

THE DAILY EXAMINER. AUGUST 28, 1884.

Editorial Notes.

The Patriot, in its notice of the prize list of the Queen's County Exhibition, overlooks the fact that the enterprising firm of Norton Brothers offer special prizes for carriages, as follows: "Best single seat buggy, covered, $25; best double seat driving carriage, $25.

The papers commenting on the election recently held in Queen's County, all remark upon the fact that the vote polled was very much larger than it was in any previous election. The explanation is simple. The country is prosperous—its population increasing steadily. The enlarged vote is merely another of the many proofs which show that the Grigs are all wrong.

Now that the election is over, it is hoped that our City Fathers will proceed to business. There are rotten plankways everywhere in the city; and the Street Committee, at least, have a good opportunity to obtain credit, by taking prompt action to the end that they may all be replaced or repaired before winter sets in. Let the work be begun on the plankways leading to churches, schools, and other places of public resort.

The Government have hitherto let the bulk of the public printing by tender and contract; but the establishment of a Bureau of Printing at Ottawa has long been talked of and favored as a measure of economy. To obtain more definite information on the subject, the Government have appointed Commissioners to proceed to Washington to inspect the system in operation there, and make a report, on which it is said, "the printing committee will in all probability take action at the approaching session of parliament."

A correspondent at Murray Harbor, on behalf of the people of that section of King's County, returns thanks to the P. E. Island Steam Navigation Co., for ordering their steamers to touch at that port every Thursday and Friday. He says:—"A person desiring to go from Murray Harbor South to Charlottetown, has either to use his own conveyance, and make a journey of over 40 miles to reach the city; or, if he prefers using the railway, has to travel 22 miles to the Cardigan station, stable his horse there, and return the following day. If he desires to go to Georgetown, he has to travel over 20 miles, stable his horse and cross the ferry." The accommodation afforded by the steamers is consequently great and highly prized. As the correspondent points out, Murray Harbor "is one of the most flourishing settlements in this Province. Its exports of codfish, hake, haddock and lobsters foot up about $100,000 a year. Besides this, it is one of the finest agricultural districts on the Island, and is well farmed." But it has not had the advantage of regular steam communication—the M. A. Starr calling only at intervals. We hope that the Steam Navigation Company will be able to continue calling at Murray Harbor; and at any rate we cordially agree with sentiment expressed by our correspondent in the words: "Let us give all the assistance we can to our Island Steam Navigation Co., whose boats are a credit to the Province."

The Queen's County Election.

(From the Montreal Gazette.)

The remarkable fact connected with the recent conservative victory in Queen's County, Prince Edward Island, is the large vote polled, showing with what earnestness the battle was waged. We ventured to say on the morning of the day of polling that if Dr. Jenkins succeeded in polling the united vote of the party, his election was beyond doubt. The figures at the close of the balloting, show that he must have substantially done this. Never has so large a vote been polled in the constituency. In 1881, there being two candidates on each side, it is difficult to ascertain precisely the full vote; but taking the highest figure on each side, we find that the numbers were 3,517 for Mr. Davies, who led the poll, and 3,469 for Dr. Jenkins, who on the recount came next to him, or in all 6,986 votes. At the election last week Dr. Jenkins polled 3,617 votes, or just one hundred more than Mr. Davies polled in 1882, while his opponent, Mr. Welsh, polled 3,530, or thirteen more than Mr. Davies obtained at the general election, the aggregate number of votes polled being 7,147. In view of the tremendous efforts put forth by the opposition to carry this election, the result must be regarded as a very emphatic endorsement of the policy of the government. Indeed, according to the local papers, Mr. Welsh obtained some Conservative votes, though we hardly think he could have obtained a great many, by presenting himself as an independent. The Charlottetown EXAMINER tells us that "the independent cry which he raised was very alluring to Liberal-Conservatives, not staunch and true as steel to their party"; and that in consequence of this the opponents of the government "boasted that they would carry the country by an overwhelming majority." The Conservatives of the Island and Dr. Jenkins are to be congratulated upon their splendid triumph, over a gentleman who is probably the strongest man who could have been brought into the field against them. Mr. Davies will not be able to pose for the rest of this parliament as he had been doing for the past two sessions, as the only true representative of the political sentiment of P. E. Island. On the contrary, he represents now in Parliament the views of a minority of his own constituency.

U. S. merchants are said to be expecting a material increase in trade with China, consequent on the war.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Questions for the Stock Farm Commissioners

Sir,—As considerable dissatisfaction was expressed last year, because the young Stock from the Government Stock Farm, was not advertised more fully, and descriptions of it more generally made known, previous to the day of sale, would it not be well for the Commissioners of the Stock Farm, to have hand bills printed, giving a detailed statement of the kind and pedigree of the stock to be sold, so that purchasers might know what was to be sold, and have a better idea of what the animals were worth?

Another thing should not be forgotten, viz.—That King's County has a right to a share of the young cattle eligible for registration on the P. E. I. Shorthorn or Ayrshire register; and the Commissioners should not keep the pure bred stock for Queen's County, as they did last year.

Why is it that no gentleman from this County, is considered capable of filling a seat at the Board of Commissioners for the Government Stock Farm?

Hoping these questions, which are made in a friendly spirit, and in the interests of our farmers, may receive the attention their importance deserves.

I remain, yours etc., STOCKRAISER. King's County, Aug 27, 1884.

North Lake Items.

We are mostly having. The crop is fair and gathered in excellent condition.

Mackerel have proved a complete failure so far, but fishermen entertain the hope that they may yet be successful.

Our crops are looking splendid, and there is every prospect of the industrious farmer reaping a bountiful harvest.

A number of ladies have returned from the United States to spend their vacation and recruit their health; and I am glad to say that the pure air and wholesome diet of their native land is having a beneficial effect on them.

Thomas Rose, Esq., has opened a first-class restaurant where tourists and travelers of the most epicurean appetites can be satisfied. I would bespeak for him the patronage of the travelling public.

Trout are plentiful this season. Large quantities are caught daily of an excellent quality. Those who enjoy angling should not fail to visit North Lake.

The Christian Church at South Lake is almost complete, and will be open for divine services in a few days, of which due notice will be given.

Wishing you and your valuable paper success, I am,

Yours, KEWATIN.

Preparing for Christmas.

(From the Halifax Herald.)

In a recent number of the Mail reference was made to the popularity of whiskey as a medicine in Prince County, P. E. I. The returns show that ten gallons of whiskey are prescribed there to every gallon of port wine. But not only are the Prince County people peculiar as to the variety of medicine taken by them, but as to the time of taking it. The return of prescriptions filed by Bernard Brown, of Tyne Valley, shows an average of about three sales a day, rising as high as twelve sales on two or three occasions and once reaching fifteen, which is the highest during the first fifty weeks of the year. But the day before Christmas was the great day for taking medicine. No less than thirty-one prescriptions were filled by vendor Brown on that day. Most of the invalids took whiskey. Three victims were ordered four pints each of whiskey; four had to take three pints each, four escaped by drinking each two pints, and seven of the afflicted were obliged to swallow a pint a piece. Henry Ellis had to drink four pints of brandy; Fred Yeo, three pints; three sick men consented to take two pints each and three one pint. A lady was compelled to drink three pints of spirits, two men two pints each, and Andrew Ramsey was fortunate enough to get off with one pint. The total sales of the day by Mr. Brown for medicinal purposes came to: brandy 17 pints, whiskey 39 pints, spirits 10 pints, amounting in all to 84 gallons. If a health census had been taken on Christmas day, physicians would have reliable data on which to judge of the merits of whiskey as a medicine.

The Scott Act Returns.

(From the Summerside Journal.)

The blue book, containing the returns of the liquor sold by vendors in this County, under the Canada Temperance Act, during the year 1883, has been received.

After perusing this far from valuable work carefully, we have come to the conclusion that little or nothing is gained for the temperance cause by its publication, especially when we find such returns susceptible of being handled in the manner those have been, in an article published in the Halifax Evening Mail of a late date, and afterwards copied into the Herald of that city. The writer, it would appear, attempts to be funny in his allusions to those to whom vendors' certificates were used. In some cases this line of action may be all right, but any one who would refer to those who have departed this life in such a disrespectful manner, is either a heartless creature, or grossly ignorant of what he was saying at the time he wrote. If the writer in the Mail had taken pains to inquire into the facts of the cases he has treated in such a jocular manner, we fell quite satisfied he would not have made some of the references contained in his article, and in that way failed to wound the feelings of the kind and loving relatives of those who are no longer on this terrestrial sphere. As we see it, nothing can possibly be gained by publishing these vendors' returns, and we fail to see why their publication should be asked for, as no one that we know of either profits or is edified by them, and more particularly is this the case when such use as that to which we have just referred is made of them.

The English press is generally of the opinion that cannibalism in starving men is pardonable.

The Apple Crop.

From a recent circular in of a European dealer we learn that the apple crop "in the United Kingdom, owing to cold weather during June will only be a half one. In France the prospects are in favor of an average crop, Canada apples and russets being over the average. In Holland, owing to frost in blossoming time the crop will only be a half one. The crop in Belgium will be light, and, as shipments have already commenced, the supply will be exhausted by the middle of October. In Germany there will be a short crop. In Portugal the crop is good and prices favorable for shipment, but shipments after September will be small. The writer therefore concludes:—

- 1. That the apple crop of Europe, taking it as a whole, will be considerably under that of last year.
2. That fall shipments of American and Canadian apples to Glasgow and Liverpool should meet with good demand at values ruled by supply.
3. That shipments to London of good solid stock will, as in similar seasons, compare favorably in net proceeds with other markets on this side.

A Large Ship.

What is termed by an English journal the largest iron sailing ship in the world was launched from Hamilton's shipbuilding yard at Port Glasgow on the Clyde the other day. She is an iron four-masted full rigged sailing ship of the following dimensions: Length over all 340 ft.; breadth, 49 ft.; depth of hold, 25 ft. 8 in.; register tonnage, 3,173. Built under special survey, she is in many respects considerably in excess of Lloyd's requirements, having main and tween decks of iron fully laid fore and aft. Her principal masts and yards are made of steel. In an iron deckhouse forward is placed the galley and donkey boiler and engine, condenser, etc. The ship has a monkey forecater and an iron house aft, covering the steering apparatus and wheel. She has four large cargo hatches, besides ventilating hatches, and is square rigged on all four masts, has a full East India outfit, and is fitted with all the requirements of the Board of Trade.

All interested will please attend. Important papers will be read on the subject, and by-laws submitted for the future government of the Association. J. D. BELL, Secretary. Montague, Aug 25.

To the Electors of Queen's County.

GENTLEMEN.—The Returning Officer having officially declared me elected as Member for the County, I take the earliest opportunity of tendering you my heartfelt thanks for the honor you have done me in choosing me to represent you in the House of Commons of Canada. The victory gained by the Liberal-Conservative party, in the light of a numerical majority, is not a great one; but, in view of the fact that it was gained in spite of the most desperate efforts of our opponents, and in the face of widespread, but clandestine, attempts to create dissensions in, and secessions from, our ranks, it is a great victory, and I feel especially proud to think that I represent a County, the majority of whose electors are intelligent enough to render abortive tactics unworthy of a country which possesses most perfect civil and religious liberty. It is also very satisfactory to find this great constituency sufficiently disinterested to support a policy which, while it is building up and promoting the prosperity of the rest of the Dominion, cannot, at present, on account of our isolation, prove of direct benefit to the people of this Province. I hope, with improved communication in winter, we may be able, through the establishment of manufactures, to share in the full benefits which are accruing to the other Provinces from the National Policy. Again thanking you, gentlemen, for this gratifying proof of your confidence, I remain, Your most obedient servant, J. T. JENKINS. Ch'town, Aug 28.
