

MR. AND MRS. BARRY STEWART

Little Sands Couple United At Double Ring Ceremony

Little Sands United Church was the scene of an attractive wedding on Saturday, September 25, 1965, when Carolyn Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Blue, and Barry Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart, all of Little Sands, were united in marriage.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. David H. Barwise, Diane Steeves, cousin of the bride, was organist and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Sandra Emery, who sang "O Promise Me" prior to the ceremony, and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white rayon peau, styled on princess lines with scooped neckline trimmed with sequins and seed pearls and long lily point sleeves. The semi-full skirt was accented by a sweetheart bow at center back, and her elbow length veil was held in place by a tiara enhanced with seed pearls and sequins. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of red sweet heart roses with white satin streamers.

Terianne Bazley, was maid of honor, with Mrs. Blair Kerring as bridesmaid and Ferne Blue, sister of the bride, as junior bridesmaid. They were all in sheath dresses of deep red peau de soie with matching overskirts and pill box headpieces. They carried nosegays of white carnations.

The flowergirl was Elaine Blue, cousin of the bride, wearing a white sheer dress with full skirt and wide sash with a bow of deep red peau de soie and matching pill box headpiece. She carried a basket of hite baby mums and red roses.

Floyd MacLean was the best man, John Blue, brother of the bride and Sterling Saunders, cousin of the groom, ushered the guests to pews marked with autumn leaves centered on white satin bows.

The ring bearer was Dale Blue, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a three piece double-knit suit in cranberry shade with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Mrs. Stewart chose for her son's wedding a dress of blue lace over taffeta with white accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at Murray Harbour Church hall for approximately 80 guests, where Mr. Barwise proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded. Sandra Stewart, sister of the groom was in charge of the guest book.

Later, the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to Oshawa and Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a blue wool suit with white accessories, and a corsage of white carnations. The couple will reside in Charlottetown.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Slip a scrap of pegboard over the nail when you install paneling. It will miss the nail, you won't mar paneling.

Use an old, lightly oiled dish mop to dust and clean coiled bedsprings.

Keep seldom-used dishes in plastic bags. You won't have to wash them before use.

Prolong the life of wood chisels by capping the handle with a rubber crutch tip. Prevents splintering from repeated use.

Peter Anxiously Waits For A Letter To Come

"She didn't write to me. There was no letter. And she wrote to Alex the other day." Peter's somber face was sober at midtime this morning. He had given him no letter from the sister he loves. "Yours will come. Perhaps tomorrow. And be all the sweeter for the delay. Meanwhile 'we suggested' perhaps you would like to hear this one from Papa Stirling?" "Mack says that's for the birds he offered quietly. 'It does this way: 'My Dear Friend...'" "Now, why would he write to you?" he queried. "Simply because he knows all the other at this place are much too busy to bother with him" we explained. "The men have gone to gather up more stumps. Mack went again to help at potatoes. Alex is in school." "and 'the nodded, 'that's not funny neither! He is writing Tests today. Spellings and 'Arithmetic-and they're not easy."

"How about the letter, would you be interested in hearing it? He smiled shyly. And settled on the couch by the window.

"Now, 'My Dear Friend, I am writing this on behalf of Mama and myself.' "with his feather pen" he grinned. "to say that by the time it reaches you, we shall be miles away on our journey. We had hoped to stop by, on our trip here and there along the island, but it happened to be a conducted tour and we couldn't very well break away from the relatives, our company. Our children joined us before we left, and we found it hard to believe they were the

Girl Should Not Offend The Sensitive Male Ego

There are so many new ideas concerning acceptable boy-girl behavior today (some of which surprises me greatly), that I wonder if I am just old-fashioned, out of step with the times?

One of the new ideas that stuzzles me is girls working to help their husbands-to-be get more education. I don't consider it really wrong, if they want it that way.

But what about a girl, who to business, offering financial help to a college boy she is dating, so that they might go dining-and-dancing about once a month? I understand their intentions are serious.

The boy is supported entirely by his widowed mother; and, as he studies during the school year and trains during summer vacations, he has absolutely no time to earn any money. He has only Saturday evenings off from study and movies are the only dates he can afford. The girl enjoys them, but would like a festive change occasionally.

What would your answer be? Even though the girl talks about it, she hasn't asked my opinion yet. If she does, what should I say—G.R.

Dear G.R.: Considering the characteristic sensitivity of the male ego, and its inconsistency in tolerating expedient patronage while deeply resenting the helpful handout with its attendant humiliation, I should think that a girl who hopes to marry a guy ought to beware of putting him in her debt, or casting him in the role of weaker vessel, in their pre-marital comradeship format.

The chances are large that if she does, and he gets on his own feet financially, later on, he will be on the lookout, unconsciously, for compensatory experience in relation to women, to redress the ego-mortification he underwent in letting his own girl friend, former fiancee or present wife pay the costs of their spurge-dating.

Not that he would choose this course advisedly, in terms of and ego-salvance in the company of a girl, or girls, to whom he owes nothing; and in relation to whom he may be the giver, the big spender, the image of financial amplitude.

Rather, as I've indicated above, this turning away from girl who'd opened her purse to him in leaner days, in "committed" spirit, would be an involuntary grope on his part towards redeeming himself, at a point in experience which wraps up a feeling that he fell down on the job of being all-in in the love role.

The vast majority of men, excepting only the spiritually advanced, implicitly honor financial substance as a mighty and indispensable equivalent of man power, potency, dignity, worth.

Winners Leave For Bermuda

Mrs. Isabel MacKinnon Atterton, Mrs. Elmer Gordon, Charlottetown, Mrs. Ken Burke, Souris RR4, Mrs. Don MacFarlane, Bedouque, Mrs. Don Rogers, Craquad and Mrs. J.A. Ferguson, Murray River, the six winners of the Guardian-Patriot Bermuda Contest left by plane on Sunday morning accompanied by Roger K. Worth, circulation manager, for Toronto, Ont., where they stay overnight, then on to Bermuda.

The group will leave Toronto on Monday, Oct. 25 on the 10:55 a.m. flight and expect to reach their destination at 2:10 in the afternoon, where they will be taken to the Castle Harbor Hotel after clearance through customs.

The hotel management plans to entertain them while their luggage is looked after. Dinner and hotel activities will bring the first day of their holiday to a close.

OES Starts Station For Dressings

A cancer dressings station was started here when plans were finalized by a committee from Montague Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, consisting of Mrs. Arthur Ross, Mrs. William Dewar, Mrs. Louis Roper and Mrs. George Inman.

Mrs. J.G. Dennis, secretary of the Canadian Cancer Society in Charlottetown, presided at a meeting of representatives of five Montague organizations; Mrs. Athol Robertson and Mrs. Byron Stewart for the Royal Canadian Legion Ladies' Auxiliary; Mrs. Douglas Grahame for the Catholic Women's League; Mrs. Carl Stewart for Acme Rebekah Lodge; Mrs. Cecil Beck and Mrs. David Rourke for the Women's Institute and Mrs. E.T. Buffum for the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Dennis, Mrs. F. I. rance Cameron and Ethel Sutherland from Charlottetown demonstrated the making of the various kinds of dressings. These are distributed without charge to patients anywhere on Prince Edward Island who are referred to the Society in Charlottetown by doctors or public health nurses.

The use of a room in the Legion hall has been generously donated by the Royal Canadian Legion. The five organizations will meet each Tuesday in rotation to make dressings.

break off dating and go their separate ways.

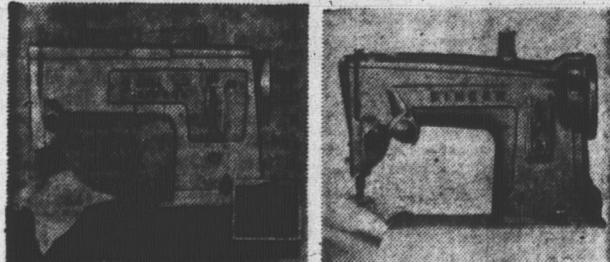

I hold this necessary to define and defend their integrity and inner freedom, as unmarried friends; and to preserve their mutual good will from the cruel erosion of getting involved in a web of expediency that can only demean the boy in his own estimation, and thereby insidiously disfigure the whole relationship.

Stewardesses of the Eastern Provincial Airways (1963) will be flying high in their attractive new uniforms shortly. Gloria Woodill of Halifax, one of the company's stewardesses, is shown modelling the new outfit. Designed by Madame Fleury Inc. Montreal, it is a blue-gray wool crepe cloth with modified A-line dress and detachable cuffs and collar. The jacket is a tailored box design with open collar and three-quarter sleeves. The uniform was designed as a dress type outfit in order to get away from the skirt and blouse combination that has been in service for years.

Mother's Progress Stuns Track And Field Experts

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vi Tittler has it in mind to be the only 36-year-old mother of four competing at the 1966 British Empire Games.

Mrs. Tittler's middle-distance running is among the best in Western Canada, and she has been at it only one year. Having decided she was "starting to get a little flabby," she now parks her tots in the sand at a Minoru Park jumping pit and runs through a two-hour workout every day. Husband Conrad jogs along when he has time.

Track and field experts are astounded by her progress. Dr. Doug Clement, her coach at the suburban Richmond Track and field club, says she promises to be the top member of Canada's top female cross-country team.

Competitively, Vi has taken her lunge. Lunge starts in the 40- and 500-yard races at Winnipeg, her hometown, revealed she isn't a sprinter. In the Canadian championships she tripped early in the half-mile, recovered to pass the field, but ran out of wind in the final yards and dropped to fifth.

She has looked better in local half-mile victories and plans to keep running for three years, with the British Empire Games in Jamaica her most prominent goal. Her best time for the half-mile is 2:18.1, still more than 10 seconds off Abigail Hoffman's Canadian record.

For her home at Camborie, Ont. after spending the past month visiting relatives and friends at Kensington and vicinity. She was the house guest of Mrs. George Cotton.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Storey, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, were recent visitors to the Island. They were guests, while here, of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Fraser and family of Montague. A d also visited with other members of Mr. Storey's family in Charlottetown.

The quicker mouth lines... and crows feet around the eyes... disappear. The quicker you'll look younger! You, too, may know the thrill of a second debut when you try 2nd Debut, the lotion-like substance containing CEP 600. Applied nightly and before daily make-up, 2nd Debut Liquid pushes so much moisture under the skin, it pushes mouth lines and crows feet up and out. Make-up goes on smooth and easy. No wonder mothers say they've enjoyed a 2nd Debut. You can also get "2nd Debut" with CEP 1200 for double strength moisturizing action. Ask for 2nd Debut by name at drug and department stores and see almost immediate results that are absolutely astonishing.

... Lila Hamilton

As a fine junior athlete in Winnipeg, Vi played softball, basketball and volleyball. But she never did any serious running and until last September devoted her time to raising four children ranging from 20 months to six years.

"She always thought she would like to run," says her husband. "Then last fall we were at a track meet at Empire Stadium. Right then and there she decided she could win races and was going to do it."

CENTRAL BEDEQUE

Mrs. Charles MacFarlane of Fernwood is receiving treatment in the Prince Edward Island Hospital, Charlottetown.

Misses Louise and Mildred Calbeck, Mrs. R.A. Cameron, Mrs. Carrie Leard, Mrs. Orville Johnson and Mrs. Kenneth Nuttall attended the service for the dedication of gifts for the new chapel at Mount Allison University, Sackville on Sunday afternoon. The chapel was filled to capacity, the chief address was given by the former president, Dr. Ross Flemington. Music on the new organ added greatly to the service and was much appreciated by the large audience present.
