Imperial Federation.

Since the delivery of Sir Alexander Galt's recent speech at Edinburgh the subject of Imperial Federation has been discussed from various points of view in the Brittish papers. One of the most singular proposals made to carry out the scheme is that of Mr. Westgarth, who says in a letter to the Colonies and India:—"Practically overriding Parliament is 'the Cabinet.' This then is the managable body to be dealt with. Admit the Colonies proportionately to the Cabinet. The expanded Cabinet, then, by the marvels of our graduating politics and constitutional adaptation, becomes virtually a supreme federative assembly." This proposal Mr. F. P. Labilliere, while regretting to differ as to details from any gentleman who has the same good end as himself in view, classes among "untried experiments and modes of government which have never existed except in theory and on paper." Mr. Frederick Young, secretary of the Royal Colonal Institute, in a letter on the same subject, says:—"I cannot understand why so many of those who appear, to find some attraction in the proposal of a Federation of the Empire by means of a Federal Parliament, and who say it is a grand idea, that it has an air of abstract perfection, &c., &c., have not the courage to face the question frankly, boldly, thoroughly, and comprehensively. Instead of perceiving that it proceeds simply and purely on the ancient constitutional lines, and that it merely expands and extends them so as to include the colonies as well as the islands of Great Britian, they propose all sorts of lesser plans, which minimise the grand principle of complete parliamentary representation. Hence arise the various minor suggestions which have been made, as this great question continues to be discussed, of consultative councils, admissions into the Cabinet, and such like. I, on the contrary, lay down the proposition broadly and boldly, and without the slightest reservation, that the only sound principle to be advocated is an Imperial Federatien by a National Federal Parliament, as the true means by which alone the permanent unity of the British Empire will be preserved."

The Times is rather severe in its criticisms on Lord Dufferin's Egyptian programme. It considers his proposals complete in theory and the framework on his new constitution perfect on paper. There is to be an army duly surbordinate to the executive power as a supreme guarantee for order; there is to be an effeetive police system to carry out the judgements of tribunals which are to be pure and independent; in fact, as a scheme of government, it is perfect. The machinery is admirerble, but where is the motive force? As a model, the constitution it excellent, but the Times sees no means for working it. The Egyptian people are not fitted for it nor for them. It has arisen neither out of the wants nor their aptitudes; it is the expression neither of their needs nor of their aspirations. The French press is delighted at these comments in which it sees the vindication of its own claims.

The Jews in Toronto are moving to have certain reforms introduced in their service so that both sexes should sit together instead of being seperated. the matter has been referred to the chief Rabbi in England, but should his decision be adverse the reformers will form an independent body.

The Great French Remedy, Dr. LeDuc's Periodical Pills.

For the cure of Leucorrhœa or White's Excessive of painful Menstruation, Green Sickness, Falling of the Womb, Catarrh of the Uterus or Vagnia, Hysteria, Pain in the Back, or Piles, or for the puepose of invigorating and giving tone to the Generative Organs, two pills should be taken twice daily, or in very enfebled conditions, one pill three times a day. To effect cures in chronic cases it will be necessary to continue the use of the remedy for some months. A reasonable trial will create sufficient confidence in the remedy to insure its being taken until a permanent cure is effected.
