

They Danced and Danced Some More

by Jim Whalen

Well the Senior Class Dancethon is over for another year. Although quite a few students indicated an interest in participating in the Dancethon, only seven students showed up at five p.m. Thursday to dance. Although some feel it was badly publicized, it had been previously discussed at Senior meetings which all seniors should attend.

Although there was only seven dancers, the Dancethon was a success; we received approximately five hundred dollars in pledges.

This year's Dancethon endured for twenty-five hours with a five minute break every hour. We began by dancing at five p.m. Thursday evening March 12 and finished up at six o'clock Friday, March 13. From 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. on Thursday we had the opportunity to boogie to the music of the DownChild Blues Band. The rest of the time we used tapes supplied by students.

Of the seven who began, Mary Driscoll, Anne MacEwen, Marie LeLoup, Lynda King, Valerie MacKinnon, Derwin Banks, and myself, five managed to endure the 25 hours. Derwin "Satch" Banks had to bow out at eight-thirty Friday morning due to a hockey injury received Wednesday night. Marie LeLoup was forced to bow out at three p.m. on Friday due to muscle cramps, spasms, and convulsions.

The three major problems which we faced were sore feet, tightening of the muscles, and chapped lips. Lots of Johnson and Johnson baby powder was used to help soothe our tender feet.

Although it was a long grueling twenty-five hours, it was a lot of fun and good for a few laughs. We, the participants in the Dancethon would like to thank all those who sponsored us (be prepared as we will be around to collect soon), supplied us with music, and those who stayed around and kept us going, especially the C.P's who stayed after "DownChild Blues". We would also like to thank those who supplied the food - MacDonalds which donated a huge breakfast of hash browns and sixteen Egg MacMuffins on Friday morning; John May of the Bread Bin, who gave us three dozen donuts, cookies, and cinnamon rolls; the A&W which donated burgers; the Burger King for supplying forty orders of fries and twenty regular cokes; and also Room 211 Blanchard for taking up two pizzas.

We would also especially like to thank Jackie MacNeill for all the work she did in organizing the Dancethon and in keeping us going.

Financial

Aid

by Nancy Comeau

Spring is almost here...It seems hardly a time to be thinking about the fall, but it could be well worth your while to do so, at least in terms of financial aid.

Several scholarships are available and many have deadlines in the summer months and the early fall. Now is the time to check and see if you are eligible for ones in your area of study.

I would be glad to explore sources with you. My hours are

Tuesday: 11:30-4:30
Wednesday: 1:00-3:00
Thursday: 11:30-2:30

I am located in Student Services, first floor Main Building.

Below are some scholarships which might be of interest.
