled with personalities. We have to tell the Progress that we are not Mr Howlan's "retainer," and that we are alone responsible for what appears in our columns. We imagine that there is no need of our defending the actions of Mr. Howlan, but we know that his conduct in the matter to which the Progress refers, has been the very opposite to what it calls "most cowardly, sneaking and unmanly." After reading Mr. Kelly's letter, we are not much surprised at the reckless manner in which the editor of the Progress writes of his opponents.

Some of our Halifax contemporaries do not understand the "little game of running down the other shop" which a paper here indulges in, else we believe they would scorn to circulate falsehoods evidently intended to injure our business. We let these falsehoods pass here for what they are worth, knowing that the way to succeed honorably is neither to strive to injure others in the same business, nor to take notice of every little ebullition of ill-feeling. We may say that the free use of the name of a private gentleman who never wrote, suggested, nor "inspired" a word, line or article for this paper since under our control, we think, and the respectable portion of the public will agree with us, is neither becoming the dignity of journalism, nor the character of a gentleman.

The Opposition papers are making a "big time" of the extracts which they are reproducing from all the outside papers. Well! out of some fifty exchanges which we peruse, only one beside the Halifax papers, make any comments upon the contract affair. Two of the Halifax papers are "possessed by a demon," one publishes the "dirtiest of things," and another thinks it necessary to cry after a fourth, "Stop Thief" So they describe each other; and no doubt they are well acquainted! Bye and by we will give the opinions of the Opposition papers here of each other. They almost come up to the outside barbarians in their mutual love and admiration!

Mr James O'Mara, who was well known in this city, having done business here for several years, we regret to learn, was almost instantly killed by a horse car on Washington street, near South May street, Boston, last week. He had just got out of a car, and in endeavoring to cross the other track, he was hit by the horses of another car and knocked down, and the forward wheels of the car passed over him. His clothing became entangled in the wheels, and it had to be cut before he could be extricated. He was badly mutilated, and died before reaching the sidewalk.

A HUMOROUS writer in Saturday's Patriot says of Members of the Government, on the occasion of turning the first Railway sod, that "as it was there appeared to be something of the sneak thief in their actions" That's what the Patriot people consider spicy, graphic and nice Sunday reading! What a fine thing it is to be "an elder," and the publisher of a semi religious paper! but then, as Dogberry says, comparisons are odorous!

The Patriot is as silent as the grave upon the School Question. We have completely silenced him on that question. The motives he attributes to us, are as ridiculous as if we were to say that his publication of the King's County Prize List had for its object the withdrawal of attention from the Contract Question.

Mr. Kelly's Reply to the Progress man; An article on the "Railway Correspondence," and the "Mortgage on the Halifax City Railway" have been crowded out of this issue, will appear next week.

His Honor the Lieutenant Governor has been pleased to appoint John Lefurgy, Esquire, a Member of the House of Assembly for the Fifth District of Prince County, to be a Member of Her Majesty's Executive Council for this Island.

The Lieutenant Governor, in Council, has been pleased to appoint Mr. John M. Grant, of Township No. Fifty, to the Commission of the Peace for Queen's County.

The Argus says that the three opposition editors have for their song "When shall we three meet again" They should try the round—"Three Blind Mice." It would suit their v(o)ices.

A HINT FOR THE TIMES.—Knowledge is power, wisdom is power, forbearance is power, character is power; but blatancy and vituperation are only noisy, empty things, that pass away like the idle wind.

The Hon. James Dingwell was seriously injured one day last week by the running away of his horse. The horse took fright at something near Rollo Bay, and ran at a terrible rate. On coming round a short turn the wagon upset, throwing Mr. Dingwell out and badly injuring him. His head is severely bruised, and one of his arms dislocated and broken. He is now under medical treatment and strong hopes are entertained of his recovery. We sincerely trust that the hon gentleman may again be restored to health and usefulness.—Argus.

Mr. Patrick Callaghan whilst going down Pope's Wharf, on Saturday evening, fell, striking his breast on a stone, and died shortly after. He was an intelligent, respectable and useful member of the locality in which he belonged.

BAY ST. LAWRENCE MACKEREL FISHERY.—The mackerel fishery for this season is rapidly drawing to a close. The shore fleet are doing but little, and may soon be expected in our waters for a week or two, preparatory to winding up the business for the year. The news from the Bay indicates a scarcity of mackerel, and as rough weather may soon be expected, a large portion of the fleet will soon be along. The number of arrivals from the Bay reported at Gloucester this season has been fifty-two. The fares have been comparatively small, and the quality poor, while prices have ruled much lower than the past few years. The fares of thirty one Gloucester vessels have been reported, ranging from 160 to 450 barrels, and averaging 247 barrels, which will probably be about the average of the fleet. Sixteen of the Portland fleet show an average of 211 barrels, and eleven of the Newburyport fleet show an average catch of 192 barrels. The average catch of the fleet from other fishing towns so far as reported is equally small—Boothbay 227 barrels, Northhaven 160, Wellfleet 140, Belfast 110, and New London 235. A Salem vessel has landed 307 barrels, and one Frankfort vessel is reported with a catch of 312 barrels, and another with 620. Nine vessels reported at Port Mulgrave show an average catch of 200 barrels.—Gloucester Telegraph, Sept 27.
