Holiday Traffic Reported Heavy

Mostly sunny weather over the Victoria Day holiday weekend brought out a huge number of vacationers on most main Maritime roads.

Traffic at ferry terminals at both ends of P.E.I. was reported to be very heavy. The CNR said last night that yesterday was the heaviest day as vacationers headed their way homeward. The SS Prince Edward Island and the new MV Confederation were operating on the regular spring schedule, with the SS Scotia running on an intermittent basis between the other two ferries when there was sufficient traffic to warrant a crossing. She made several trips over the nine-mile strait this weekend due to the abnormally heavy traffic.

The CNR spokesman said that at times up to 30 vehicles would be left at a terminal, while on some crossings the ferries did not have a full load. A steady stream of cars poured down the Borden pier yesterday, but last night at 5:30 that stream had subsided.

Train traffic was said to be normal.

Mobile at Wood Islands, only one boat, the MV Lord Selkirk, was making crossings during the weekend. She made four round trips daily. Traffic there too, was reported as being quite heavy. Capt. C. R. Hunter, president of Northumberland Ferries Ltd. said last night that Saturday and yesterday were the busiest days on that run. The Wood Islands pier also was clear last night.

L. S. Lord, manager of HNT laid up in dock at Pictou.

The St. Lawrence HNT said last night that all buses were operating on regular schedules and passenger traffic was "very good". He said there definitely was an increase in bus passengers over the holiday weekend.

The Charlottetown detachment RCMP said no reports of highway traffic accidents had been received during the holiday weekend.

A member of the traffic squad termed it "a typical holiday weekend, with traffic from moderate to heavy". He said the whole weekend had been "just about routine". Good weather and ideal driving conditions are attributed to the absence of traffic accidents.

Charlottetown city police reported a very busy weekend in the city. Will most people visiting in rural areas, and in other provinces, city traffic was below normal. No city accidents were reported.

Owen Proutie Suffers Fatal Attack In Boat

SOURIS — Owen Proutie, 69, of Charlottetown, died Sunday morning at 6:30 a.m. and was approximately seven miles west of here. Death was reported due to a heart attack.

A companion in the boat with Mr. Proutie, John Wesley Frayson, 50, also of Charlottetown, was in the water for nearly two hours before being rescued.

Reports indicate that the two men were fishing in a 16-foot row boat at Lark's Pond when Mr. Proutie apparently died of a heart attack, and then slumped over, upsetting the boat. The accident happened at approximately 8 a.m.

Mr. Frayson succeeded in hanging onto a stump until he was rescued by three other fishermen who came upon the scene two hours later. They were Charles Parker, Edward Macinnis and Allan Godkin, from the Charlottetown area.

The St. Lawrence detachment RCMP investigated the incident and Mr. Frayson was taken by Scurry by Esquimaux Dugan, and examined by Dr. Edward Kasser, Souris, who allowed the body to be buried in the 130 Elm Avenue in Charlottetown.

Coroner Dr. C. A. Coody of Charlottetown was called and decided that no inquest would be held.

Married to the former Florence Walker of North River, Mr. Proutie was his home at 101st Road, near Milton and had a well-known automobile repair shop on Lincoln Street.

Up to his death he had been the operator of an automobile body shop on Lincoln Street in Charlottetown. Earlier he had been associated with Provincial Motor Sales and with the firm of Proutie and Smith in Parkdale. He has been operating his shop on Lincoln Street for approximately 15 years.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two sons, William and Fulton, in Charlottetown, one daughter, Shirley, Mrs. William Brydon, Montreal, one brother, Percy Proutie in Charlottetown and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Proutie and Mrs. Emerson Kent, both living near Milton, P.E.I.

The funeral will be held this afternoon with service commencing at 1:30 p.m. (advanced summer time) at the Cuthbert Funeral Home. Interment will be made in Highfield cemetery.

Traffic Deaths Head Toll Across Canada On Holiday

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Traffic Accidents were the major killers across Canada during the Victoria Day holiday weekend but a rash of boating and swimming fatalities in sun-baked Ontario also made a grim contribution to the overall accidental death toll.

At 7 p.m. EDT Monday, with the homeward rush still in progress, the toll had reached 116.

The survey period extends from 8 p.m. local time Friday to midnight EDT Monday. It includes deaths in normal holiday activities but not industrial or occupational accidents, traffic or known suicides.

Ontario's only one-manhanded boat was in Quebec, five B.C. two and Manitoba one. Newfoundland's only one-manhanded boat was in a fire while Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island were free of fatalities.

Joey Foresees Protest of Term 29 Ignored

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland said Monday it is "not inconceivable" that a Newfoundland separatist movement in one or two years should spring up should a Liberal restoration in Ottawa fail to restore term 29 of the province's Confederation agreement with Canada. Mr. Smallwood told reporters Liberal Leader Pearson had promised the article would be restored.

He was in Quebec for talks with Premier Lesage.

Term 29 provides that Newfoundland will receive enough money from the federal treasury to keep its social services on a par with the Maritime provinces.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker two years ago said the article would lapse this year. He later extended it another five years.

Mr. Smallwood said the federal government's decision was "brutal, arbitrary and unilateral." The article, he said, was "timeless."

If the article was not restored, he said, it would mean the "people of Canada would rise up in protest," said the Liberal premier.

"It is not inconceivable that Newfoundland would start an agitation to clear out of Confederation."

But he considered the chances of the Liberals failing to restore the article as slim. He personally is not a separatist, he added.

"I'm the one that fought for union," he considered Confederation "a godsend."

Mr. Diefenbaker's action in extending provisions of the term until 1967 were "crumbs thrown out to a beggar by the lord of the manor, the grand seigneur. Isn't that what you call it in Quebec?"

He said the fact that Newfoundland elected five Liberals in its 1962 election "prompted this malice."

NARCOTICS BAN IS WITHIN LAW

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The use of peyote, a cactus-grown narcotic, as a religious ritual is banned in California and this does not constitute violation of religious freedom, the attorney-general's office said Monday.

Members of the Native American Church, which the United States retain the Indian belief that the spirit of God resides in peyote.

Members of the church contended their constitutional guarantee of religious freedom was being violated, but the attorney-general's office said:

"... if a law in reasonable pursuit of the objective of protecting health conflicts with one's religious practices, the practices and not the law must yield."

Douglas Has to Doubt Care Plan to Proceed

By BERNARD DUFFRESNE

MONTREAL (CP) — T. C. Douglas, national leader of the New Democratic Party, said Monday he has no doubt the Saskatchewan government will cooperate with its controversial medical-care plan.

He said he hopes it will be a mutually beneficial plan for Saskatchewan and Surgeons, which has agreed to the plan.

"If the doctors would not cooperate, the plan would proceed anyway," he said.

Mr. Douglas was speaking in Regina to 75 members of the press, radio and television.

The doctors were Dr. I. Lee Fortier - Duguay, Dr. Jacques Mackay, Dr. Walter Lloyd-Smith and Dr. Jean Fortin, all of them attached to Montreal hospitals.

Mr. Douglas said he does not know the 75 members of Saskatchewan's medical profession should be the ones to decide whether the plan is in the best interests of the province. They will have medical insurance.

WON'T DISCUSS IT

He said the College of Physicians and Surgeons declines to discuss the plan with the government. He said the government is setting it up, effective July 1, is repeated.

Mr. Douglas said there have only been "vague objections that we are building a monster welfare state that the plan would interfere with the usual private patient-doctor relationship."

Leaving through a copy of the Saskatchewan Medical Act, he said there are no restrictions on the doctor-patient relations. Every patient will be free to go to a doctor of his choice and doctors would be free to select their own patients.

The schedule of fees had been drafted by the doctors themselves. A doctor would send his bill either to the provincial medical-care commission or to the patient, who would pass it on to the commission.

He said he does not know how many doctors individually support the plan but he is sure that the majority are sympathetic toward it.

Bureaucrats often had difficulty collecting medical bills when farmers were hit by drought and crop failures.

Russia Sending Rowing Crew To U.S. Regatta

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia is sending its champion eight-oared crew to compete in a July 4 regatta in Philadelphia but the two fastest eights in the east probably will be racing in England at the same time.

Yale and Pennsylvania, who finished in a dead heat for first in the eastern sprint championship Saturday, most likely will go to London to row in the Royal Henley Regatta, which conflicts with the Independence Day International event in Philadelphia.

The ironic feature of the conflict is that the Russians are passing up the Royal Henley to send their eight, Olympic Sculling champion Vyacheslav Ivanov and a double sculls team to Philadelphia.

'Gus' Aylward Dies At 81

Augustus (Gus) Aylward, 81, died Sunday afternoon at Charlottetown Hospital after a short illness.

A native of Charlottetown, Mr. Aylward was well known in business circles in the city for more than half a century. He operated a tobacco store on Queen Street shortly after the turn of the century, and later operated grocery stores and an oyster bar at several locations. He was in the coal business for several years, and was a prominent oyster exporter.

In the late 1930's, Mr. Aylward opened a second-hand furniture concern on Richmond Street and he continued his association with this business until his retirement some 10 years ago. Since his retirement, he resided at Morell and Charlottetown.

He was an enthusiastic sports follower and a keen angler. Few fishermen in the eastern section of the province escaped his attention.

He is survived by his wife, the former Ellen Jane Ledwell, who resides in Charlottetown. Funeral service will be held Wednesday morning at nine o'clock at St. Dunstan's Basilica. Burial will be in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Corran Ban Family Of 11 Is Homeless

Eleven persons were left homeless Saturday when fire leveled their home at Corran Ban about 20 miles east of Charlottetown.

Mr. and Mrs. Aeneas MacIntyre and their nine children escaped unharmed.

The fire was reported to have broken out at approximately 12:30 p.m. when Mr. MacIntyre was at another farm.

It was discovered by neighbors, who succeeded in saving most of the household articles.

Within a short while the fire was raging out of control and efforts to fight it proved useless. It is not known if the building was covered by insurance.

Old Parties Said Backing Into Socialism

OTTAWA (CP) — Robert Thompson, national leader of the Social Credit party, said Monday night the old-line political parties are "backing into socialism" as the socialists walk into it.

Calling for a return to the basic principles of "free enterprise democracy," he said Social Credit policies are the only way in which government can achieve this aim.

Mr. Thompson spoke on a 15-minute national television program, was raising out of control and efforts to fight it proved useless. It is not known if the building was covered by insurance.
