Research Div. Seeking Program Information

Under the province's resources development program, about 400 questionnaires are being used in the Souris and Montague areas to gather information for the program.

Research Director Hartwell Daley pointed out that across the province at least 1,000 questionnaires have been distributed in an effort to seek basic economic information. The survey will determine the wishes of local people on such matters as school recreation, public health and new industry. "Most important," he said, "is that the survey will also determine the talents and skills of local people."

According to Mr. Daley, some of the questionnaires have been checked by the division of research and "they establish that local people are able to do an outstanding job of fact-finding. It is surprising what a good job the interviewers are doing. This type of work is normally done by trained people. The cost of doing it is very high but local people, each interviewing four families, are showing extremely good results."

Mr. Daley urged that all interviewers complete their surveys as quickly as possible and return them to the division of research. "The job of tabulating the data is a difficult one," he said, "and can start as soon as the first returns are made."

Mr. Daley said that residents of the Souris area are doing their completed questionnaires at the Souris Post Office while those in Montague are doing them at the division of research of the department of industry and

STRIPPED OF MEDALS
MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's ruling presidium has stripped the late Lavrenty P. Beria and 174 members of his secret police in the Stalin era of decorations awarded them at the height of the Second World War. The order cancelling the awards was one more step in a general program of taking honors away from those who have come under the Communist party ban. Beria was executed in 1953.

PREMIER W.R. SHAW (centre) was guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon meeting in the Charlottetown Hotel

Premier Shaw Stresses Resources Development

"I am very happy to be here today and meet with rural and urban citizens representing millions of dollars, a tremendous potential in the hands of people with God-given brains when directed together to solve their problems," Premier Walter R. Shaw said in address at the luncheon meeting of Rotary at the Charlottetown yesterday.

Premier Shaw was speaking on the resources of the province, stressing the need of a friendly out and out study by business and professional men, farmers, fishermen, tradesmen, clergymen, teachers and in fact everyone anxious to help in the advancement of the welfare and economy of the country.

"What we have done down through the years, no matter what kind of work we have engaged in, may well be reversed," the premier said. "There is a tendency to say to government you should solve this for us. We must however follow the trend which is developing to set down and work out our own common purposes. Don't carry these problems to government," he said.

Commending in the highest terms of appreciation, the great development in food and fish processing, boat building, brick making and other worthy enterprises, the premier dealt with the development of new trade with the north shore of the St. Lawrence and Newfoundland, which he said would continue to expand.

Elaborating on the program designed for higher education, the premier tied the movement in with vocational training as a great forward step which would enable every citizen to seek a training associated with the development of the province.

The construction of thousands of homes has been a tremendous effort on the part of our hands to have and to own something substantial, the premier said.

yesterday on the subject "Resources of the Province". He was introduced by Col. P.L. Andrew of the rural-urban committee of Rotary (left) and thanked by co-chairman, Brig. W.W. Reid, (right).

Referring to the Resources Development Advisory Council of 45 Premier Shaw described the work of these leaders of the people in church, education and various phases of city, town and village life who have given their views on community problems and "we are delighted with the results."

"People were just waiting for this 12-week course as an opportunity to hear and be heard in the interest of all. More than 150 persons completed the course of instruction laid down and have returned to their communities determined to solve their problems alone, or enlist the help of others, if necessary," he stated.

"Forestry is a long term project," the premier said and we must look into the years ahead. Pointing out that one-third of the province is a forestry area and that the federal government has doubled the grant for reforestation of burnt out areas, the premier said that these areas would be cleaned out and eventually become profitable lumber raising areas.

"As in Scandinavia, my farmers and others may well help develop forest areas lined up with agriculture and other activities. Very valuable land is involved in the reforestation project which warrants the full support of all who are prepared to meet our obligations in full," Premier Shaw said.

EDUCATION
Striking out into another major project, that of education, the premier said "we must come to grips with the development of the social and economic needs of the country, linking up basic organizations with adult education. A broad sweeping view of this project is being carried around the regional high schools. Some of these high schools now completed, have auditoriums larger than that at P.W.C."

"These will become cultural and educational centres with physical culture facilities, drama and music centres and other recognized features designed to improve living in every way."

"Here too, under the physical culture program and other media, the question of alcohol will be dealt with," the Premier said.

"As citizens of this country, whether business and professional men in Charlottetown or politicians, we must co-operate in the responsibility to help our provincial and national development," the Premier concluded.

Introduced by Col. P.L. Andrew of the rural-urban committee of Rotary, the speaker was thanked by co-chairman, Brig. W.W. Reid.

Guests representing major activities in their respective fields included Fulton Sanderson, York Point, pure-bred Hereford cattle; Reginald Smith, Fort Augustus, cheese; G.D. Wright, Sherwood, P.E.I. Fronted Foods; Frank Gaudet, Southport, provincial forester; Parker Jewell, York, market gardeners, turkeys.

campaign, W.J. Hancox said that the fund now stood at $8,173.55.

L.D. MacKay, vice-president, extended the sympathy of the club to the wife and family of the late W.A. Stewart, a charter member and past president of Rotary, who had made an outstanding contribution to the city and province. As a token of respect to the memory of Mr. Stewart, a period of silence ensued. Rotarians will attend the funeral from the Kirk of St. James this afternoon.

Sugar Firm Considering Expansion

MONTREAL (CP)—Acadia Atlantic Sugar Refineries Ltd. said Monday it is seriously considering expansion into other products in the food field.

J. A. Gairdner, chairman, said in the annual report that "while the present expansion is sufficient to provide for our growth for some time to come, it is the opinion of your senior officers that other lines in the food field offer possibilities, and intensive studies now are under way thoroughly to explore such opportunities."

The company, which refines and markets cane sugar in Quebec, Ontario and the Maritimes, had net earnings in 1961 of $3,238,904, or $1.01 a share, compared with $2,175,000, or 93 cents a share, in 1960.

The report said an extensive modernization program providing a 60-per-cent increase in capacity will be completed in late 1962. Cost of the remaining portion of the program was estimated at $3,500,000.

Mr. Gairdner said the modernization program contributed in some degree to the increased earnings in 1961 but the full benefit from it will not be obtained until the second half of 1962.

He said the full benefit would be on the growth in sales and would be cumulative over the next few years. He added lower production costs should enable the company to be more competitive in the export market.

The company's capital expenditures in 1961 amounted to $2,107,225 compared with $2,125,243 a year earlier.

GETTING UP NIGHTS Makes Many Feel Old Before Their Time

There is nothing that can make you feel older and more decrepit than sleeping late and getting up early. Getting up early in the morning, about 5:30 a.m., is the best way to feel young and energetic. Dr. J. H. Murray, of the University of Toronto, says that people who get up early in the morning are less likely to be depressed and more likely to be happy. He says that people who get up early in the morning are also more likely to be successful in their careers and in their personal lives.
