Prince County Fish And Game Association Meeting

—Several recommendations were put on record Friday Evening at the monthly meeting of the Prince County Fish and Game Association in the Borden town hall, including that of providing angling and hunting licenses at the government scale house at Borden for the convenience of non-resident sportsmen. This proposal was approved because of the late boat schedule during the summer months to make it convenient for non-resident sportsmen who like to get an early start in the morning.

President Fred Semple chaired the well-attended meeting which also went on record as favoring the 10-day extension on the migratory season ducks and geese in P. E. I. It was also recommended that the provincial fish and game act be amended to provide for penalties to anyone wilfully destroying farmer's property while angling or hunting. Stream improvement was widely discussed and it was agreed that by-pass dams be constructed, with the approval of the parent body, at Stirling Lord's pond in Tryon, and at Alf Norring's pond in Cape Traverse. It was also recommended that Waddell's pond in Cape Traverse be stocked with trout. A highlight of the evening was the semi-final bird-calling competitions, which saw Bert Cooper of Borden walk off with top honors. Second and third positions went to Norman MacLeod, Summerside, and Austin Campbell of Borden respectively.

In the duck calling competitions Austin Campbell was the winner, with Bert Cooper and Norman MacLeod placing second and third in that order.

Crow calling contests saw Bert Cooper win another first place, closely followed by Frank Howatt and Enzley Campbell. The finals in these competitions are planned for the next branch meeting, which is scheduled for Kensington on the last Friday in March.

Discussions were also held on the recently proposed changes in trout regulations, which wiuld abolish the 6 inch size and the 10 lb. bag limit which were approved, along with the suggestion that more protection officers were needed to prevent illegal practices in both the fish and game fields.

Taxi Driver Has Unnerving Experience

—A taxi driver, Bill Maxfield, of St. Eleanors had an unnerving experience last evening when his fare attempted to overpower him as he went about the routine business of delivering his passengers.

Mr. Maxfield said he got a call to pick up a fare at Glover's Shore which he did, and on the advice of the passenger, who had been drinking, attempted to find a car parked on a Summerside street which the passenger said belonged to him. After an unrevealing search for a 1951 Studebaker, which the fare said was his, the man grabbed the taxi driver by the neck. He told the driver to keep going and "no tricks." He said, "drive me half way to the airport." He felt the driver's pockets and when the driver approached the taxi stand he attempted to choke him. At this point he admitted he had no car parked on a Summerside street and said "this is my car now."

The alert cabbie drove near the taxi stand and after shouting for help an employee in the stand, who quickly realized the driver's plight, came to his assistance and subdued the drunken man. Summerside police came to the scene shortly after and took him off to jail. —S.

Red Raiders

For the second Saturday in a row, Saints goalie "Bunny" Gillis had to be taken from the game for repairs, last night after he had stopped a hard shot with his forehead. The play had been called off-side before the shot was taken and Gillis was apparently not waiting for a drive when hit. With slightly over three minutes remaining in the first period, the teams took their between period break and a doctor mended Bunny's cut with four stitches. Gillis came back on the ice and played a strong game until the finish.

It was the final intercollegiate game of the season for the Saints and leaves them with a 1-5 won-loss record for the season. They had beaten the visitors in their first meeting in Fredericton some time ago. It was also the final intercollegiate game that both Paul Jay and Lloyd Gaudet will play for the Saints. Both have been members of the Saints highest scoring line for the past two seasons and will be greatly missed by the wearers of the Red and White when they ice their hockey squad next year.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

Congratulations to the four schoolboy curlers who made curling history for Prince Edward Island this week. After the Charlottetown boys lost their initial game, and then began to topple one Province after the other, we were thrilled right down to our boots. There was an unfortunate circumstance connected with the Island finals this year, but, in spite of this, we couldn't find any sports fans in Summerside Thursday night who weren't goggle-eyed with excitement over what the Charlottetown quartet were doing down where the East begins. The Summerside-Charlottetown rivalry was swept away and all anyone could think of was that four young Spud Islanders were threatening to take the Dominion Curling Championship. It was almost unbelievable. These youngsters, Alan MacLeod, Errol Nicholson, George Dillon and Berry MacDonald were the best ambassadors-at-large Prince Edward Island has had in a long time.

* * *

We saw the play-off game between Alberton Regals and O'Leary Maroons at O'Leary Rink Thursday night. The ice was not very good, and puck-carrying was difficult, but the boys put on a stirring exhibition of the national pastime. If finesse went over the boards because of ice conditions, strong, virile, he-man action was very much in evidence.

* * *

We wanted particularly to see Glen Rodgerson, the wizard goal scorer of the west. Glen didn't disappoint us although the ice wasn't exactly ideal for the tricky sticker and fast skater, who is a little on the light side. Nevertheless, he scored four goals, over half of his team's total. Once given a few feet leeway over the enemy blueline, and he's in on the goalie like a sudden storm. A lot of our masters of sleight-of-hand on ice skate rather slowly, and rely on feinting and faking to gain their ends. Rodgerson is a blurred streak on the blades, and still seems to find time to out-fox the opposition.

* * *

Paul Schurman is, of course, a tower of strength to this year's edition of the Maroons. Paul, who was always a successful goal-getter, relies pretty much now on a defensive game and shines as brightly on keeping the enemy away from his citadel as Rodgerson does in invading the opposition's domain. We don't mean to imply that the Maroons are a two-man team. They have a few other smart young players, and some veterans, including Wedge who goes on forever, that give balance to the team.

The O'Leary team take on the watered-down Aces at Raceway Stadium Monday night. Summerside will be without Ron McArthur and Vance Harris. In spite of this, we look for them to best the Maroons in a very close series. They still have enough strength and class, we think, to edge the O'Leary sextet. But we wouldn't bet our last nickel on it .It should be a razzle-dazzle series, especially if we get good ice for it.

Paul Schurman and his victorious Maroone are probably not worrying too much about our prediction. They probably remember we picked the Cleveland Indians to win the World Series last fall.

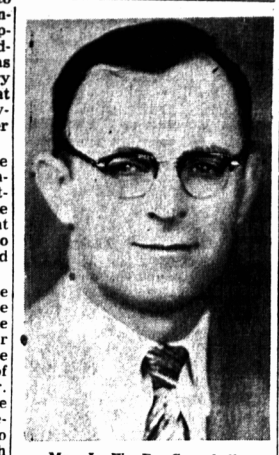
Scores Failure To Spend Sufficient On Agriculture

"I cannot see why cattle have to be imported from Western Canada" said Mr. J. W. Don Campbell, speaking on the Draft Address Thursday. "Something has happened to our livestock industry and one cannot help feeling that this has a reflection on the Government that has been in power for the last 20 years."

"You can't blame it on the Minister of Agriculture," continued Mr. Campbell "for apparently he must be meeting with some opposition from his Government when they would not allow him to spend all the money that we voted for him last year."

Mr. Campbell said that in the Province of Newfoundland there were only 370 farmers and the Government had voted $541,000 for agriculture while in this Province $200,000 is voted and $43,000 of this is not spent. Continuing, Mr. Campbell pointed out that large quantities of fertilizer and limestone are being imported to Prince Edward Island along with a great amount of power machinery and still the production of agricultural products lag behind. He felt that a partial solution to the problem lay in arousing greater interest among the young boys and girls and in this connection advocated the return of the school fairs and other youth shows. "If we don't keep up the agricultural interest in this Province, we will soon be out of business," said Mr. Campbell.



Mr. J. W. D. Campbell

Mr. Campbell had some pointed criticism for the two milk testers that had been appointed by the Government last year. He said that some cream that had been turned down in his district was taken to another factory and passed O.K. "I don't know who this reflects on," he said.

"We are importing $2,000,000 worth of flour each year" said Mr. Campbell who went on to point out that 25 years ago the Island was producing enough wheat to support the population.

In addition to this he said that the Island was importing 20,581 tons of stock feed, 720 cars of fertilizer and 620 cars of ground limestone. "I do not believe that people realize that the situation is so bad", he said.

"Rural Electrification," said Mr. Campbell is a very important thing, but I feel that it will have to be speeded up or some of the patrons in the west end of the Island will be grey haired before they get it." He said that there was about 40 miles of electrification to be done in the First District of Prince and that this area represented on the average of six houses to the mile. Mr. Campbell pointed out that the Western Road ran through one of the poorest sections of the Province but lying on either side of it were to be found some of the best agricultural areas in the Province. He felt that the people in these areas were experiencing an injustice because of the density per mile policy followed by the Government.

ROAD WORK

Mr. Campbell urged the Government to give Prince County a larger portion of the road work than they have hitherto been getting. He said that the Trans Canada highway was not benefiting the Western County and some compensation should be made for the large expenditure being made in Queen's County. He thanked the Minister of Public Works for linking Alberton with Tignish with a paved road but reminded him that there are still a large number of roads in his district in poor condition.

The First Prince member felt that the $11 a cord which producers are receiving for pulp wood is far too little. He said that the pulp industry in Canada was one of the most flourishing and that Canada supplied one half of the world's supply of news print. He asked that the Department of Industries look into this matter to see if a fairer price could not be paid.
