DESTITUTION IN THE SOUTHERN STATES.

Meetings have been held in some of the principal cities in the States to take measures to alleviate the necessities of the poor in the South. A letter received in New York from the Southern Relief Commission, dated Lancasterville, Lancaster District, S. C., Feby. 18, says:—

"This District, owing to the disasters consequent upon the war, and the almost total failure of the crops, is in a most deplorable state of destitution of the necessaries to support its people and live stock. The District contains about ten thousand population, and not more, perhaps, than twenty families of the whole number have a supply of food for the season. There are about five hundred individuals in a very alarming state of want, and unless immediate relief is afforded, many of them must perish by starvation. The balance of the population, not including the twenty families, and the five hundred individuals, have very limited supplies of provisions on hand."

A few days ago thirty thousand bushels of corn went from New York to the South, and 500,000 bushels more are wanted.

CONGRESS AND ITS MISDEEDS.

A FAITHFUL PICTURE OF CONGRESSIONAL LEGISLATION.

[From the New York Citizen.]

The people look to their representatives and momentary rulers at Washington with dread. Anticipating nothing but injury, they await events breathlessly, not knowing on whom the next blow may fall.—Forced to elect men on one issue alone, and one that they considered vital to the safety of the country, they submit peacefully, but sorrowfully, to the necessary evils that their chosen delegates inflict in pursuance of crude theories or stupid ignorance. Tariffs are changed, increased or diminished without rule or reason; currency is issued or contracted at whims or fancies; gold is raised or lowered, business is interfered with, duties are altered and removed from one article to be levied on another. No business man feels safe; a ruinous duty may be levied suddenly on his entire stock of goods, or special taxes laid upon his trade, that will drive him out of employment. Importers may be ruined that manufacturers may thrive, or manufacturers may be destroyed that producers may be benefited. There is uncertainty in nothing. The increase of currency will inflate prices; its diminution will reduce them. Industrial pursuit may be taxed out of existence or encouraged to the injury of other interests.

Under this influence we have become a nation of speculators. If any lucky individual can ascertain the future action of Congress, he has a certain fortune. If additional money is to be manufactured—rags ground out by the Government mills and called a circulating medium—he has only to buy stocks. If the tariff duty is to be increased on certain merchandise, he has only to buy a large quantity of it, and his profits are proportionate. The poor fellow who follows his legitimate occupation will probably be ruined; the unfortunate mercantile gambler who happens to be behind the scenes may make money without labor. Since the war began, prices of all commodities have increased; men have bought turpentine at ten dollars a barrel, and sold it at one hundred and twenty; they have purchased whiskey at fifty cents a gallon and sold it after an excise of two dollars per gallon had been laid at nearly the amount of the excise. So long as similar changes can be made, similar profits will accrue; and the chance of such results is too alluring to be resisted. The commonplace, plodding laborious pursuits which, by the assistance of economy, insure a dual competency, have been, and will be, neglected for such promising chance speculations. Moreover, on the other hand, many kinds of business have been destroyed; importers of foreign goods are driven out of the market, and legitimate trade in many ways affected. The evasion of taxes is infinitely more profitable than honest business; as, for instance, with distilling whiskey, which was long openly sold for less than the Government tax.

This state of affairs cannot last. The country in a few years of such rule would be brought to bankruptcy, and not only to bankruptcy, but to such disorder and demoralization that a decade of good and sensible governments could not reinstate it in its former flourishing attitude. To change this short-sighted policy—to give us common sense in political government and ordinary financial skill in commercial affairs—we must get rid of the radicals and extremists who are riding their hobby-horses rough shod over a prostrate people. We have sacrificed much for the Union: we must save something to make that Union worth having. To do so there must be an organization de novo of political parties. The Republicans must be resolved into their component elements; the Democrats must throw off their copper-head associates. We must combine loyalty to the country with intelligence to its government. We must have men in office with liberal minds and enlarged views. No mere narrow-minded sectarians, fighting for the selfish interests of their own localities to the disregard of the nation at large, will be equal to the necessities of these times of debt and trouble. The sooner a fundamental change is affected, the sooner will we escape from the financial and political Slough of Despond in which we are now wallowing. The change should originate here, as the financial centre, and be effected by the Democratic Union as an organization of liberal-minded loyal men.

THE REAPER AND THE FLOWERS.

BY LONGFELLOW.

There is a Reaper, whose name is Death,
And with his sickle keen,
He reaps the bearded grain at a breath,
And the flowers that grow between.

"Shall I have nought that is fair?" saith he;
"Have nought but the bearded grain?
Though the breath of those flowers is sweet to me,
I will give them all back again."

He gazed at the flowers with tearful eyes;
He kissed their drooping leaves;
It was for the Lord of Paradise
He bound them in his sheaves.

"My Lord has need of these flowers gay,"
The Reaper said, and smiled,
"Dear tokens of the earth are they,
Where he was once a child.

"They shall all bloom in fields of light,
Transplanted by my care,
And saints upon their garments white
These sacred blossoms wear."

And the mother gave, in tears and pain,
The flowers she most did love;
She knew she should find them all again
In the fields of light above.

O, not in cruelty, not in wrath,
The Reaper came that day;
'Twas an angel visited the green earth,
And took the flowers away.

HORRIBLE MURDER IN INDIA—BOILING A HUMAN BODY.—The Indian Public Opinion reports a singular case of murder which occurred in Shoojabad some time ago. The particulars of the case are as follows:—A man who loved a woman of a very low caste poisoned his rival in her affections. The victim having become insensible by the effects of bhang and churrus, the murderer with the most inhuman barbarity cut the body into pieces, boiled them in an earthen pot, and then buried them under the ground. The clothes of the deceased were burnt to ashes, and not a drop of blood was left on the ground to show that such an atrocity had ever taken place. The camel of the deceased, however, escaped the notice of the murderer, and returned, after wandering for some days in the jungle, to the house of his unfortunate master. This led to the discovery of the crime. A search was made by the police in the house of the woman, and the remains of the deceased were dug out of the ground. Both the man and the woman were apprehended. The criminals have been committed to the sessions court.

DEATH OF A BLOOD-THIRSTY BRIGANDESS.—The Italia of Naples announces the death of the famous "brigandess" La Gizzi, who was for some time the terror of the Voturara district. La Gizzi was a tall, muscular woman, with beetling brows, covered with a thick mass of black shaggy hair that fell over her shoulders and breast, and was so blood-thirsty that she voluntarily performed the office of executioner on every captive doomed to death by her hand. It is related that on one occasion, after stabbing three of her captives, she collected the blood that flowed from their wounds in a jar, and then poured it over the head of her lover, telling him that should be his baptism of blood. Being sharply pursued by the troops, her consort and herself took refuge in the cottage of a peasant at Petrosa, and compelled him with frightful threats to give them food. The peasant laid some provisions before them; but while they were busied with their meal he seized an axe, and attacked them with such fury that he struck both La Gizzi and her companion to the ground before they could defend themselves. He then ran to the neighbouring village of Ricigliano, collected the national guard of the district, and returned with them to his cottage. Here they found the two dead bodies, and after decapitating them, carried the heads of La Gizzi and her lover, together with their conqueror, in triumph through the district.

ACCOUCHEMENT OF THE PRINCESS OF WALES.—This event is announced in a supplement to the London Gazette in the following terms:—"Marlborough House, Feb. 20.—This morning, at half past six o'clock, her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales was safely delivered of a princess. The confinement, which was most favourable, was not in any way affected by the rheumatism from which the princess is suffering. His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales was present. The Secretary of State for the Home Department arrived at Marlborough House shortly after. This happy event was made known by the firing of the Park and Tower guns."—The Lancet says: From the knowledge of the condition of the Princess of Wales no small anxiety has been felt by the public at her reported illness. It seems that her Royal Highness was seized on Thursday, the 14th inst., with the usual premonitory symptoms of acute rheumatism. Dr. Arthur Farre saw her on that day, and as she was somewhat worse on Friday, Dr. Sieveking joined him in attendance, the advantage of Dr. Jenner's experience being also subsequently obtained. The Princess suffered considerable pain, and the fever ran high. For some time great distress was caused by the disease fixing itself with intensity in one of the principal joints, from which it afterwards shifted to another. Happily, there is no reason, we hear, to feel apprehension of any mischief from internal complication—a point which, in acute rheumatism, is of course a first consideration. It seemed quite possible at one time that the compulsory quiet which the attack caused might have been sufficient to delay the date of the Princess's confinement beyond what has happened on each previous occasion. The high febrile action, however, doubtless, served to precipitate an event which was not in the ordinary course of things expected for another month. Although, we believe, the speedy confinement of the princess was not anticipated by those immediately about her, Dr. Farre went down on Tuesday evening last to Marlborough house prepared to stay, feeling that there was sufficient uncertainty to render such a course desirable. The step was justified by the occurrence of the event which took the country somewhat by surprise, on Wednesday morning, the 13th. It was not till six o'clock that Dr. Farre was summoned to her Royal Highness's room, and she was delivered, after a somewhat rapid but quite natural labour, of a female child at half-past six a. m. Her Royal Highness has progressed very favourably since, and is now in a fair way to make a good recovery. It is quite probable that the confinement may have the effect of curtailing the duration of an attack which is frequently as wearisome in its length as it is painful and distressing to the patient. We may note here that it is very rare to see such a complication as parturition during the course of rheumatic fever.

EXTORTION BY HACKMEN.

A friend who lately visited New York, writes that he read in one of the city papers that the extortion practised by hackmen there was such that 'no man calls a carriage without having first resolved upon fighting or being robbed.' But, having a lady with him, he took a carriage at the depot, and the following was his experience:

Upon reaching the hotel he alighted and asked the price for the service.

'Five dollars,' said Jehu.

Handing him a five dollar greenback, the gentleman inquired quietly—

'What is your number?'

'Four dollars,' he answered, sulkily.

'Here are four dollars. What is your number?'

'Three dollars,' said the fellow gruffly.

'Here are three. Now your number, sir?'

'Two dollars—little 'nuff,' too, rejoined the driver.

'Two, then; here they are. What is your number?'

'One dollar, cap'n—one dollar'll do'—replied whip.

'Here is your dollar,' said our friend, civilly; 'all you are entitled to. It's no consequence as to your number now. Good morning.' And the parties separated with out either fight or robbery.

A FREE FIGHT IN A LEGISLATURE.—The Omaha (Neb.) Herald of the 19th instant, gives the particulars of a free fight which occurred in the Nebraska House of Representatives on the preceding day. Somebody appealed from a decision of the Chair, and moved the appointment of a new presiding officer pro tem. The motion prevailed. The new presiding officer pro tem attempted to take the chair, but was prevented by the Speaker. The Sergeant-at-Arms interfered, when the Speaker drew a revolver and threatened to blow out the brains of the unfortunate officer. The Sergeant struck at the Speaker with his mace, and knocked down an innocent member. The innocent member knocked somebody else down, and the entire body gradually went into an earnest and spirited contest.

Mr. J. J. Rice, B. C. M.

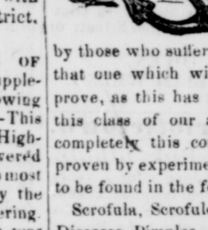
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Important to Everybody.—For more than thirty years these remedies have been ranked before all curative agents, for the all-sufficient reason that they never can be wrongly used in either external or internal diseases. Holloway's Ointment should be well rubbed on the throat and chest in sore throat, enlarged glands, chronic cough, and wheezings. In common catarrh and influenza, the Ointment, well rubbed upon the walls of the chest, aided by a few doses of the Pills, soon effects a cure. The same treatment, judiciously followed up, removes diptheria, asthma, bronchitis, pleurisy, and prevents the deep inflammation resulting in abscess or ulceration, so apt to ensue when throat or chest complaints are neglected.

SUDDEN CHANGES OF WEATHER are productive of Throat Diseases, Coughs, Colds, &c. There is no more effectual relief in these diseases to be found, than in the timely use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." They possess real merit, and have proved their efficacy by a test of many years, having received testimonials from eminent men who have used them.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla



Is a concentrated extract of the choice root, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effectual antidote for diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. Such a remedy is surely wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove, as this has proved, of immense service to this class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it, has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Sores, Skin Diseases, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Eruptions, St. Anthony's fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, &c.

Syphilis or Venereal Disease is expelled from the system by the prolonged use of this SARSAPARILLA, and the patient is left in comparative health.

Female Diseases are Caused by Scrofula in the blood, and are often soon cured by this EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA.

Do not reject this invaluable medicine, because you have been imposed upon by something pretending to be Sarsaparilla, while it was not. When you have used AYER'S—then, and not till then, will you know the virtues of Sarsaparilla. For minute particulars of the diseases it cures, we refer you to Ayer's American Almanac, which the agent below named will furnish gratis to all who call for it.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS, for the cure of Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Headache Piles, Rheumatism, Heartburn, arising from Disordered Stomach, Pain or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, and as a Dinner Pill are unequalled.

They are sugar coated, so that the most sensitive can take them with pleasure, and they are the best Aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

ONE OF DANIEL O'CONNELL'S STORIES.—One of O'Connell's old stories used to be about a Miss Hussey. Her father made a will (said O'Connell), disposing of the bulk of his fortune to public charities. When he was upon his death bed, his housekeeper asked him how much he had left to Miss Mary. He replied that he had left her £1000, which would do very well, if she married any sort of a good husband. "Heaven bless your honor," cried the housekeeper, "and what decent man would ever take her with the nose she has got?" "Why, that is really very true," replied the dying father, "I never thought of her nose;" and he lost no time in adding a codicil that gave Miss Mary an addition of £150 a year as a set off against her ugliness.

THE GREAT ACCLIMATING TONIC.—Wherever HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the celebrated American prevention of Climatic Diseases, have been introduced into unhealthy regions, their effect in sustaining the health, vigor and animal spirits of those whose pursuits subjected them to extraordinary risks from exposure and privation, have been wonderful. In the Army, the superiority of this article over every other invigorating and alterative medicine, has become so manifest where used, that it is relied upon, exclusively, as a protection against bilious fever, and bowel complaints of every kind. The soldiers say it is the only stimulant which produces and keeps up a healthy habit of body in unwholesome locations. For the unacclimated pioneer and settler it is the most reliable of all safeguards against sickness. Throughout the United States it is considered the most healthful and agreeable of all tonics, and altogether unequalled as a remedy for dyspepsia. The medicinal ingredients are all vegetable, and are held in solution by the most wholesome stimulant known—the essence of rye. "Hostetter's Bitters" are manufactured at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and no less than 40,000 dozen bottles are sold annualy. For sale by all Druggists. March 18. 2i

GEORGE LEWIS, Market Clerk.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

To the Electors of the Second District of King's County.

GENTLEMEN—

I AM again sent upon my travels. The new Liberal Government having appointed me to the office of Queen's Printer, my seat in the House is once more at your disposal; and it is my intention to ask you to confirm the appointment, and to restore me to my position as one of your Representatives. I held the office of Queen's Printer, in former years, during the existence of two Parliaments; and it is gratifying to know that I filled it with your entire concurrence and confidence, while my connection with the Government enabled me to be of more service to the District generally than if I were in opposition.

I need not assure you that my appointment to office now will not, in the slightest degree, lessen my independence, or weaken my attachment to you. Through good and bad report I have served you faithfully, to the best of my ability, for many years; and if again returned, I pledge you that my future conduct will be in accordance with your wishes, and in harmony with my past career as a Liberal Representative.

I have the honour to be,
Gentlemen,
Your obedt. Servant,
EDWARD WHELAN.

Charlottetown, March 18, 1867.

To the Electors of the Second District of King's County.

GENTLEMEN—

AT the request of many friends, I beg to offer myself as a candidate for your suffrages to fill the vacant seat left by Mr. Clark's retirement from the House of Assembly. My political principles are thoroughly Liberal, and I will support the present Liberal Government if I should be honoured in being made one of your Representatives, as a colleague to our esteemed Representative, Hon. Mr. Whelan.

I reside in the District—all my interests are centred in it—I am known to you all, and I have always endeavoured to make my intercourse with you mutually agreeable. I believe I understand the local wants and requirements of the District, and I shall at all times give them my best attention if placed in a position to do so.

With respect to the question of Confederation, I have no hesitation in saying that I am decidedly opposed to that measure. As, under present circumstances, Confederation is not desirable by the people of this Island, you may rely upon it that I will concur with the public opinion on that important question.

Trusting that you will honor me with your confidence in constituting me a local, resident member, which the District much requires, to which it is entitled, and which is a privilege it has always enjoyed,

I remain,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,
ANTHONY McCORMACK.

Head of St. Peter's Bay, March 16, 1867.

To the free and independent Electors of the Third District of Queen's County.

GENTLEMEN—

A new Government, based upon liberal principles, having been formed, and I having been honoured by being placed in my former position as President of the Executive Council and Colonial Secretary, my seat in the House of Assembly becomes vacant according to law. In returning to you for re-election, I have the fullest confidence that you will give the new Government a fair trial, and when its policy is fully developed—for which, of course, a little time should be allowed—I trust you will find it such as to be worthy of your warmest approval.

I have the honor to be,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,
GEORGE COLES.
