Report Russia To Plug For All-German Unity

By THOMAS A. REEDY

BERLIN, March 3—(AP)—East European sources said tonight Russia will propose an all-German council to work out unification of Germany as an opening move in the Paris Big-Four deputies meeting.

This idea has been advanced vainly by the East German Communist Government in letters to the West German Republic and the West German Parliament in Bonn.

It fell on deaf ears because the Communist East demanded equal representation for its 19,000,000 population with anti-Communist West Germany, which has 48,000,000.

Nevertheless, the East German Volkskammer (parliament) today renewed the drive for such a council. A resolution was adopted urging East and West Germany to present a united front program to the Big Four. The proposals include a peace treaty this year, withdrawal of all occupation troops within a year after the signing, reuniting the nation and disarmament.

The Big-Four deputies, meeting Monday, are slated to outline what topics of East-West tension should be discussed by a possible Big-Four foreign ministers conference and not to decide policy matters.

But East German and satellite circles advanced the theory the Russians, headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, will concentrate on German economic questions.

These informants said the long-range Soviet strategy would be to try to organize Germany as an economic unit, arrange for the withdrawal of all four occupation powers and then sit back and wait for a collapse.

Should the German economy wilt, it was reasoned, the nation would be vulnerable to Communism and might be won by the Kremlin by default.

It was announced officially in Bonn today that the United States, Britain and France will give West Germany formal permission to set up a foreign office next Tuesday. This was based on an agreement by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's cabinet to recognize repsnsibility for Germany's pre-war debts.

Atomic Shelter Offered For $750

TORONTO, March 3 — (CP) — A $750 atomic shelter claimed to give protection directly under a bursting bomb has been designed by the Vancouver firm of Eccles-Rand Ltd.

It contains two features its designers say give it an edge over similar shelters. They are a new type of cement said to ward off the effects of radiation and a vial of purple liquid that turns colorless in the presence of dangerous rays.

The shelter, looking like a molehill of cement, has a roof of the special concrete 32 inches thick. Allan A. Eccles, a member of the Vancouver firm, explained in an interview here today how it works.

"You put the shelter in your backyard where a house won't fall on it. When you hear an air-raid warning, you dash into it and stay put. If an atomic bomb falls, a geiger tube in the backyard sends warnings through connections into the shelter and you know it's not safe to come out. You also have the liquid vial device as a second measurement."

If the owner's house collapsed, he can continue living in the shelter even after radiation danger ends. It will hold four persons.

VICTORIA, B.C., March 4 — (CP) — The navy has abandoned efforts to locate a small plane which crashed off Esquimalt Harbor Feb. 21 with the loss of two lives. It is believed swift underwater currents may have shifted the plane from the spot the cruiser Ontario marked with a buoy. Killed in the crash were Lt. Marcel Champagne and Lt. Ian MacDonald, both from Montreal. They were members of the crew of the Ontario.

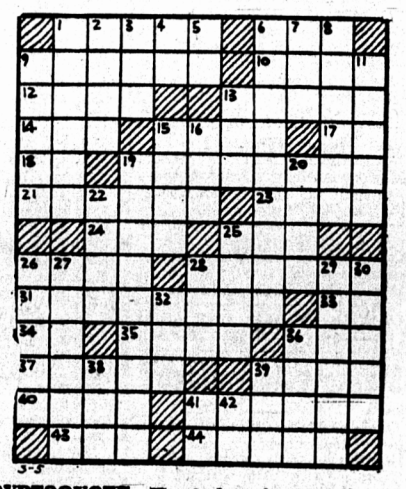
Saturday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation
